Four-Minute Trial.
Hear the Clergymen.
Eagles Against Rabbits.
France a Bad Short Sale.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune).

In England yesterday they sentenced a murderer to death in a trial that lasted just four minutes. Sam Johnson murdered Beatrice Martin, 22 years old, and Sam Johnson will hang.

That kind of justice explains the British falling off in crime since the war. There hasn't been any falling off here.

As each Sunday passes, the wise consider thoughtfully utterances from the pulpits.

The Rev. Mr. Aked says it is an age of skepticism and "mis-trust in the hosts of the Lord."

Dr. Reiland, on the other hand, says Christianity is emerging from the present crisis "grander and nobler than ever before."

Dr. Crowder says parents are to blame for hte shortcomings of the blame for the shortcomings of the and "the breakdown of the Christian home" explains our troubles.

Rabbi Krass says the flapper must be curbed and controlled. Must is a big word. Rabbi Krass might as well try to draw out the Leviathan "with a hook."

Dr. Russell says our motto should be "a bright, sunny religion." The ancients worshipped a family of gods that kept the summit of Mount Olympus ringing with laughter.

When Lame Vulcan appeared, limping from his forge, or when he dragged in his wife, Venus and Mars, god of war, third angle in his family triangles, in the net which had caught them all heaven laughed and was sunny."

But we do not think of laughter in a Christian heaven.

New York's famous old church, St. Marks-in-the-Bouwerie, works for a brighter Sunday. Indians performed in the church. Gal-Wah-Go-Wah sang in the Pawnee dialect, and there was a sort of Greek chorus. But that's unusual.

However, is Chrisianity isn't exactly gay or sunny, it's extremely interesting and the Bible is still the world's "best seller."

Men creeping along the ground cannot fight successfully against poison gas, quick firing guns, and explosives from the air. They have as much chance as a rabbit against an eagle.

Even the government of the United States will make that discovery some day.

Abd-El-Krim, starting out to dive France and Spain from North Africa, came in contact with the French flyers. Now his men demand that their leader supply them with bread, and are looting villages.

France has a new government and the French franc sank yesterday to a new low price, 3.89 cents for a franc worth 19.3 cents when the war started.

However, the low price of the franc represents not the condition of France, but the bad judgment of foreigners that deal in exchange. France

LIBRARY BOARD TURNS THUMBS DOWN ON PLEA FOR 'MUNY' COURTROOM

UNABLE TO FIND CARNEGIE GRANT

Councilmen are Expected to Order Improvements on Second Floor of City Hall For Court.

The trustees of the Carnegie public library last night turned "thumbs down" on the city council's request for permission to use the second floor auditorium of the Fourth street institution as a municipal courtroom.

The board, voting unanimously, held such use of the building might be a violation of the grant under which it was donated.

Difference of Opinion.

Members of the board today asserted that the contract under which the late Andrew Carnegie erected the building could not be located and that to open the building to purposes other than library use might be interpreted as abrogation of the agreement.

Solicitor Harry Brokaw advised members of the board that the grant is not on file in his office and that he would be unable to rule on the legality of the procedure until the paper is produced. Councilman N. P. Kerr, sponsor of the plan to use the library as a court room, said there is nothing in the grant which prohibits compliance with the city's request.

The request for use of the building was placed before the library commission a week ago and the matter was taken under advisement. Council agreed to construct an outside metal stairway to the second floor of the building from Broadway and also to provide janitor service, light and heat for the entire building without any reduction in the library budget if the request were granted.

Advocate New City Hall.

The six members of the commission attended last night's session when the request was turned down. George Wilhelm presided, while Miss Mary Hall, librarian, was secretary. Other members of the board are Rev. D. W.

WELFARE CHIEF VISITOR HERE

John W. Gorby

LEGION PLANS WORK TO AID VETS' CHILDREN

National Director Confers With Welfare Chairman

SEEK $5,000,000

John W. Gorby is Perfecting Organization in Ohio.

John W. Gorby, Evanston, Ill., national director of the Children's Welfare division of the American Legion, conferred here yesterday afternoon with Attorney Williams S. Foulks, chairman of the children's welfare committee of the Ohio organization.

Ohio is the 23rd state visited by Gorby, since assuming charge of the welfare division last July 1. He plans to confer with representatives of the other 26 state departments before the 1926 convention, which will be held in Philadelphia next fall.

State organization work was discussed with Mr. Foulks. A plan for every city, county and state was outlined by Gorby.

The American Legion is now raising a $5,000,000 endowment fund, the interest on which will be used in caring for the children of disabled or deceased veterans. The fund will be kept intact as a permanent trust in care of the Legion.

Foulks Organizing State.

Administrative work in connection with the welfare division is being paid fom Legion funds and not from the money which is being raised for relief work. Most of this money has already been subscribed and is now drawing interest at the rate of 4½ per cent.

According to Gorby's plan, the work in each state, county, district and town will be in charge of a committee of three persons, one from the American Legion, one from the ladies'

DOUMER DECLINES PREMIER PLACE

COOLIDGE CUTS LEGAL BARRIER SO STATE MAY HANG CHAPMAN

President Commutes Mail Bandit's Prison Sentence.

25-YEAR TERM

Way Open for Execution of Slayer of Policeman.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—President Coolidge has removed the federal legal barriers for the hanging by the state of Connecticut of Gerald Chapman, bandit, for the murder of a policeman.

In face of repeated official denials for two days that the president had acted in the Chapman case, came the announcement from the White House today that Mr. Coolidge on last Monday signed a commutation of the bandit's 25-year Atlanta sentence for mail robbery.

There was no explanation of why the announcement was not made Monday, or why it was officially declared at the White House only yesterday that President Coolidge had not determined whether he would accept the justice's department recommendation to commute Chapman's federal sentence that he might become the legal prisoner of Connecticut for hanging.

Bandit Refuses Pardon.

[illegible] Nov. 25.—"I absolu[illegible] said Gerald [illegible] Scott, in his [illegible] Chapman's lawyers, Joseph A. [illegible]man and Frank Murphy, both of Hartford, delivered President Coolidge's document to him at the Wethersfield state prison today.

Later, after the warden had retired and Chapman was in conference with the two lawyers, he said:

"I've been expecting this, and, of course, the reason I promptly refused was to establish ground for an appeal as high as the United States supreme court to decide whether or not I, or any one else, must accept a pardon or a commutation from the president."

Chapman was reading a book when the warden and the two attorneys entered his isolated cell room in the hospital section close by the new death house.

Two Boys Beaten In Suburb; Police Investigate Case

Affidavits for the arrest of three young men, the identity of whom was not revealed, probably will be issued as the result of an attack alleged to have been made upon Jacob Dorsey, 18, colored, and Oliver Kirkham, also 18, both of Maplewood, at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

When Constable T. C. Smith reached the scene of the battle in Maplewood, the three assailants had disappeared. The free-for-all is said to have started when the trio attacked the colored youth. Young Kirkham went to his assistance and he, too, was badly beaten.

Gov. "Ma" Ferguson Charges Texas Move To Discredit Her

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 25.—Breaking her silence for the first time since she announced the resignation Monday of two of her appointees on the state highway commission, Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson today stated the demand for a special session of the Texas legislature to investigate rumors of graft in highway matters was a "move by the Ku Klux Klan to discredit her administration."

Governor Ferguson refused to make further comment. She did not indicate what her answer will be on the ultimatum sent her by members of the Texas house, in which it is stated that a special session will be convened by the members themselves if she refuses to do so.

THE DEPOSIT OF PURITANISM--THANKSGIVING DAY SERMONETTE-- BY REV. FREDERIC A. DEAN, D. D.

(Editor's Note:—The following Thanksgiving Day Sermonette, "The Deposit of Puritanism," was written especially for the Review-Tribune by Rev. Frederic A. Dean, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church and former president of the Ministerial association.

Our annual national custom of thanksgiving to Almighty God for His manifold mercies, both in principle and in spirit, is wholly American. A little group in the Mayflower amidst devout and fervent thanksgiving, conceived the idea of a civil state and under that hallowed influence mutually covenanted and combined themselves together in a civil body politic. Such was the exalted origin of our republic. In this atmosphere it was cradled and nurtured into its present greatness and glory. But creating a state was a secondary purpose with the fathers. They desired "to plant a colony in the new world for the glory of God and the advancement of the Christian faith." It must never be forgotten that they shaped the earthen vessel of the state to hold the sacred treasure of their fath. The nation stands or falls according to its loyalty or disloyalty to the purpose of its Puritan founders.

We cannot separate this devout spirit from our body politic without disaster. The moment that occurs the civil fabric perishes. The spirit of Thanksgiving is organic, constitutional, fundamental, in our civilization. Our very existence as a people depends upon our cherishing this deposit of the Puritan spirit as the moral heritage. This includes a moral passion for divine law and a faithful obedience thereto. They cherished as a precious experience dependence upon the Divine Being and the power of human faith, to bring about His needed intervention in their affairs. Dependence upon God was the life of the infant state in its helpless beginnings, the same sense of dependence will alone save the republic grown rich, vast and powerful. We need a revival of this implicit reliance as a people, upon the Divine Being, such as filled the hearts of the fathers.

A feeling of self-sufficiency has taken deep possession of the nation within recent years. It must be checked or the condition will be beyond remedy. Self sufficiency is moral and spiritual decay. If it extends far enough the national light will go out. God perpetuates no state which becomes self-sufficient in its own glory and greatness.

Our political entity composed, at first, of a few holy men, has expanded into vast proportions, covering a continent and reaching to distant possessions. It is a civil structure of great magnitude. Grave perils and problems have arisen with this growth. A new conflict faces us, complex and varied in its dangerous aspects. What will save us in the coming fiery ordeal? Vast riches, fabulous resources, big business, armies, and navies? No, great nations have had all these and perished. America can only be preserved by the revival and enrichment of her Puritan moral and spiritual power.

LIBRARY BOARD TURNS THUMBS DOWN ON PLEA FOR 'MUNY' COURTROOM

UNABLE TO FIND CARNEGIE GRANT

Councilmen are Expected to Order Improvements on Second Floor of City Hall For Court.

The trustees of the Carnegie public library last night turned "thumbs down" on the city council's request for permission to use the second floor auditorium of the Fourth street institution as a municipal courtroom.

The board, voting unanimously, held such use of the building might be a violation of the grant under which it was donated.

Difference of Opinion.

Members of the board today asserted that the contract under which the late Andrew Carnegie erected the building could not be located and that to open the building to purposes other than library use might be interpreted as abrogation of the agreement.

Solicitor Harry Brokaw advised members of the board that the grant is not on file in his office and that he would be unable to rule on the legality of the procedure until the paper is produced. Councilman N. P. Kerr, sponsor of the plan to use the library as a court room, said there is nothing in the grant which prohibits compliance with the city's request.

The request for use of the building was placed before the library commission a week ago and the matter was taken under advisement. Council agreed to construct an outside metal stairway to the second floor of the building from Broadway and also to provide janitor service, light and heat for the entire building without any reduction in the library budget if the request were granted.

Advocate New City Hall.

The six members of the commission attended last night's session when the request was turned down. George Wilhelm presided, while Miss Mary Hall, librarian, was secretary. Other members of the board are Rev. D. W.

WELFARE CHIEF VISITOR HERE

John W. Gorby

LEGION PLANS WORK TO AID VETS' CHILDREN

National Director Confers With Welfare Chairman

John W. Gorby is Perfecting Organization in Ohio.

John W. Gorby, Evanston, Ill., national director of the Children's Welfare division of the American Legion, conferred here yesterday afternoon with Attorney Williams S. Foulks, chairman of the children's welfare committee of the Ohio organization.

Ohio is the 23rd state visited by Gorby, since assuming charge of the welfare division last July 1. He plans to confer with representatives of the other 26 state departments before the 1926 convention, which will be held in Philadelphia next fall.

State organization work was discussed with Mr. Foulks. A plan for every city, county and state was outlined by Gorby.

The American Legion is now raising a $5,000,000 endowment fund, the interest on which will be used in caring for the children of disabled or deceased veterans. The fund will be kept intact as a permanent trust in care of the Legion.

Foulks Organizing State.

Administrative work in connection with the welfare division is being paid fom Legion funds and not from the money which is being raised for relief work. Most of this money has already been subscribed and is now drawing interest at the rate of 4½ per cent.

According to Gorby's plan, the work in each state, county, district and town will be in charge of a committee of three persons, one from the American Legion, one from the ladies'

DOUMER DECLINES PREMIER PLACE

COOLIDGE CUTS LEGAL BARRIER SO STATE MAY HANG CHAPMAN

President Commutes Mail Bandit's Prison Sentence.

25-YEAR TERM

Way Open for Execution of Slayer of Policeman.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—President Coolidge has removed the federal legal barriers for the hanging by the state of Connecticut of Gerald Chapman, bandit, for the murder of a policeman.

In face of repeated official denials for two days that the president had acted in the Chapman case, came the announcement from the White House today that Mr. Coolidge on last Monday signed a commutation of the bandit's 25-year Atlanta sentence for mail robbery.

There was no explanation of why the announcement was not made Monday, or why it was officially declared at the White House only yesterday that President Coolidge had not determined whether he would accept the justice's department recommendation to commute Chapman's federal sentence that he might become the legal prisoner of Connecticut for hanging.

Bandit Refuses Pardon.

HARTFORD, Conn., Nov. 25.—"I absolutely [illegible]," said Gerald Chapman to Scott, in the presence of Chapman's lawyers, Joseph A. Hagerman and Frank Murphy, both of Hartford, delivered President Coolidge's document to him at the Wethersfield state prison today.

Later, after the warden had retired and Chapman was in conference with the two lawyers, he said:

"I've been expecting this, and, of course, the reason I promptly refused was to establish ground for an appeal as high as the United States supreme court to decide whether or not I, or any one else, must accept a pardon or a commutation from the president."

Chapman was reading a book when the warden and the two attorneys entered his isolated cell room in the hospital section close by the new death house.

Two Boys Beaten In Suburb; Police Investigate Case

Affidavits for the arrest of three young men, the identity of whom was not revealed, probably will be issued as the result of an attack alleged to have been made upon Jacob Dorsey, 18, colored, and Oliver Kirkham, also 18, both of Maplewood, at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

When Constable T. C. Smith reached the scene of the battle in Maplewood, the three assailants had disappeared. The free-for-all is said to have started when the trio attacked the colored youth. Young Kirkham went to his assistance and he, too, was badly beaten.

Gov. "Ma" Ferguson Charges Texas Move To Discredit Her

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 25.—Breaking her silence for the first time since she announced the resignation Monday of two of her appointees on the state highway commission, Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson today stated the demand for a special session of the Texas legislature to investigate rumors of graft in highway matters was a "move by the Ku Klux Klan to discredit her administration."

Governor Ferguson refused to make further comment. She did not indicate what her answer will be on the ultimatum sent her by members of the Texas house, in which it is stated that a special session will be convened by the members themselves if she refuses to do so.

THE DEPOSIT OF PURITANISM--THANKSGIVING DAY SERMONETTE-- BY REV. FREDERIC A. DEAN, D. D.

(Editor's Note:—The following Thanksgiving Day Sermonette, "The Deposit of Puritanism," was written especially for the Review-Tribune by Rev. Frederic A. Dean, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church and former president of the Ministerial association.

Our annual national custom of thanksgiving to Almighty God for His manifold mercies, both in principle and in spirit, is wholly American. A little group in the Mayflower amidst devout and fervent thanksgiving, conceived the idea of a civil state and under that hallowed influence mutually covenanted and combined themselves together in a civil body politic. Such was the exalted origin of our republic. In this atmosphere it was cradled and nurtured into its present greatness and glory. But creating a state was a secondary purpose with the fathers. They desired "to plant a colony in the new world for the glory of God and the advancement of the Christian faith." It must never be forgotten that they shaped the earthen vessel of the state to hold the sacred treasure of their fath. The nation stands or falls according to its loyalty or disloyalty to the purpose of its Puritan founders.

We cannot separate this devout spirit from our body politic without disaster. The moment that occurs the civil fabric perishes. The spirit of Thanksgiving is organic, constitutional, fundamental, in our civilization. Our very existence as a people depends upon our cherishing this deposit of the Puritan spirit as the moral heritage. This includes a moral passion for divine law and a faithful obedience thereto. They cherished as a precious experience dependence upon the Divine Being and the power of human faith, to bring about His needed intervention in their affairs. Dependence upon God was the life of the infant state in its helpless beginnings, the same sense of dependence will alone save the republic grown rich, vast and powerful. We need a revival of this implicit reliance as a people, upon the Divine Being, such as filled the hearts of the fathers.

A feeling of self-sufficiency has taken deep possession of the nation within recent years. It must be checked or the condition will be beyond remedy. Self sufficiency is moral and spiritual decay. If it extends far enough the national light will go out. God perpetuates no state which becomes self-sufficient in its own glory and greatness.

Our political entity composed, at first, of a few holy men, has expanded into vast proportions, covering a continent and reaching to distant possessions. It is a civil structure of great magnitude. Grave perils and problems have arisen with this growth. A new conflict faces us, complex and varied in its dangerous aspects. What will save us in the coming fiery ordeal? Vast riches, fabulous resources, big business, armies, and navies? No, great nations have had all these and perished. America can only be preserved by the revival and enrichment of her Puritan moral and spiritual power.

Chapped skin is cheated skin

Robbing the skin of its natural oils by using the wrong kind of soap makes the skin chap easily. If the skin's already chapped and needs cleansing, it's a mistake not to wash it with safe, pure, mild but cleansing soap to remove irritating dirt and soreness—then use glycerine and rose water or other proven healer. Sweetheart is fine soap for the skin because its rich lather cleanses well and gently. Low priced.

Faversham Comes to Ceramic Tomorrow In 'Foot-Loose'

Sarah Truax Will be Principal Feminine Support of Distinguished Actor in Matinee and Evening Performances

No theatrical event of the present season holds greater promise than the appearance at the Ceramic theater on Thanksgiving Day, matinee and night, of William Faversham in the Zoe Akins' drama, "Foot-Loose."

Mr. Faversham's principal feminine support is Sara Truax, one of the cleverest of our present day crop of younger actresses.

These celebrated players have this season been brought together by Mr. Faversham, who in the past, has sponsored as actor-manager many of the most brilliant "all-star" acting combinations that has ever appeared on tour. Mr. Faversham launched, one after another, with "all-star" casts, such ambitious and notable productions as: "The Fawn," "The Hawk," "The World and His Wife," "Herod," "Othello" and "Julius Caesar," playing the important role in each.

It is seldom that the present generation of playgoers has an opportunity to witness such a play as "Foot-Loose," with such a stellar light as Mr. Faversham. The piece is a modern society drama, one of the most fascinating and successful plays ever produced in this country, and was written by the brilliant Zoe Akins, author of "Declassee" and "The Varying Shore," provides many fine moments for acting.

Theatergoers can appreciate the rare treat that awaits them in the performance by such players as Mr. Faversham and his leading feminine support, Sarah Truax, and at the very maturity of their powers.

Mr. Faversham has directed the staging of "Foot-Loose," and he is supported by a distinguished cast of players, including Edith Campbell, Ann Warrington, Antonio Salerno, Dennis Cleugh, Beatrice Verts, Milton C. Herman and others.

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets.

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the REAL cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Take Olive Tablets the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like. 15c and 30c.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Company, Atlanta, Ga. (adv.)

What the Bates Road Proved About Highway Paving

The story of the Bates Experimental Road, built by the highway authorities of Illinois, is one it will pay every taxpayer to know.

For many days and nights fleets of loaded motor trucks passed over this two mile stretch, transporting a total of 377,460 tons.

Only thirteen of the original sixty-three sections survived. Ten were of portland cement concrete.

The other three had heavy concrete foundations which in all respects corresponded to the plain sections of portland cement concrete.

Many other sections with wearing surfaces placed on less enduring foundations were failures, proving that the foundation strength of concrete was the winning factor.

Many communities are profiting from the lessons taught by the Bates Experimental Road.

Is your community one of these? If not, why not?

Tell your local authorities you want your roads and streets paved with portland cement concrete. That will end once and for all the problem of costly maintenance.

Chapped skin is cheated skin

Robbing the skin of its natural oils by using the wrong kind of soap makes the skin chap easily. Faversham Comes to Ceramic Tomorrow In 'Foot-Loose'

Sarah Truax Will be Principal Feminine Support of Distinguished Actor in Matinee and Evening Performances.

No theatrical event of the present season holds greater promise than the appearance at the Ceramic theater on Thanksgiving Day, matinee and night, of William Faversham in the Zoe Akins' drama, "Foot-Loose."

Mr. Faversham's principal feminine support is Sara Truax, one of the cleverest of our present day crop of younger actresses.

These celebrated players have this season been brought together by Mr. Faversham, who in the past, has sponsored as actor-manager many of the most brilliant "all-star" acting combinations that has ever appeared on tour. Mr. Faversham launched, one after another, with "all-star" casts, such ambitious and notable productions as: "The Fawn," "The Hawk," "The World and His Wife," "Herod," "Othello" and "Julius Caesar," playing the important role in each.

It is seldom that the present generation of playgoers has an opportunity to witness such a play as "Foot-Loose," with such a stellar light as Mr. Faversham. The piece is a modern society drama, one of the most fascinating and successful plays ever produced in this country, and was written by the brilliant Zoe Akins, author of "Declassee" and "The Varying Shore," provides many fine moments for acting.

Theatergoers can appreciate the rare treat that awaits them in the performance by such players as Mr. Faversham and his leading feminine support, Sarah Truax, and at the very maturity of their powers.

Mr. Faversham has directed the staging of "Foot-Loose," and he is supported by a distinguished cast of players, including Edith Campbell, Ann Warrington, Antonio Salerno, Dennis Cleugh, Beatrice Verts, Milton C. Herman and others.

Musician Out of Tune

"Gas pressure in my stomach sometimes distressed me so that I could not think. I played out of tune and twice lost my position. No medicine helped me and I became disheartened. Another musician advised me to try Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, and I am now enjoying the best of health.' It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Jesse D. Holloway and Druggists Everywhere.

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause — Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets.

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the REAL cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Take Olive Tablets the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like. 15c and 30c.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Company, Atlanta, Ga. (adv.)

SUBMIT BILLS TO COUNCIL

Contracting Co., and Engineers Ask Payment.

The ways and means of promptly meeting bills submitted by contractors following recent civic improvements was the new financial problem handed to city council last night by Allison & Harris, contractors, of East Liverpool, and City Engineer J. N. George.

Represented by Attorney Ben L. Bennett, the Allison & Harris Co. announced it had completed its share of work in connection with the construction of the gravity water system, and now wants to be paid in full.

The question of liquidated damages arose, because of the fact that the company didn't do its work in the original time specified, although solons admitted an extension of time had been granted.

A bill for $2,327.56, to pay for services of Engineer Magill, also went in with the Allison & Harris Co. bill. Solons deferred action, however, in order to check up.

J. N. George, city engineer, put in a bill of $3,151.71 for engineering services on the Wells avenue Lisbon street paving contract. He based his fee on a 6½ per cent rate on the estimate. Solons took no action on this. It was pointed out that no agreement had been made with George beforehand, and the latter was charging the ordinary rate.

Plans and estimates for the Twentieth street sewer were submitted by Director Dennis. They were turned over to the street and light committee and will be brought up at a conference with traction company officials.

Residents in the vicinity of Michaels alley and Buckeye avenue petitioned council to take action toward vacating a short alley connecting with Michaels alley and Buckeye avenue. The petition was signed by Martin Buchman, Charles J. Johnson, F. R. Wilson and C. E. Emerick. The request was referred to Solicitor Ingram for consideration.

A measure to create the position of resident superintendent at the reservoir north of the city was passed on first reading, with two dissenting votes.

The superintendent, according to provisions of the measure, would receive a monthly salary of $125 and would live in a house provided by the city. His duties would include attendance at the chlorinating machinery, patrolling the reservoir site, operating the valves and other lesser activities.

He would be selected under civil service provisions. Solons Nicholson and Peters expressed disapproval of this phase of the ordinance.

HIGHS FACING HARDEST GAME

Play Steubenville Team in Final 1925 Game.

Wellsville high school gridders will wind up a disastrous season tomorrow afternoon at Central park when they will tackle the hardest game on their schedule, with the strong Steubenville scholastic eleven as opposition.

The engagement is scheduled to start at 2:30 o'clock at Central park.

Up until Saturday the Orange and Black had been defeated with monotonous regularity. On that occasion, Coach Klinck's combine emerged from the Mingo Junction tussel with a 6-6 tie.

Tomorrow's clash with Steubenville ends a two-year contract with the Jefferson combine which, this year, is one of the best in the history of the Jefferson county school. The Cartledge eleven has won with as great a degree of regularity as Wellsville has lost, their record including triumphs over Beaver Falls, Oil City, Toronto, South high, Youngstown and other strong elevens.

Last year Steubenville walloped the locals by a count of 54 to 0, at Steubenville. The down river eleven is as strong, and if not stronger, than it was last season. Wellsville's squad, however, is considerably weakened.

The locals have no vain hopes of making a showing against the visitors but will strive only to hold them to as low a score as possible.

NAMED O. E. S. WORTHY MATRON

Mrs. Edward Round is the new worthy matron of Wellsville chapter, No. 417, Order of the Eastern Star.

The honor was conferred upon Mrs. Round at the regular election of the local chapter Monday night. Other officers were named as follows: Worthy patron, Harry Beresford; associate matron, Mrs. Frances Dornick; secretary, Mrs. Eva McCombs; treasurer, Mrs. Ina McLain; conductress, Mrs. Musa Smith; associate conductress, Mrs. Eva Snediker; trustee, Mrs. Ruth Runyon.

Mrs. Lucy Frischkorn was received as a new member.

SWEARINGEN IN COUNCIL SEAT

Ted Swearingen, Republican, elected Third ward councilman on November 3, last night was named to succeed Frank Kerr as representative from that ward.

As a result of the death of Mayor James S. Barnes, Council President Frank Blackburn became mayor. Blackburn was succeeded by Frank Kerr, president pro tem, and, consequently, Kerr's chair was left vacant.

W. C. Connor, First ward councilman, was named president pro tem.

Irish Battles Scotch To Court Decision in Which Former Wins

LOS ANGELES.—Testifying his wife tried to discard his "good old Irish" name and substitute her maiden name on the theory a Scotch name was better than an Irish one, Michael Hourihan was granted a divorce here by Judge Walter S. Cates from Marie Teresa Hourihan.

They were at a party, the husband said, when his wife introduced herself as Marie Ray, whereupon he asked why she did so and he declared she told him her Scotch name was better than his Irish cognomen. He was greatly humiliated and embarrassed as well as angry, Hourihan told the court.

Thanksgiving

A Thanksgiving dinner of 1779 is described in an old diary by one Juliana Smith. Three large tables were set up in the great dining room. On each table were a haunch of venison and two roasts of pork. In addition to this a roast turkey was on one table, a roast goose on the second and two large pigeon pasties on the third. Juliana wrote:

"Then there was an abundance of good vegetables of all sorts, and one that I believe you have not yet seen. Uncle Simeon imported the seed from England. It is called 'sellery,' and you eat it without cooking. It is very good served with meats. The pumpkin pies, apple tarts and big Indian puddings lacked for nothing save appetite by the time we had got round to them."

Although most of us probably over-eat on Thanksgiving Day, we have to admit that we couldn't make away with such a repast as that. Groaning boards, indeed! And groaning diners later in the day, we imagine.

But no. Juliana tells what followed the feast. After dinner they told stories, and all sang hymns, the father of the family leading in prayer and "remembering all absent friends before the Throne of Grace."

Here is a hint for our modern celebrations which should begin with attendance at church services in the morning. Let us not forget thanks—giving.

Now a French Settlement

The politicians, a Washington correspondent remarks, have learned something from the way the American public received the Italian debt settlement.

Heretofore our public men have feared to deal very liberally with foreign debtors, for fear that the public would resent it. Now it appears that the average citizen is far less insistent on making the debtors "repay every dollar" than some of the office-holding patriots have supposed.

The Italian agreement means that, considering the very low rate of interest granted, the Italian debt has been reduced three-fourths. This means cancellation just as surely as if the American commission had agreed to wipe out three-fourths of the principal and let the rest carry normal interest.

To the amazement of the jingo politicians, there has been no howl from the public. There has been hardly anything but approval and relief expressed by the people and the press, regardless of party or section. Nearly everybody seems to feel that Italy is doing the best she can, and that it is better to get a vexing question out of the way and be sure of a small return than to let the matter drag in a hopeless effort to get back the entire loan.

Congress, therefore, will probably change its tune and O. K. the agreement.

Now France may resume negotiations. She expects more liberal terms than were offered her when the Caillaux mission came to Washington, because of the Italian precedent. And perhaps she will get them.

France is abler to pay than Italy, but not much abler. If she lays her cards on the table as Italy did, and to frankness and sincerity adds pledges of disarmament corresponding to Italy's, there will hardly be any question about liberality.

The last offer made by France amounted to a cancellation of about 60 per cent of her indebtedness. The American offer would have cancelled about 40 per cent. France, by wise handling, might gain one-half.

Recreation At Geneva

Viscount Cecil has announced that he intends to use part of the money awarded him last year by the Woodrow Wilson Foundation for his peace activities to enlarge the tennis courts and golf course and to augment the library of the league of nations. Recreation facilities are not always easy to find at moderate cost at Geneva, and Lord Robert apparently feels that they play an important part in maintaining the spirit of good will among the nations' representatives.

Just as the German and French delegates to the Locarno conference helped themselves to a better understanding of each other's aims by their little private social hour at the inn, so many other delegates with seemingly conflicting points of view may be brought together while striding across the Geneva golf course or contesting a point at tennis.

The Englishman's sportsmanship has sometimes been credited with his military successes. Perhaps a time is coming when wars will not be won on the fields of Eton but will be prevented on the playgrounds of Geneva.

Some grown-ups believe Santa Claus lives in Wall Street, and others believe he's settled in Florida.

Little old King Tut was a piker, after all. His mummy was wrapped in mere yellow gold—not platinum.

A 40-piece orchestra recently bombarded London with jazz music by radio from a mile up in the air. Maybe that's the air peril Arthur Brisbane is always warning us about.

You'd think ancient man was a mineral, the way archeological miners go around digging for him.

"I kept the peace of Europe for 25 years," boasts former Kaiser Wilhelm. Then he certainly made up for it.

A Tough Time to Have a Sore Hand All Tied Up— By Fontaine Fox

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Ney Yorks real Latin Quarter is now in Connecticut. At Westport, the birth place of bronk-busting Bill Hart, and about 40 miles from the Greenwich Village that is supposed to cradle genius. Its population is chiefly artists, writers, sculptors, editors and painters.

Westport is a sprightly village along the Post Road and there is nothing arty about it. No purple pup tea rooms, flowing ties, basket weavers, brass pounders or soulful land - haired tragedies fashioning threnodies to the futility of the which.

It has a Rotary Club and George Babbitt would find a fruity field for his pervasive cherrio and resounding back-clap. There is a harness shop as well as a polo field. Horseshoes are pitched behind a livery stable and fast yachts furrow placid waters of the sound.

Along the main street one may bump into solemn William McFee, dreaming of phosphorescent foam and bowsprits. Also Richard Connell and Lucian Cary, Simeon Strunsky, Ruth Hawthorne, Webb Waldron, Samuel McCoy and a hundred others of equal fame.

Paul Rosenfeld and Van Wyck Brooks live on the west shore and on the East Shore Rose O'Neill designs Kewpies and poems. It is the home of the dean of American illustrators, Henry Raleigh, whose mighty right thumb and forefinger bend dimes without effort.

Other illustrators are Everett Shinn, Nancy Fay, Ernest Fuhr, oscar Howard, Henry B. Davis, J. Clinton Shepherd, Leon Gordon and William Meade Prince. When they are not in France, Westport is the home of Scot Fitzgerald and his wife.

Like Paris, the town has its right and left band. The Saugatuck River cuts through it. The art invasion began quietly about six years ago and came from the Village. There are few loafers in Westport and there is no "fast artist set."

There was a fearful racket and hub-bub overhead in midtown at midnight. "It is those airplane drivers practising," said a lady who formerly lived in Gallipolis, Ohio. "They ought to be home in bed."

My sympathy is with an actor whose trouser leg caught midway between his knee and ankle, revealing a resplendent garter, on an opening night. With my hair larded and ears pinned back, I delivered a recitation at the Friday afternoon exercises at Gallio Academy years ago. My arm went up in striking gesture at the line, "And up rose old Barbarie Fritche." The arm came down but the sleeve wouldn't, and there I stood, trying to wriggle it into place during the rest of the recitation.

In a cafe. A song and dance man born on the East Side lapsed into an English drawl. Raw-ther!

"Pipe down" said the blonde cutie opposite, "you're straining the adenoids."

And the same cafe, by the way, brackets on its embossed menus: "Some time ago this cafe was padlocked. It no longer affords the raison d'etre of this padlocking to its patrons. And besides, one may obtain ginger ale, seizer, as well as the very best brands of cracked ice. Also delicately flanged champagne glasses and tall tumblers. here is, you know, a key for every padlock.

In a measure that seems to be true, for nearly all resorts padlocked a year ago are open today. They may not be selling liquor or what passes for it, but they are doing business at the same old stand. Of the recent padlockings we shall see six months or a year from now.

HASKIN'S LETTER

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Grade Crossing Accidents.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 25.—A large touring car approached a double-track railroad crossing in northern Indiana. In the car were a man and his wife, their two young daughters, a girl friend of the daughter's, and a chauffeur. A long freight train, east bound, was rumbling slowly over the crossing and not more than a dozen cars and the caboose were left to clear the highway.

The chauffeur stopped his car, shifted from high to low gear, and with one foot on the clutch and the other on the accelerator, waited for the caboose to give him clearage. While the caboose still partially obstructed the roadway he started his engine, shifted the gears quickly, and the moment he could do so shot across the south track and on the north track, just in time to meet a west bound passenger train traveling sixty miles an hour.

All six occupants of the touring car were instantly killed and horribly mangled. There wasn't enough left of the motor vehicle to make a sizeable scrap pile.

This accident developed an interesting and celebrated legal controversy because both the husband and the wife possessed considerable fortunes, and as their own immediate family was entirely wiped out, it became a question as to whether the man or the woman died or was killed first in order that it might be determined whether the husband's relatives or the wife's should inherit. Eventually the case was compromised.

This legal controversy is not so important nor so interesting, in the opinion of railroad officials and employes, however, when it is compared with the amazing physchological complex, mental strabismus, or whatever it was that resulted in the accident.

What spirit of recklessness, what thoughtlessness or carelessness, led the chauffeur to risk his own life, and the lives of those entrusted to his keeping, by attempting to make that crossing while the slowly moving freight train concealed whatever might be approaching on the second track and the noise of the freight made it impossible to hear that of another train, if there were one?

What indifference or what restless desire to "make time," led the husband, who was seated beside the chauffeur, to permit the latter to attempt the crossing before he was certain it was safe?

No Question of Ignorance.

There could be no question of ignorance on the part either of the chauffeur or the man as to the danger that menaced. Both knew that the railroad was double-tracked. Both had driven that way many times before. Both knew that it was notoriously a dangerous crossing. They were not in a hurry. The party was bound on a week-end visit to a summer resort and had an abundance of time in which to make the trip.

In the circumstances, railroaders and traffic experts agree that the accident was absolutely inexcusable and almost as inexplicable. However, the fact that it happened and that similar avoidable fatalities occur daily at the grade crossings of the railroads of the United States lead transportation authorities to declare that something must be done to awaken the motoring public to the grade crossing menace.

According to railroad statistics the railroads of the country have reduced fatalities to passengers almost 58 per cent and to their employes 54 per cent during the last 12 years, while in the same period grade crossing fatalities have increased 233 per cent, or from nine a day to 30 a day. During the period 1916-1922, 10,911 persons were killed and 29,391 injured in these avoidable accidents — almost 2,000 deaths and 5,000 injuries every year. And in addition to the disasters to motorists, a train is derailed every 10 or 12 days as the result of a collision with an automobile.

In fully 63 per cent of these accidents there is no excuse of a blind or hidden crossing, for that percentage occurs at apen crossing where there is a clear view of the track in either direction, and 70 per cent of the grade crossing tragedies take place in daylight.

Perhaps the most significant of the statistics that the railroads present is the showing that in 19 cases out of 20 the automobile is moving when it is struck, and in one case in every seven the automobile runs into the train, instead of the train's hitting the motor vehicle.

Cant Abolish Crossings.

The theorist who asserts that grade crossing accidents can be averted only by abolishing grade crossings is likened by authorities to th eother theorists who would solve the problem of divorce by abolishing marriage. Grade crossings can not and will never be abolished in the United States. Bad ones are being eliminated constantly, and that work will go on, but all grade crossings can not be done away with.

During the last year for which figures are available 706 grade crossings ewe eliminated at an expense of some seventy millions of dollars, but during that same year 4,560 new grade crossings were added. There are almost 260,000 grade crossings in the United States—one for every mile of railroad —and to do away with all of them is recognized as a physical impossibility and a financial absurdity.

The railroads claim to be doing all that they can do in the way of efficient train operation, crossing maintenance, and crossing guarding and warning through signalmen, gates, wigwags, fixed signs, and the like. At the same time they are endeavoring to eliminate as rapidly as possible all the so-called death trap crossings.

But it is to be remembered that the statistics show that by far the major part of the grade crossing accidents do not occur at the bad crossings. They occur at places where the motorist has every chance to safeguarid himself and those who may be riding with him. Moreover, despite all the precautions that are taken at dangerous crossings accidents continue to take place at them.

Motorists have been known to crash through gates that were down to block their way on to the railroad tracks. They have been known to ignore all kinds of signs, to run by signalmen doing their utmost to stop them, and even to run down and kill the poor crossing watchman who stood in their way in his desperate effort to head them off from destruction.

In one case a reckless driver ran through the gates that had lately been placed in operation to safeguard a bad city crossing, and the city council immediately decreed that the gates should be removed and a flagman kept at the crossing. In another, a motorist ignored the signal of a flagman and rushed headlong to disaster, whereupon the city authorities decided that the flagman should be superseded by safety gates!

Absent-mindedness, lack of sense of danger, pure recklessness, joy-riding, nit-wittedness, lack of skill, confusion, deafness, faulty eyesight and other physical defects, all have been advanced as partial explanations of why so many people are needlessly killed at grade crossings every year. An insane desire to beat the train to a crossing and driving while under the influence of liquor are said to be responsible for a large percentage of the accidents, but even they do not tell the whole story, nor explain the inexplicable. For instance:

In western New York eight out of nine people crowded into a five-passenger car were killed in re-crossing a railroad they had passed over but a short time before. Less than 24 hours later four persons en route in a motor to arrange for the funeral of the victims of the previous day's accident were killed in a similar accident at the same crossing!

The driver of the automobile in a grade crossing accident rarely survives to tell why or how it happened. Thus one valuable source of information that might go far toward working out a solution of the problem is foreclosed.

Thanksgiving

A Thanksgiving dinner of 1779 is described in an old diary by one Juliana Smith. Three large tables were set up in the great dining room. On each table were a haunch of venison and two roasts of pork. In addition to this a roast turkey was on one table, a roast goose on the second and two large pigeon pasties on the third. Juliana wrote:

"Then there was an abundance of good vegetables of all sorts, and one that I believe you have not yet seen. Uncle Simeon imported the seed from England. It is called 'sellery,' and you eat it without cooking. It is very good served with meats. The pumpkin pies, apple tarts and big Indian puddings lacked for nothing save appetite by the time we had got round to them."

Although most of us probably over-eat on Thanksgiving Day, we have to admit that we couldn't make away with such a repast as that. Groaning boards, indeed! And groaning diners later in the day, we imagine.

But no. Juliana tells what followed the feast. After dinner they told stories, and all sang hymns, the father of the family leading in prayer and "remembering all absent friends before the Throne of Grace."

Here is a hint for our modern celebrations which should begin with attendance at church services in the morning. Let us not forget thanks—giving.

Now a French Settlement

The politicians, a Washington correspondent remarks, have learned something from the way the American public received the Italian debt settlement.

Heretofore our public men have feared to deal very liberally with foreign debtors, for fear that the public would resent it. Now it appears that the average citizen is far less insistent on making the debtors "repay every dollar" than some of the office-holding patriots have supposed.

The Italian agreement means that, considering the very low rate of interest granted, the Italian debt has been reduced three-fourths. This means cancellation just as surely as if the American commission had agreed to wipe out three-fourths of the principal and let the rest carry normal interest.

To the amazement of the jingo politicians, there has been no howl from the public. There has been hardly anything but approval and relief expressed by the people and the press, regardless of party or section. Nearly everybody seems to feel that Italy is doing the best she can, and that it is better to get a vexing question out of the way and be sure of a small return than to let the matter drag in a hopeless effort to get back the entire loan.

Congress, therefore, will probably change its tune and O. K. the agreement.

Now France may resume negotiations. She expects more liberal terms than were offered her when the Caillaux mission came to Washington, because of the Italian precedent. And perhaps she will get them.

France is abler to pay than Italy, but not much abler. If she lays her cards on the table as Italy did, and to frankness and sincerity adds pledges of disarmament corresponding to Italy's, there will hardly be any question about liberality.

The last offer made by France amounted to a cancellation of about 60 per cent of her indebtedness. The American offer would have cancelled about 40 per cent. France, by wise handling, might gain one-half.

Recreation At Geneva

Viscount Cecil has announced that he intends to use part of the money awarded him last year by the Woodrow Wilson Foundation for his peace activities to enlarge the tennis courts and golf course and to augment the library of the league of nations. Recreation facilities are not always easy to find at moderate cost at Geneva, and Lord Robert apparently feels that they play an important part in maintaining the spirit of good will among the nations' representatives.

Just as the German and French delegates to the Locarno conference helped themselves to a better understanding of each other's aims by their little private social hour at the inn, so many other delegates with seemingly conflicting points of view may be brought together while striding across the Geneva golf course or contesting a point at tennis.

The Englishman's sportsmanship has sometimes been credited with his military successes. Perhaps a time is coming when wars will not be won on the fields of Eton but will be prevented on the playgrounds of Geneva.

Some grown-ups believe Santa Claus lives in Wall Street, and others believe he's settled in Florida.

Little old King Tut was a piker, after all. His mummy was wrapped in mere yellow gold—not platinum.

A 40-piece orchestra recently bombarded London with jazz music by radio from a mile up in the air. Maybe that's the air peril Arthur Brisbane is always warning us about.

You'd think ancient man was a mineral, the way archeological miners go around digging for him.

"I kept the peace of Europe for 25 years," boasts former Kaiser Wilhelm. Then he certainly made up for it.

A Tough Time to Have a Sore Hand All Tied Up— By Fontaine Fox

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Ney Yorks real Latin Quarter is now in Connecticut. At Westport, the birth place of bronk-busting Bill Hart, and about 40 miles from the Greenwich Village that is supposed to cradle genius. Its population is chiefly artists, writers, sculptors, editors and painters.

Westport is a sprightly village along the Post Road and there is nothing arty about it. No purple pup tea rooms, flowing ties, basket weavers, brass pounders or soulful land - haired tragedies fashioning threnodies to the futility of the which.

It has a Rotary Club and George Babbitt would find a fruity field for his pervasive cherrio and resounding back-clap. There is a harness shop as well as a polo field. Horseshoes are pitched behind a livery stable and fast yachts furrow placid waters of the sound.

Along the main street one may bump into solemn William McFee, dreaming of phosphorescent foam and bowsprits. Also Richard Connell and Lucian Cary, Simeon Strunsky, Ruth Hawthorne, Webb Waldron, Samuel McCoy and a hundred others of equal fame.

Paul Rosenfeld and Van Wyck Brooks live on the west shore and on the East Shore Rose O'Neill designs Kewpies and poems. It is the home of the dean of American illustrators, Henry Raleigh, whose mighty right thumb and forefinger bend dimes without effort.

Other illustrators are Everett Shinn, Nancy Fay, Ernest Fuhr, oscar Howard, Henry B. Davis, J. Clinton Shepherd, Leon Gordon and William Meade Prince. When they are not in France, Westport is the home of Scot Fitzgerald and his wife.

Like Paris, the town has its right and left band. The Saugatuck River cuts through it. The art invasion began quietly about six years ago and came from the Village. There are few loafers in Westport and there is no "fast artist set."

There was a fearful racket and hub-bub overhead in midtown at midnight. "It is those airplane drivers practising," said a lady who formerly lived in Gallipolis, Ohio. "They ought to be home in bed."

My sympathy is with an actor whose trouser leg caught midway between his knee and ankle, revealing a resplendent garter, on an opening night. With my hair larded and ears pinned back, I delivered a recitation at the Friday afternoon exercises at Gallio Academy years ago. My arm went up in striking gesture at the line, "And up rose old Barbarie Fritche." The arm came down but the sleeve wouldn't, and there I stood, trying to wriggle it into place during the rest of the recitation.

In a cafe. A song and dance man born on the East Side lapsed into an English drawl. Raw-ther!

"Pipe down" said the blonde cutie opposite, "you're straining the adenoids."

And the same cafe, by the way, brackets on its embossed menus: "Some time ago this cafe was padlocked. It no longer affords the raison d'etre of this padlocking to its patrons. And besides, one may obtain ginger ale, selzer, as well as the very best brands of cracked ice. Also delicately flanged champagne glasses and tall tumblers. here is, you know, a key for every padlock.

In a measure that seems to be true, for nearly all resorts padlocked a year ago are open today. They may not be selling liquor or what passes for it, but they are doing business at the same old stand. Of the recent padlockings we shall see six months or a year from now.

METHUSELAH'S WIFE

THE STORY OF A GIRL WHO MARRIED FOR MONEY — By EDGAR FRANKLIN

© CENTRAL PRESS ASS'N

EIGHT.

Two days a bride, and lonely.

Laurel tossed aside the last of an assortment of novels in which she had sought for something to interest her. In searching the crowded shelves of the impressively oak-paneled library, she had not been able to find many books by authors with whose work she was familiar. Noble Harwood bought books for their binding and half of the volumes in his collection, mostly de luxe editions, had uncut pages.

Noble was at his office, having gone there after their late lunch. They had breakfast in bed at 10 in the morning.

Laurel left the cozy, cushioned place she had fixed for herself in the library and wandered out on the lawn. The central pool of glistening water surrounded by sentinel-like poplars attracted her. How seductively inviting were its sun-flecked ripples, in which water-lilies danced nymph-like. Lines of a poem came vagrantly to mind:

The water-lily starts and slides
Upon the level in little puffs of wind,
Tho' anchored to the bottom.

Her memory thus tapped, other lines from the same poem by Tennyson unfolded themselves:

Now folds the lily all her sweetness up,
And slips into the bosom of the lake;
So fold thyself, my dearest, thou, and slip
Into my bosom and be lost in me.

The pool needed swans, she decided. And how lovely peacocks would be, sweeping grandly over he emerald lawn, their plumage in the mirrory water.

Wandering through the gardens around the villa, about which there seemed to be a perpetual air of sunrise, with the songs of birds attracted by the protective trees and frequent feedings, trellises of vines, stone benches, and here and there, small sculptures, increased Laurel's sense of loneliness. She wanted some one to talk to.

Back in the library, she settled back in her cozy, cushioned spot and wondered what Noble was doing. She tried to picture what his office was like. He probably had a beautiful stenographer. She must go to the office to see him and go through the plant when they were back from their honeymoon. His work, she decided must be very interesting. Just to think, there were two thousand men employed in the plant of the National Axle and Bearing Co. What responsibility! No wonder there were little wrinkles around his eyes.

But it was this work, Laurel frowned, that was delaying their honeymoon. She wished they were going to Europe instead of just New York. New York didn't seem romantic enough. Spain, or Italy ——.

She thought of telephoning her mother, but changed her mind. She wondered what Alice Kenwick was doing. On the spur of the moment, she rang for Joseph.

"A telephone, please."

As if by magic, the servant produced an instrument from out of a hidden cabinet in the wall and attached it to a nearby plug. Noble Harwood, as one of the largest share holders in the Central City Telephone Co., had been able to have the villa elaborately wired so that there were plugs in every room in the house.

"Alice! How are you? You are home early today, aren't you? Can you run over for a minute or two. Mr. Harwood is at his office, and I just must talk to somebody. I'll send a car after you."

She was excited at the thought of seeing Alice Kenwick again, as if they had been separated for ages. Alice was Laurel's most intimate friend. The Kenwicks were an old Central City family who had remained in the same state of affluence—comfortable, but not wealthy, while their friends became rich. Alice taught art in one of the local high schools. Only 22, she was already looked upon as an "old maid."

The two girls embraced in the hall, under the eyes of Louis, and Laurel dragged the visitor up the stairs to her suite.

"My dear, you never looked lovelier in your life, Alice enthused.

Laurel hugged her.

"Where did you two go? Everybody is dying to know?"

"It's a secret, but I'll tell you. Noble has a perfectly adorable lodge down on Crystal Lake. We stayed down there until yesterday when Noble had to return to the city because of business affairs. It will be several days before we are able to go away."

"I don't believe I've seen that dress before." She referred to a separate skirt and blouse of chiffon in a sort of sports mode for afternoon wear.

"Don't you like the way the jumper ties snugly about the hips? She pivoted. "See how the back and front of the skirt are separate panels.' She pulled back one of the loose panels and revealed a lace underslip dyed to match.

"You have the most wonderful trousseau! If it were mine, I couldn't go to bed at night without going over it and trying on every piece. I just loce those little nighties of yours."

"Alice, Noble doesn't like that gown you thought was so marvelous. I wore it for dinner last night, and he called it TACKY.' Her lip quivered.

"Why, I think he's mean! He doesn't know an attractive dress when he sees it. It becomes you so much."

"He's used to buying dresses and things for Marion and I suppose he'll select mine, too," Laurel pouted.

Alice was silent as she sensed her friend's feelings. She had many misgivings about this marriage, but had never spoken them. Alice Kenwick was not a friend who offered advice in any and all things.

"I'm going to have to depend on you a lot, Alice, dear," Laurel said, taking the other girl's hand. "I know I'm going to be lonely when Noble is out of town, as he often is. I shan't expect him to take me on his business trips. So you must be prepared to come and stay with me.'

Alice hesitated before answering. "I'd rather not, Laurel, that is, too often. People wil say I'm running after you because you married Noble Harwood.

"Why, Alice½"

"I could see how the neighbors looked when they saw your car drive up for me today." the visitor went on.

"Don't be ridiculous, dear."

"I must be going now, and don't send me home in the car," Alice arose in her bluntly typical way.

"Do stay for tea."

"No, I must do some shopping before the stores close.'

"Alice Kenwick, I'm going to—to spank you if you don't get those silly ideas out of your head." They kissed each other an affectionate good-bye.

Alice was leaving the villa on foot as Noble Harwood arrived in his automobile. After he had kissed his wife, he remarked, "I thought we weren't 'at home.'" He was frowning. It was easy for her to guess that he was displeased by Alice's visit.

METHUSELAH'S WIFE

THE STORY OF A GIRL WHO MARRIED FOR MONEY

By EDGAR POE NORRIS

© CENTRAL PRESS ASS'N

EIGHT.

Two days a bride, and lonely.

Laurel tossed aside the last of an assortment of novels in which she had sought for something to interest her. In searching the crowded shelves of the impressively oak-paneled library, she had not been able to find many books by authors with whose work she was familiar. Noble Harwood bought books for their binding and half of the volumes in his collection, mostly de luxe editions, had uncut pages.

Noble was at his office, having gone there after their late lunch. They had breakfast in bed at 10 in the morning.

Laurel left the cozy, cushioned place she had fixed for herself in the library and wandered out on the lawn. The central pool of glistening water surrounded by sentinel-like poplars attracted her. How seductively inviting were its sun-flecked ripples, in which water-lilies danced nymph-like. Lines of a poem came vagrantly to mind:

The water-lily starts and slides
Upon the level in little puffs of wind,
Tho' anchored to the bottem.

Her memory thus tapped, other lines from the same poem by Tennyson unfolded themselves:

Now folds the lily all her sweetness up,
And slips into the bosom of the lake;
So fold thyself, my dearest, thou, and slip
Into my bosom and be lost in me.

The pool needed swans, she decided. And how lovely peacocks would be, sweeping grandly over he emerald lawn, their plumage in the mirrory water.

Wandering through the gardens around the villa, about which there seemed to be a perpetual air of sunrise, with the songs of birds attracted by the protective trees and frequent feedings, trellises of vines, stone benches, and here and there, small sculptures, increased Laurel's sense of loneliness. She wanted some one to talk to.

Back in the library, she settled back in her cozy, cushioned spot and wondered what Noble was doing. She tried to picture what his office was like. He probably had a beautiful stenographer. She must go to the office to see him and go through the plant when they were back from their honeymoon. His work, she decided must be very interesting. Just to think, there were two thousand men employed in the plant of the National Axle and Bearing Co. What responsibility! No wonder there were little wrinkles around his eyes.

But it was this work, Laurel frowned, that was delaying their honeymoon. She wished they were going to Europe instead of just New York. New York didn't seem romantic enough. Spain, or Italy ——.

She thought of telephoning her mother, but changed her mind. She wondered what Alice Kenwick was doing. On the spur of the moment, she rang for Joseph.

"A telephone, please."

As if by magic, the servant produced an instrument from out of a hidden cabinet in the wall and attached it to a nearby plug. Noble Harwood, as one of the largest share holders in the Central City Telephone Co., had been able to have the villa elaborately wired so that there were plugs in every room in the house.

"Alice! How are you? You are home early today, aren't you? Can you run over for a minute or two. Mr. Harwood is at his office, and I just must talk to somebody. I'll send a car after you."

She was excited at the thought of seeing Alice Kenwick again, as if they had been separated for ages. Alice was Laurel's most intimate friend. The Kenwicks were an old Central City family who had remained in the same state of affluence—comfortable, but not wealthy, while their friends became rich. Alice taught art in one of the local high schools. Only 22, she was already looked upon as an "old maid."

The two girls embraced in the hall, under the eyes of Louis, and Laurel dragged the visitor up the stairs to her suite.

"My dear, you never looked lovelier in your life, Alice enthused.

Laurel hugged her.

"Where did you two go? Everybody is dying to know?"

"It's a secret, but I'll tell you. Noble has a perfectly adorable lodge down on Crystal Lake. We stayed down there until yesterday when Noble had to return to the city because of business affairs. It will be several days before we are able to go away."

"I don't believe I've seen that dress before." She referred to a separate skirt and blouse of chiffon in a sort of sports mode for afternoon wear.

"Don't you like the way the jumper ties snugly about the hips? She pivoted. "See how the back and front of the skirt are separate panels.' She pulled back one of the loose panels and revealed a lace underslip dyed to match.

"You have the most wonderful trousseau! If it were mine, I couldn't go to bed at night without going over it and trying on every piece. I just loce those little nighties of yours."

"Alice, Noble doesn't like that gown you thought was so marvelous. I wore it for dinner last night, and he called it TACKY.' Her lip quivered.

Alice hesitated before answering. "I'd rather not, Laurel, that is, too often. People wil say I'm running after you because you married Noble Harwood.

"Why, Alice½"

"I could see how the neighbors looked when they saw your car drive up for me today." the visitor went on.

"Don't be ridiculous, dear."

"I must be going now, and don't send me home in the car," Alice arose in her bluntly typical way.

"Do stay for tea."

"No, I must do some shopping before the stores close.'

"Alice Kenwick, I'm going to—to spank you if you don't get those silly ideas out of your head." They kissed each other an affectionate good-bye.

NEWS FROM TOWNS IN TRI-STATE DISTRICT

LISBON

M. K. Zimerman, West Park Ave. Phone 318-R. Lisbon, O.

AID IS SOUGHT UNDER NEW LAW

Township Trustees File Application for Road Funds.

A uniform application is being designed by Prosecuting Attorney Robert M. Brookes and County Surveyor Lloyd C. Kirk for the purpose of obtaining financial aid under the Green law for township road construction. These forms are expected to be ready for distribution among the 18 different boards of township trustees within the next few days.

Many township boards have been soliciting the aid of Surveyor Kirk with this end in view, but because no uniform application has been available, no assistance could be given by the surveyor's office until the forms could be worked out. The forms will be mailed the clerk of each board, and they are expected to be ready in time for the first December meeting of each board. The latter will then return the forms to Mr. Kirk, so that all applications will have been forwarded by Mr. Kirk before the close of the year. By this plan, the applications for financial road aid under this law will be made as of 1925.

The uniform application blanks will designate the number of road that it is proposed to be improved, its length, the type of road construction proposed and all other necessary data, together with the designation of what roads will be connected by the road it is proposed to be improved.

"There is no use in making application for this financial aid under the Green law until a regular form has been prepared," Surveyor Kirk announced today. "It is better to go a little slow at the beginning, and be right, than to show some speed and then suffer a long delay at the Columbus end. Township trustees have filed with our office and also with the county commissioners the road that is most necessary to improve first. Then a second and third choice has also been marked on the county road map, and these roads are shown in their relative importance to connect other parts of townships with improved highways in those townships.

"With the financial aid available under the Green law, we expect to be able to do more road improving in the county during 1926 than ever before. The machinery is in working motion, and because of the passage of the $950,000 bond issue, coupled with aid available through the Green law and from other county sources, it now seems certain that the county will have more improved highways by the close of 1926 than we ever expected."

Both are exceptional strong teams, and each have won the majority of the games they have played this season. Before the close of the season, the United Cigars are anxious to arrange games with semi-professional teams at both East Liverpool and Wellsville.

Motion Overruled.

In the $10,035 damage case tried in common pleas court No. 2 before Judge John B. Worley last week of John McIntosh against Margaret Pitts, a motion was heard by the court to set aside the verdict which was for the defendant and also a motion to grant a new trial.

The court overruled both motions, and a judgment on the verdict in favor of the defendant for his costs has been made a matter of record.

Given Judgment.

Judgment for $300 has been rendered by a jury in the case of E. E. McCartney, who sought $600 damages for the sale of a locomotive boiler to the Citizens Ice Corporation. The action was filed May 19, 1924. The defendants refused to pay the $600 claimed by the plaintiff, and it was upon this refusal that the court action was based. The jury was out but a short time before the verdict was returned, the claim being cut in half.

Judgment Rendered.

No motion for a new trial having been filed according to law in the case of Beryl L. Woods of East Liverpool against the Pennsylvania Railroad company, which was an action for $10,000 damages, Judge John G. Worley has rendered judgment on the verdict which was for thedefendant company and for its costs.

Divorce Granted.

A decree of divorce has been granted by Judge James G. Moore to Alice O. Waldron of Salem against her husband, Charles H. Waldron. In the original petition filed by this plaintiff, extreme cruelty was set up, and it was upon this ground that the decree was handed down. Mrs. Waldron has been restored to her maiden name, that of Alice O. Roman.

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Easily and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using the well-known old recipe for making cough syrup at home. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, pour it into a pint bottle and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its healing effect on the membranes.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

This Nurse Just Couldn't Stop Coughing

SPECIALISTS DIDN'T HELP

It takes more than ordinary sweet, syrupy cough mixtures to stop a stubborn enough that persists in hanging on.

For slight ordinary coughs almost any decent cough syrup will do, but if you have one of those tough ones that won't yield to common remedies and often keeps you awake at night then your one best bet is Bronchuline Emulsion.

Often one half bottle forces the most stubborn coughs to yield and you are better almost before you know it.

There is no sugar, chloroform or dope in Bronchuline Emulsion; it's a wonderful medicine for people who are getting over a heavy cold or an attack of Flu.

A New York nurse just couldn't stop coughing even after consulting specialists yet one half bottle of Bronchuline Emulsion did stop it—completely.

Ask Carnahan's Drug Stores, Jesse D. Holloway or any good dealer, for a bottle—often three or four doses will stop an ordinary cough.

Township Trustees File Application for Road Funds.

A uniform application is being designed by Prosecuting Attorney Robert M. Brookes and County Surveyor Lloyd C. Kirk for the purpose of obtaining financial aid under the Green law for township road construction. These forms are expected to be ready for distribution among the 18 different boards of township trustees within the next few days.

Many township boards have been soliciting the aid of Surveyor Kirk with this end in view, but because no uniform application has been available, no assistance could be given by the surveyor's office until the forms could be worked out. The forms will be mailed the clerk of each board, and they are expected to be ready in time for the first December meeting of each board. The latter will then return the forms to Mr. Kirk, so that all applications will have been forwarded by Mr. Kirk before the close of the year. By this plan, the applications for financial road aid under this law will be made as of 1925.

The uniform application blanks will designate the number of road that it is proposed to be improved, its length, the type of road construction proposed and all other necessary data, together with the designation of what roads will be connected by the road it is proposed to be improved.

"There is no use in making application for this financial aid under the Green law until a regular form has been prepared," Surveyor Kirk announced today. "It is better to go a little slow at the beginning, and be right, than to show some speed and then suffer a long delay at the Columbus end. Township trustees have filed with our office and also with the county commissioners the road that is most necessary to improve first. Then a second and third choice has also been marked on the county road map, and these roads are shown in their relative importance to connect other parts of townships with improved highways in those townships.

"With the financial aid available under the Green law, we expect to be able to do more road improving in the county during 1926 than ever before. The machinery is in working motion, and because of the passage of the $950,000 bond issue, coupled with aid available through the Green law and from other county sources, it now seems certain that the county will have more improved highways by the close of 1926 than we ever expected."

Motion Overruled.

In the $10,035 damage case tried in common pleas court No. 2 before Judge John B. Worley last week of John McIntosh against Margaret Pitts, a motion was heard by the court to set aside the verdict which was for the defendant and also a motion to grant a new trial.

The court overruled both motions, and a judgment on the verdict in favor of the defendant for his costs has been made a matter of record.

Given Judgment.

Judgment for $300 has been rendered by a jury in the case of E. E. McCartney, who sought $600 damages for the sale of a locomotive boiler to the Citizens Ice Corporation. The action was filed May 19, 1924. The defendants refused to pay the $600 claimed by the plaintiff, and it was upon this refusal that the court action was based. The jury was out but a short time before the verdict was returned, the claim being cut in half.

Judgment Rendered.

No motion for a new trial having been filed according to law in the case of Beryl L. Woods of East Liverpool against the Pennsylvania Railroad company, which was an action for $10,000 damages, Judge John G. Worley has rendered judgment on the verdict which was for thedefendant company and for its costs.

Divorce Granted.

A decree of divorce has been granted by Judge James G. Moore to Alice O. Waldron of Salem against her husband, Charles H. Waldron. This Nurse Just Couldn't Stop Coughing

SPECIALISTS DIDN'T HELP

It takes more than ordinary sweet, syrupy cough mixtures to stop a stubborn enough that persists in hanging on.

For slight ordinary coughs almost any decent cough syrup will do, but if you have one of those tough ones that won't yield to common remedies and often keeps you awake at night then your one best bet is Bronchuline Emulsion.

Often one half bottle forces the most stubborn coughs to yield and you are better almost before you know it.

There is no sugar, chloroform or dope in Bronchuline Emulsion; it's a wonderful medicine for people wha are getting over a heavy cold or an attack of Flu.

A New York nurse just couldn't stop coughing even after consulting specialists yet one half bottle of Bronchuline Emulsion did stop it—completely.

Ask Carnahan's Drug Stores, Jesse D. Holloway or any good dealer, for a bottle—often three or four doses will stop an ordinary cough.

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Easily and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using the well-known old recipe for making cough syrup at home. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, pour it into a pint bottle and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its healing effect on the membranes.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

GIRL FATALLY BURNED; SHOCK KILLS WOMAN

Double Funeral Planned for Grandmother and Child.

DRESS IGNITES

Inseparable Companions Will go to Grave Together.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 25.—Mrs. Margaret Shireman, 67, and her granddaughter, Mary Lou Lemon, 13, were dead today. The little girl of burns received yesterday afternoon, when her clothes caught fire from an open gas fire in the Lemon living room, while her grandmother died within five minutes of receiving news of the fatal outcome of the girl's ijuries.

Both died last night:

Almost inseparable companions, a double funeral was being planned by the family, so that even in death they might not be apart.

Mrs. Shireman was reading to her granddaughter yesterday afternoon. As she finished the story, her granddaughter rose to put it away. Her dress got to near the gas fire and in a moment she was a sheet of flame.

Mrs. Shireman attempted to put out the flames with a sweater, then rolled her granddaughter in a rug. However, the burns were too serious, and death occurred a few hours later at the hospital where she was taken.

The woman died of shock, according to physicians.

Mary Lou, when five years old, lost her voice, following an attack of diphtheria. Her education had been in the hands of her grandmother.

There is a rich deposit still in the hearts of the American people. It is the most potent and priceless of the forces resident in the nation. Let the deep piety which hallowed the Pilgrims, out of which welled up their pure and holy Thanksgiving be revived, cherished and increased, until it leavens the whole mass of our people. False thrills have yearly ruined us of late; our nation needs a genuine thrill of old-time piety and love of Almighty God.

Council will be advised by letter of the board's action.

The trustees' action means that council must take immediate steps toward providing other quarters, probably on the second floor of the city hall building, Third and Market streets, for the municipal court.

Several hundred dollars will be necessary to place the structure in a make-shift shape for the new court, councilmen declare. Steps may be taken early in the new year to arouse interest in a movement for a new city hall, fire station, court quarters, offices for city officials and a public auditorium, all under one roof, but in the meantime the court probably will be compelled to operate in its cramped quarters in the dilapidated city building.

MOTHER-IN-LAW AT KIP TRIAL

Mrs. Jones Testifies Rhinelander Said he "Loved" Alice.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Nov. 25.—Leonard Kip Rhinelander went to the mother of his quadroon bride, Alice Beatrice Jones, and asked Mrs. Jones to keep the marriage a secret. Then when the published stories that his bride was the daughter of a negro reached his ears, young Rhinelander declared to his mother-in-law.

"Never mind. I married the girl I loved and I don't care."

This was the testimony of Mrs. George Jones, white-haired mother of Alice, given today at the trial of the Rhinelander marriage annulment suit which charges Alice with concealing her color from her husband. Mrs. Jones, who testified she was "pure white," gave her testimony in a timid tremulous tone.

Under cross-examination, Mrs. Jones burst into tears as counsel for Rhinelander forced her to admit she had brought a child named "Ethel" to America. She admitted between sobs that she was the mother of the child but refused to tell who was its father.

Foulks is organizing the state for this work, leaders having been named in several counties. Every child in need of assistance is to be listed.

No Overlapping of Relief.

The Legion's work among children will not interfere with similar plans of other organizations. There will be no overlapping of relief activities, Gorby explained.

Although a resident of Illinois, Gorby is a native of Ohio, having been born at Hiramsburg, Noble county, near the scene of the dirigible Shenandoah wreck last August. During the war he served as a captain and organized five companies of infantry in the Illinois reserve. He was field secretary for New York in the Legion's endowment fund campaign when he was appointed national director of the children's welfare division by Commander James Drain.

He left here today for his home in Evanston, where he will spend Thanksgiving Day with his family.

$70,000 Estimated Damage as Steamer Overturns in River

CHARLEROI, Pa., Nov. 25.—While efforts were being made today to salvage the river steamer Titan, engaged in towing coal barges for the Jones and Laughlin Steel company, of Pittsburgh, it was estimated today that the loss from the steamer overturning in the Monongahela river would amount to $70,000.

The Titan had no barges in tow when it overturned. All members of the crew, headed by Captain Harvey Jones, escaped without injury.

When the accident occurred the steamer was near the shore taking on fuel for its own consumption. Its collapse was attributed to overloading it with coal, small weight of which was not properly distributed.

Just prior to the accident the Titan had cut loose six coal barges to allow it to proceed near the shore for coal.

FIGHT NEAR END

Claims Chief Ignored Aerial Bombing Recommendations.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—With the end of his defense in sight, Colonel William Mitchell today laid before his jury of generals a mass of official documents to support his charges that the war department has ignored the development of American aviation as a part of the national defense.

Mitchell produced records to show the department ignored recommendations time after time for the improvement of aerial bombing, the development of airships as airplane carriers, and the use of the latest inventions in aerial warfare. As a result, Mitchell contended, the national defense was weakened and America lagged far behind foreign nations in the strength of her air force.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—The war department today denied a request of Colonel William Mitchell to visit his baby daughter in Detroit during the Thanksgiving recess of his court-martial.

"Disapproved," was written across Mitchell's request by Major General Samuel Rockenback, commandant of the Washington army area.

Mitchell told the department he would return promptly for the reconvening of the trial.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Another effort will be made by the Shenandoah court of inquiry to force the appearance of Col. William Mitchell to testify regarding his charges that the navy was "criminally negligent" in sending the dirigible on its ill-fated flight to the middle west.

This was indicated today when the court adjourned indefinitely to await the outcome of Mitchell's court-martial.

Mitchell previously refused to testify before the navy tribunal on the grounds he already was facing charges by the army.

The vessel was simply "going to sea," according to its officers.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Tuesday's closing rally in stocks under selling pressure was continued in the early trading today, with most of active motor, oil, rail and industrial stocks in moderately higher price ground. United States Steel led a vigorous movement in the industrials and reached 129¾, compared with yesterday's low price of 126¾. American Can, General Motors, Chrysler, New York Central and other speculative leaders sold from 1 to 5 points above the previous close. Public utility and equipment stocks regained most of their losses.

Outside trading was restricted by the imminence of the Thanksgiving holiday tomorrow, and the ever-recurring weekly problem of the reserve bank rediscount rate, the directors of the bank having announced their decision to meet at the close of the market today.

Summarizing their condition resulting from the bearish operations in the last two weeks, the brokerage houses reported a heavy decrease in their speculative loan accounts, showing that considerable liquidation had taken place, particularly in the motors. Other houses reported an increase in their loans on railroad stocks, which it is believed were largely substituted for the motors. There was little change in the situation in the oil and copper stocks. Short covering furnished the principal incentive for the purchasing of motor and industrial stocks, and the market as a whole was dull.

Chrysler motor sold up 6 points at 177¼ on reports that the dividend rate on the new capitalization would be $4 a share annually. Norfolk and Western was a leader in the railroad list, and sold around 150 on reports that the Pennsylvania railroad would consolidate the road with its main line, giving three shares of Pennsylvania stock for one of Norfolk. Pittsburgh and West Virginia, on a small turnover, spurted 9 points to 115. Atchison, New York Central and other dividend rails sold about a point higher, and Baldwin Locomotive advanced steadily to 125¾, up 2¾.

European selling of the French franc before the opening of the American markets resulted in a sharp decline in French currency to a new low for the year. Call money was in good supply at 4½ per cent.

Bomb Is Dropped In Capital City Police Headquarters

Panic Results as Man Shouts, "Here's Present for You," And Then Escapes—Fails to Explode.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Police authorities here today were thrown into a panic when an unidentified white man rushed into the squad room and threw what appeared to be a bomb on the floor amid an astonished group of officers.

"Here's a present for you," shouted the man as he dashed from the room.

In the confusion the man escaped. The missle failed to explode.

A hurried examination of the object revealed it was filled with nitro-cellulose, according to the officers, and there was sufficient explosive to have blown up the building had it worked.

The bomb apparently failed to go off, officers said, because it had not been dropped with sufficient force to operate the contact device.

GIRL FATALLY BURNED; SHOCK KILLS WOMAN

Double Funeral Planned for Grandmother and Child.

DRESS IGNITES

Inseparable Companions Will go to Grave Together.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 25.—Mrs. Margaret Shireman, 67, and her granddaughter, Mary Lou Lemon, 13, were dead today. The little girl of burns received yesterday afternoon, when her clothes caught fire from an open gas fire in the Lemon living room, while her grandmother died within five minutes of receiving news of the fatal outcome of the girl's ijuries.

Both died last night:

Almost inseparable companions, a double funeral was being planned by the family, so that even in death they might not be apart.

Mrs. Shireman was reading to her granddaughter yesterday afternoon. As she finished the story, her granddaughter rose to put it away. Her dress got to near the gas fire and in a moment she was a sheet of flame.

Mrs. Shireman attempted to put out the flames with a sweater, then rolled her granddaughter in a rug. However, the burns were too serious, and death occurred a few hours later at the hospital where she was taken.

The woman died of shock, according to physicians.

Mary Lou, when five years old, lost her voice, following an attack of diphtheria. Her education had been in the hands of her grandmother.

There is a rich deposit still in the hearts of the American people. It is the most potent and priceless of the forces resident in the nation. Let the deep piety which hallowed the Pilgrims, out of which welled up their pure and holy Thanksgiving be revived, cherished and increased, until it leavens the whole mass of our people. False thrills have yearly ruined us of late; our nation needs a genuine thrill of old-time piety and love of Almighty God.

Council will be advised by letter of the board's action.

The trustees' action means that council must take immediate steps toward providing other quarters, probably on the second floor of the city hall building, Third and Market streets, for the municipal court.

Several hundred dollars will be necessary to place the structure in a make-shift shape for the new court, councilmen declare. Steps may be taken early in the new year to arouse interest in a movement for a new city hall, fire station, court quarters, offices for city officials and a public auditorium, all under one roof, but in the meantime the court probably will be compelled to operate in its cramped quarters in the dilapidated city building.

MOTHER-IN-LAW AT KIP TRIAL

Mrs. Jones Testifies Rhinelander Said he "Loved" Alice.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Nov. 25.—Leonard Kip Rhinelander went to the mother of his quadroon bride, Alice Beatrice Jones, and asked Mrs. Jones to keep the marriage a secret. Then when the published stories that his bride was the daughter of a negro reached his ears, young Rhinelander declared to his mother-in-law.

"Never mind. I married the girl I loved and I don't care."

This was the testimony of Mrs. George Jones, white-haired mother of Alice, given today at the trial of the Rhinelander marriage annulment suit which charges Alice with concealing her color from her husband. Mrs. Jones, who testified she was "pure white," gave her testimony in a timid tremulous tone.

Under cross-examination, Mrs. Jones burst into tears as counsel for Rhinelander forced her to admit she had brought a child named "Ethel" to America. She admitted between sobs that she was the mother of the child but refused to tell who was its father.

Dr. McDade Injured When Auto Plunges Over Embankment

Dr. W. G. McDade, Mulberry street physician, sustained an injury to his right arm at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon when his automobile went over a steep embankment opposite the Neville Institute school, Elizabeth street.

The physician, answering a call to Klondyke, met a westbound Main line street car just as he rounded the curve off Pennsylvania avenue onto Elizabeth street. In an effort to avert a collision with the street car he swerved his automobile to the right and the machine plunged down the declivity.

The car turned over and crashed into the side of a shed at the foot of the hill. The physician was taken to the City hospital where his injury was dressed. The automobile was badly damaged.

auxiliary and the other from the Society of Forty and Eight, an organization of Legion members.

Foulks is organizing the state for this work, leaders having been named in several counties. Every child in need of assistance is to be listed.

No Overlapping of Relief.

The Legion's work among children will not interfere with similar plans of other organizations. There will be no overlapping of relief activities, Gorby explained.

Although a resident of Illinois, Gorby is a native of Ohio, having been born at Hiramsburg, Noble county, near the scene of the dirigible Shenandoah wreck last August. During the war he served as a captain and organized five companies of infantry in the Illinois reserve. He was field secretary for New York in the Legion's endowment fund campaign when he was appointed national director of the children's welfare division by Commander James Drain.

He left here today for his home in Evanston, where he will spend Thanksgiving Day with his family.

$70,000 Estimated Damage as Steamer Overturns in River

CHARLEROI, Pa., Nov. 25.—While efforts were being made today to salvage the river steamer Titan, engaged in towing coal barges for the Jones and Laughlin Steel company, of Pittsburgh, it was estimated today that the loss from the steamer overturning in the Monongahela river would amount to $70,000.

The Titan had no barges in tow when it overturned. All members of the crew, headed by Captain Harvey Jones, escaped without injury.

When the accident occurred the steamer was near the shore taking on fuel for its own consumption. Its collapse was attributed to overloading with coal, small weight of which was not properly distributed.

Just prior to the accident the Titan cut loose six coal barges to allow it to proceed near the shore for coal.

Claims Chief Ignored Aerial Bombing Recommendations.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—With the end of his defense in sight, Colonel William Mitchell today laid before his jury of generals a mass of official documents to support his charges that the war department has ignored the development of American aviation as a part of the national defense.

Mitchell produced records to show the department ignored recommendations time after time for the improvement of aerial bombing, the development of airships as airplane carriers, and the use of the latest inventions in aerial warfare. As a result, Mitchell contended, the national defense was weakened and America lagged far behind foreign nations in the strength of her air force.

"Disapproved," was written across Mitchell's request by Major General Samuel Rockenback, commandant of the Washington army area.

Mitchell told the department he would return promptly for the reconvening of the trial.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Another effort will be made by the Shenandoah court of inquiry to force the appearance of Col. William Mitchell to testify regarding his charges that the navy was "criminally negligent" in sending the dirigible on its ill-fated flight to the middle west.

This was indicated today when the court adjourned indefinitely to await the outcome of Mitchell's court-martial

Mitchell previously refused to testify before the navy tribunal on the grounds he already was facing charges by the army.

Public utility and equipment stocks regained most of their losses.

Outside trading was restricted by the imminence of the Thanksgiving holiday tomorrow, and the ever-recurring weekly problem of the reserve bank rediscount rate, the directors of the bank having announced their decision to meet at the close of the market today.

Summarizing their condition resulting from the bearish operations in the last two weeks, the brokerage houses reported a heavy decrease in their speculative loan accounts, showing that considerable liquidation had taken place, particularly in the motors. Other houses reported an increase in their loans on railroad stocks, which it is believed were largely substituted for the motors. There was little change in the situation in the oil and copper stocks. Short covering furnished the principal incentive for the purchasing of motor and industrial stocks, and the market as a whole was dull.

Chrysler motor sold up 6 points at 177½ on reports that the dividend rate on the new capitalization would be $4 a share annually. Norfolk and Western was a leader in the railroad list, and sold around 150 on reports that the Pennsylvania railroad would consolidate the road with its main line, giving three shares of Pennsylvania stock for one of Norfolk. Pittsburgh and West Virginia, on a small turnover, spurted 9 points to 115. Atchison, New York Central and other dividend rails sold about a point higher, and Baldwin Locomotive advanced steadily to 125⅝, up 2¾.

European selling of the French franc before the opening of the American markets resulted in a sharp decline in French currency to a new low for the year. Call money was in good supply at 4½ per cent.

Bomb Is Dropped In Capital City Police Headquarters

Panic Results as Man Shouts, "Here's Present for You," And Then Escapes—Fails to Explode.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Police authorities here today were thrown into a panic when an unidentified white man rushed into the squad room and threw what appeared to be a bomb on the floor amid an astonished group of officers.

"Here's a present for you," shouted the man as he dashed from the room.

In the confusion the man escaped. The missle failed to explode.

A hurried examination of the object revealed it was filled with nitro-cellulose, according to the officers, and there was sufficient explosive to have blown up the building had it worked.

The bomb apparently failed to go off, officers said, because it had not been dropped with sufficient force to operate the contact device.

Music Teachers Will Hold Annual Session Next Month in Dayton

DAYTON, O.—Approximately $220,000,000 annually, or four times as much as is spent for all the public schools in the country, is spent for musical education in the United States, according to Dr. Max Schoen, professor of psychology, Carnegie Institute of Technology, Pittsburgh, Pa., who is to address the Music Teachers' National association convention here December 28-30.

A large portion of the sum spent for music education is wasted in the opinion of Dr. Schoen. "The most recent investigations tend to show that not one-half of the persons in a given community who have a high order of musical talent are discovered and given a fair chance of musical education," he says.

Other musicians and speakers of national note are to appear at the convention.

Resident of Pennsylvania Declares Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup Overcame Rheumatism of Five Year's Standing When All Else Had Failed

Following numerous most astonishing reports regarding the usual value of Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup in restoring health and strength to the weak and ailing, comes a remarkable statement from Miss Emily Baldwin, of 1534 Broad St., South Greensburg, Pa.

Miss Baldwin declares that this celebrated prescription ended an agonizing case of rheumatism that had resisted all other treatments for five long years and adds that, in her opinion, there is nothing to compare with this medicine.

With such statements as these, coming from people who have no interest in making them other than to benefit fellow sufferers, it is easy to understand why Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup is rapidly becoming a sensation.

Miss Baldwin makes no extravagant claims, but simply tells in a straightforward manner of her suffering and the relief she has secured. Her complete statement follows:

"I just can't express my gratitude for the wonderful relief Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup has brought me," declares Miss Baldwin. "All my awful rheumatic pains are going after taking only two bottles and I am feeling so well and happy, it seems too good to be true.

"The fact is, I was in the clutches of this wretched rheumatism for five long years and although I tried treatment after treatment, I just seemed to always be getting worse instead of better, until I began taking Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup.

"Any change in the weather, even, would put me in the bed suffering something awful, and at night I felt so miserable and was in such pain that it was impossible for me to sleep much of the time. Then in the morning I was so tired and exhausted that I just dreaded another day. I tell you I know what it is to suffer.

"This went on, as I said, for five years and then I saw where Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup was recommended for rheumatism and so I decided to try it, not believing, however, that it would help me much. Just imagine my delight when, after taking two bottles, I was able to be up and about.

"I didn't stop taking this grand medicine then, though, but kept it up, and now I am doing all my own housework and feeling simply fine. I would certainly advise everybody who is suffering like I was to get some of this wonderful Liver and Blood Syrup."

The fame of Dr. Thacher's prescription is spreading like wildfire and people suffering from the many troubles caused by improper working of the liver, stomach and bowels and those who are simply in need of a general tonic to build them up are flocking to the drug stores to get a supply of this much talked of medicine.

All good druggists are selling it with the distinct understanding that if Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup does not bring relief their money will be returned to them.

Resident of Pennsylvania Declares Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup Overcame Rheumatism of Five Year's Standing When All Else Had Failed

Following numerous most astonishing reports regarding the usual value of Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup in restoring health and strength to the weak and ailing, comes a remarkable statement from Miss Emily Baldwin, of 1534 Broad St., South Greensburg, Pa.

Miss Baldwin declares that this celebrated prescription ended an agonizing case of rheumatism that had resisted all other treatments for five long years and adds that, in her opinion, there is nothing to compare with this medicine.

With such statements as these, coming from people who have no interest in making them other than to benefit fellow sufferers, it is easy to understand why Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup is rapidly becoming a sensation.

Miss Baldwin makes no extravagant claims, but simply tells in a straightforward manner of her suffering and the relief she has secured. Her complete statement follows:

"I just can't express my gratitude for the wonderful relief Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup has brought me," declares Miss Baldwin. "All my awful rheumatic pains are going after taking only two bottles and I am feeling so well and happy, it seems too good to be true.

"The fact is, I was in the clutches of this wretched rheumatism for five long years and although I tried treatment after treatment, I just seemed to always be getting worse instead of better, until I began taking Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup.

"Any change in the weather, even, would put me in the bed suffering something awful, and at night I felt so miserable and was in such pain that it was impossible for me to sleep much of the time. Then in the morning I was so tired and exhausted that I just dreaded another day. I tell you I know what it is to suffer.

"This went on, as I said, for five years and then I saw where Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup was recommended for rheumatism and so I decided to try it, not believing, however, that it would help me much. Just imagine my delight when, after taking two bottles, I was able to be up and about.

"I didn't stop taking this grand medicine then, though, but kept it up, and now I am doing all my own housework and feeling simply fine. I would certainly advise everybody who is suffering like I was to get some of this wonderful Liver and Blood Syrup."

The fame of Dr. Thacher's prescription is spreading like wildfire and people suffering from the many troubles caused by improper working of the liver, stomach and bowels and those who are simply in need of a general tonic to build them up are flocking to the drug stores to get a supply of this much talked of medicine.

All good druggists are selling it with the distinct understanding that if Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup does not bring relief their money will be returned to them.

Romance Revealed In Making Western Drama Booked Here

The motion picture is the greatest purveyor of romance known to man. No other medium of entertainment reaches so many millions of people.

Often the making of a motion picture is a romance in itself.

Such was the case with "The Scarlet West," the First National picture which is coming to the American theatre next Monday. The making of this feature by Producer Frank J. Carroll and Director John Adolphi is an extremely interesting story. Had Messrs. Carroll and Adolphi known the obstacles and vicissitudes which they were to encounter this epic of the West might never have reached the screen.

However, all is now past history, and it is sufficient that another masterpiece of the cinematic art is delighting audiences everywhere.

The investing public has absorbed approximately $1,000,000,000 worth of federal land bank bonds.

Since 1921 the factories in California, most of which are driven by electric power, have increased 72 per cent.

Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands has been reigning since 1890.

HEAVY DEATH TOLL IN MINES

Lambie's Report Shows 54 Killed in State Last Month.

Fifty-four employes of West Virginia mines were killed in October, two more than in the previous month, according to the report of R. M. Lambie, head of the department of mines, made public yesterday. All but two of these fatalities were inside the mines. Falls of roof and coal caused half the deaths, or the same number ascribed to that cause in September.

Again McDowell heads the list of 15 counties in which fatalities were reported, with 13 deaths, or two more than the September number. In Fayette there were eight, Raleigh seven, Logan five, Ohio four, Kanawha three, two each in Greenbrier, Marion, Mercer, Monongalia and Wyoming, and one each in Boone, Clay, Harrison and Mingo.

"During the month of October the estimated production of coal for West Virginia reached the enormous amount of 13,237,000 tons," Mr. Lambie points out in a letter issued in connection with his monthly report and addressed to operators and their employes.

In this communication he calls attention to the increased hazards from the freezing up of shafts, drifts and slopes. "Ice should be removed from sidewalls and guides before the men are permitted to be lowered or hoisted," he cautions. "Safety catches should be carefully examined to see that they are functioning properly."

Coal dust explosions may be reduced or averted by holding to the minimum the amount of dry pulverized coal. Watering will not suffice unless there is sufficient water content to make the dust adhere when pressed in the hand. All shots should be examined "before they are fired to see that they are properly placed and tamped," he adds. Fire bosses must see to it that airways and gobs are free from obstructions, and that there are no accumulations of gas.

HEAVY DEATH TOLL IN MINES

Lambie's Report Shows 54 Killed in State Last Month.

Fifty-four employes of West Virginia mines were killed in October, two more than in the previous month, according to the report of R. M. Lambie, head of the department of mines, made public yesterday. All but two of these fatalities were inside the mines. Falls of roof and coal caused half the deaths, or the same number ascribed to that cause in September.

Again McDowell heads the list of 15 counties in which fatalities were reported, with 13 deaths, or two more than the September number. In Fayette there were eight, Raleigh seven, Logan five, Ohio four, Kanawha three, two each in Greenbrier, Marion, Mercer, Monongalia and Wyoming, and one each in Boone, Clay, Harrison and Mingo.

"During the month of October the estimated production of coal for West Virginia reached the enormous amount of 13,237,000 tons," Mr. Lambie points out in a letter issued in connection with his monthly report and addressed to operators and their employes.

In this communication he calls attention to the increased hazards from the freezing up of shafts, drifts and slopes. "Ice should be removed from sidewalls and guides before the men are permitted to be lowered or hoisted," he cautions. "Safety catches should be carefully examined to see that they are functioning properly."

Coal dust explosions may be reduced or averted by holding to the minimum the amount of dry pulverized coal. Watering will not suffice unless there is sufficient water content to make the dust adhere when pressed in the hand. All shots should be examined "before they are fired to see that they are properly placed and tamped," he adds. Fire bosses must see to it that airways and gobs are free from obstructions, and that there are no accumulations of gas.

Highs Finish Campaign With Cleveland Team Tomorrow

WEIGHT AVERAGES GIVE LOCALS POUND MARGIN

Captain Woods, Quarterback, and Halfback Hallett, Adepts at Open Field Running, Will be Visitors' Most Potent Scoring Threats; Former Leads Cleveland Point Makers.

THE scholastic football champions of Columbiana county for the season of 1925 will go into action tomorrow afternoon at Patterson Field against the strong John Marshall Greater Cleveland conference eleven, in their final battle of the year.

In excellent physical trim as a result of their rest of a week and a half, the Blue and White of East Liverpool high school will leave no cleat unturned in their efforts to make it their seventh consecutive victory of the campaign.

Coach O. V. Boone will send a fairly heavy, fast charging line and a comparatively light backfield, against the Fifth City scholastics, and will be met, in turn, by one of the best balanced elevens that the locals have run into this season.

The Marshall combine will send two 135 pound ends scampering down the field, a pair of tackles weighing 152 and 151 pounds, respectively, and a couple of guards who tip the beam at 168 and 170, with a center weighing in at 156.

Their backfield is exceptionally well balanced with a 143 pound quarterback, halves weighing 144 and 148 and a 156 pound fullback.

The Blue and White outweighs Marshall on the line, but gives away poundage in the backfield.

The Boone forward line will average 157 and the visitors 154. The local backfield shows a weight average of 143 as compared with Marshall's 148. And the 11-man average of each team shows: Marshall, 151; East Liverpool, 152.

HOW GRID FOES STACK UP IN WEIGHT

John Marshall			E. L. H. S.
Hulka	135	L. E.	Perry	142
Holliday	152	L. T.	Bough	172
James	168	L. G.	Banks	156
Mathei	156	Center	Larkins	150
Riskey	170	R. G.	Smith	171
Sweeney	151	R. T.	Hanes	175
Duffy	140	R. E.	E. English	139
Woods (C)	143	Q.	Schaffer	141
Hallett	144	L. H.	Riebel	138
Reddish	148	R. H.	Heddleston	138
Scheff	156	F	P. English (C)	154

In all around team weight, therefore, a more evenly matched pair of squads could not be possible unless either Tackle Bough or Tackle Hanes forgets to eat lunch tomorrow at noon and loses a pound before game time.

East Liverpool's biggest backfield threat is Captain Paul English. The visitors will have two in Captain Woods, quarterback, who, by the way, is leading all Fifth City teams in point making thus far this season, and Halfback Hallett, who can run a broken field as well as any scholastic star in the district.

High school's problem will be to keep both Woods and Hallett penned in, for once they get into the open, it is something of a task to head them off. Both are fleet and tricky.

A large measure of responsibility will devolve upon the shoulders of Ends Elmer English and Perry, in this respect, for both Woods and Hallett will find the going rough and extremely uncertain once they are turned into the territory in which Bough, Hanes, Banks and Larkins cavort.

Marshall knows a varied assortment of plays, and Quarterback Woods uses them, too. They are well groomed in the use of the forward pass. Consequently, if Patterson Field is in any kind of condition tomorrow afternoon, the visitors can be depended upon to produce some flashy football.

The Marshall squad, comprising 23 players, coaches and officials, will reach here probably at noon, and will rest for a short time before going to Patterson Field.

Following the game they will be guests at dinner at Larkin's restaurant annex, in company with East Liverpool players and fans.

The game is scheduled to start at 2:30 o'clock.

RING REFORM POSSIBLE

THREE STATES ABLE TO HELP GAME

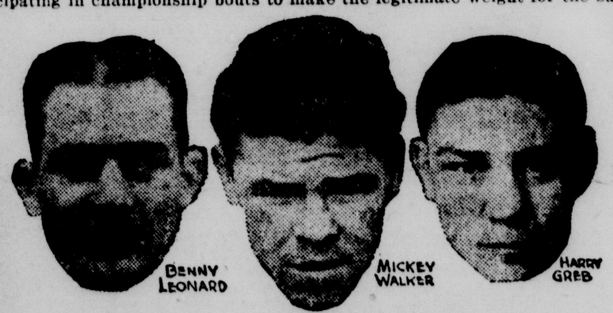
Boxing commissions of three states have it within their power to formulate and direct a general reform in boxing, meaning:

To force champions to fight in defense of their titles or abdicate officially and seriously; force champions to fight under reasonable conditions when they do perform; and force promoters and managers to accept such reasonable terms and will bring admission prices down within the range of the average fans pocketbook.

The three states referred to are New York, New Jersey and California.

They are the three leading ones in which boxing is legalized and therefor under open supervision.

Thy have already placed their shoulders to the wheel by taking united action along one line—that of passing a rule which forces all champions participating in championship bouts to make the legitimate weight for the battle.



New York adopted such a rule when the boxing commission, as it now operates, was formed. California, when it legalized boxing a year or so ago, injected the same rule into its regulations.

And New Jersey's commission joined the two by enacting such legislation in time to force Mickey Walker to make the welterweight limit for his bout with Friedman.

This weight rule, if eventually enforced nationally, would automatically force champions to fight frequently to keep their weight, enter a higher class, as a contender, or retire.

Benny Leonard would have been forced to forego the pastime of fiddling with lightweight hopefuls some years ago had this rule then been enforced. Harry Greb would not have fared as well as he has, perhaps, had he been forced to hold to the middleweight limit of 160 pound in his important fights.

These state bodies could help most by first forcing down the exorbitant demands of managers and ending the high financing by promoters. Cheaper admission prices would bring back to the game the fans who made boxing the popular sport and who go to fights for the thrill of the sport—not for the thrill of paying from $15 to $50 for a seat—and telling the gaping multitude about it afterwards.

PLAN EXHIBITION COURT CONTEST

Stars of the Sunday School basketball league will clash in a special exhibition match on December 3 at either the Y. M. C. A. or the St. Stephen's floor.

The object of the contest is to raise funds for league use.

The two teams have been christened the Coal Diggers and the Ice Men. The lineups follow:

Ice Men—Mackay, Methodist Protestants, F; Kenney St. Stephen's, F.; Reese, Christians, C; R. Cox, C. Presbyterians, G; Kibble, Lutherans, G.

Coal Diggers—E. English, Presbyterians, F; Kimes, Lutherans, F; Kirkham, Pk. Boulevards, C; Heddleston, Christians, G; Carns, Methodist Episcopal, G.

Reserves — Ice Men—G. Mackey, Baptists, F; Wallace, Christians, C; Shenkle, U. P. guard. Coal Diggers—Bromby, M. E., F; Todd, M. P., C; Rose, Penn avenue, G.

Last Night's Fights

At Chester, Pa.—Buck Fleming, Philadelphia, and Clark Anderson, Cleveland, fought eight rounds to a draw. Marty Sullivan, Wilmington, Del., knocked out Harry Mitchell, Philadelphia, in second round. Young Paschal, Marcus Hook, Pa., knocked out Harry Beaumont, Chester, Pa., in first round. Billie Ritchie, Chester, Pa., won on a technical knockout over Young Deiscol, Marcus Hook, Pa., in first round.

Bisons at Waynesburg

BETHANY, W. Va., Nov. 25.—The Bethany Bisons will complete their preparations for the annual tilt with Waynesburg college this afternoon and will leave early tomorrow morning for Waynesburg where they hope to avenge their defeat of last year and close their 1925 season in a flash of victory.

Wesleyan's Bishops Lose But One Conference Game In Four Years

DELAWARE, O., Nov. 25. — Ohio Wesleyan's football team not only won the championship of the Ohio conference when they defeated St. Xavier 41 to 0 in their final game but completed a record of having lost but one Ohio conference game out of 24 played in the last four years. For three of the last four seasons the Battling Bishops have been undefeated champions of the Ohio conference.

Ohio Wesleyan scored 172 points to its opponents' 12 in the six Ohio conference games played and for the entire season scored 219 points to its opponents' 25. Ohio Wesleyan scored 24 points or more against every Ohio conference team played.

Coach George Gauthier, whose work at Wesleyan has resulted in the Battling Bishops' remarkable winning streak, loses eleven senior players from his championship squad this year.

Two features stand out in Ohio Wesleyan's 1925 season. The first was their 3 to 3 tie with Syracuse which until that time had defeated all opponents and held them scoreless. The second came in the last seven minutes of the final game with St. Xavier when Ohio Wesleyan was forced to play with 10 men and nearly scored against its eleven opponents.

Expect to Keep Slates Clean

Three Unbeaten Teams in Action Tomorrow for Last Time This Season.

By GEORGE BARRY.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Form reversals, so prevalent this year in college football, are less in prospect for tomorrow's holiday games than at any time since the early season. Three unbeaten teams, Alabama, Colgate Tulane, will go into action for the last time, and by all the laws of percentage, should emerge with their records intact.

Alabama should get a bitter argument from Georgia at Birmingham, but the team that has scored 250 points against seven this season figures to survive this final test, Georgia having lost to Georgia Tech, which, in turn, was beaten by Alabama.

By the same token, Brown university, defeated by Yale, Harvard, Dartmouth and Pennsylvania, seems due to drop another one to Colgate, particularly after the latter's victories over Princeton and Syracuse. Only the most clamacteric of upsets can produce defeats for Alabama and Colgate in these contests. However, such things have happened before and no later than last Saturday.

Tulane also figures to have considerable of an edge on Centenary, which last week was beaten by Butler in an intersectional game.

Many of the holiday attractions are without great significance, except as meetings between tradional rivals. The Pennsylvania-Cornell game, which defies forecast, is an example. Others of the type include meetings between Pittsburgh and Penn State, with Pitt highly favored; West Virginia and W. and J.; Rice and Baylor; Vanderbilt and Sewanee; Texas A. and M. and Tex; Oklahoma and Oklahoma Aggies and St. Mary's and Santa Clara for the minor college title on the coast.

In the south, games between Florida and Washington and Lee; Georgia Tech and Alabama Poly and Kentucky and Tennessee will go far toward deciding the best among the second flight of southern teams.

In the west, Notre Dame and Nebraska will renew their bitter struggles of other years, with national interest lacking for once. Both have suffered defeat, yet are recognized as being among the best teams in the country. Notre Dame generally is favored to win.

The Missouri valley also will settle a few arguments with Iowa State and Kansas Aggies, Oklahoma and Oklahomahoma Aggies and Washington and Grinnell meeting. The Arizona-Nevada game likewise will settle something, but the writer isn't sure what it is.

Syracuse and Columbia will wind up the New York season, barring the Army and Navy classic two days later. Syracuse was oue of the big teams of the early season, but now is figured to lose to Columbia, which has come along splendidly.

Three intersectional games will be decided, Marquette meeting Mercer, Detroit playing Bucknell and John Carroll facing Fordham. None of these are of great importance.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

By Norman E. Brown.

It can be said, in all justice to everyone concerned, that Fielding H. Yost celebrated his twenty-fifth year as coach of the Michigan grid team by winning the Big Ten title.

Now, of course, technically he didn't win a clear claim to it. The Wolverines lost one game. Northwestern also lost but one conference game. And it so happens that Michigan's only defeat was at the hands of Northwestern.

So a Northwestern loyalist will tell you the Evanston institution deserves the title.

But on the other hand—

Michigan played six conference games and won five of them. The Yostmen turned back Illinois, Ohio State, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Indiana. The Ann Arbor team met the Minnesota eleven when it was at the peak of form and was, without a doubt, the most formidable team in the conference.

Northwestern played Chicago, Indiana, Purdue and Michigan.

Indiana and Purdue were the poorest teams in the conference. Chicago whipped Northwestern. The slender threat on which the latter's claim to the title rests is that 3 to 2 victory over Michigan—whereas Michigan presents five victories, with Indiana the only weak spot on it. Ohio State was rounding into form when the Michigan game came along. That is proved by Ohio's showing the following week against Illinois.

Go farther into the records of the teams. Both Illinois and Wisconsin trounced Chicago, conquerors of Northwestern. Michigan licked both those teams.

Grange's Face Is Study as He Signs Pro Contract: Dad Worries

ARMY CONCEDED SLIGHT MARGIN

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—West Point will beat Annapolis in one particular on Saturday, even if the Army doesn't win the football game. The cadets will be the first to march on the field, it was announced today. They will appear at the Polo ground at 1:15 o'clock, 15 minutes before the middies.

The corps of the two institutions will be the last to reach New York, both teams being scheduled to work out on the Polo grounds on Friday. Hotel men report that further accommodations over the week-end are not to be had at any price.

Betting on the game showed a slight inclination to favor the Army, but indications were that even money would prevail at game time.

Salem-Lisbon Battle

SALEM, Nov. 25—Fourteen Seniors on this year's Salem high football squad, nine regulars and five reserves, will wear the Red and Black for the last time Thursday in the annual Thanksgiving battle with Lisbon, at Reilly Field.

LA BELLE 11 IS LAUGHLIN FOE THURSDAY

The Homer Laughlin soccer club, champions of the Pittsburgh Press Northwest Division league, will clash with the strong LaBelle Thistles of Steubenville, tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock at Newell field.

The LaBelles have reached this point in the season without a defeat, and the class of teams they have encountered indicates they have selected no set-ups. They have trimmed the Akron St. Georges in the Ohio State Cup Tie; the Jordan Lumbers, and McPhersons, of Pittsburgh, in the National Cup Tie, among others.

The names of several of the Steubenville stars arouse more than a little interest among local fans. Graham was with the famous Bethlehem Steel team at one time; Burns, center forward, has scored 14 goals in three games; Duncan, his partner, is a clever forward also, and Andy Wilson, on the wing, is a player with a great reputation.

Manager Jesse Shaw expects a great crowd of fans out to see the champs in action against the Jefferson countians.

De Forest's proteges won six bouts, lost three and got one draw gaainst ten experienced professionals selected by the club.

Joe Canamere, former amateur welterweight champion, scored the most sensational victory for the De Forest stable by stopping Ted Nelson of Sweden in the third round.

Highs Finish Campaign With Cleveland Team Tomorrow

WEIGHT AVERAGES GIVE LOCALS POUND MARGIN

Captain Woods, Quarterback, and Halfback Hallett, Adepts at Open Field Running, Will be Visitors' Most Potent Scoring Threats; Former Leads Cleveland Point Makers.

THE scholastic football champions of Columbiana county for the season of 1925 will go into action tomorrow afternoon at Patterson Field against the strong John Marshall Greater Cleveland conference eleven, in their final battle of the year.

In excellent physical trim as a result of their rest of a week and a half, the Blue and White of East Liverpool high school will leave no cleat unturned in their efforts to make it their seventh consecutive victory of the campaign.

Coach O. V. Boone will send a fairly heavy, fast charging line and a comparatively light backfield, against the Fifth City scholastics, and will be met, in turn, by one of the best balanced elevens that the locals have run into this season.

The Marshall combine will send two 135 pound ends scampering down the field, a pair of tackles weighing 152 and 151 pounds, respectively, and a couple of guards who tip the beam at 168 and 170, with a center weighing in at 156.

Their backfield is exceptionally well balanced with a 143 pound quarterback, halves weighing 144 and 148 and a 156 pound fullback.

The Blue and White outweighs Marshall on the line, but gives away poundage in the backfield.

The Boone forward line will average 157 and the visitors 154. The local backfield shows a weight average of 143 as compared with Marshall's 148. And the 11-man average of each team shows: Marshall, 151; East Liverpool, 152.

HOW GRID FOES STACK UP IN WEIGHT

John Marshall			E. L. H. S.
Hulka	135	L. E.	Perry	142
Holliday	152	L. T.	Bough	172
James	168	L. G.	Banks	156
Mathei	156	Center	Larkins	150
Riskey	170	R. G.	Smith	171
Sweeney	151	R. T.	Hanes	175
Duffy	140	R. E.	E. English	139
Woods (C)	143	Q.	Schaffer	141
Hallett	144	L. H.	Riebel	138
Reddish	148	R. H.	Heddleston	138
Scheff	156	F	P. English (C)	154

In all around team weight, therefore, a more evenly matched pair of squads could not be possible unless either Tackle Bough or Tackle Hanes forgets to eat lunch tomorrow at noon and loses a pound before game time.

East Liverpool's biggest backfield threat is Captain Paul English. The visitors will have two in Captain Woods, quarterback, who, by the way, is leading all Fifth City teams in point making thus far this season, and Halfback Hallett, who can run a broken field as well as any scholastic star in the district.

High school's problem will be to keep both Woods and Hallett penned in, for once they get into the open, it is something of a task to head them off. Both are fleet and tricky.

A large measure of responsibility will devolve upon the shoulders of Ends Elmer English and Perry, in this respect, for both Woods and Hallett will find the going rough and extremely uncertain once they are turned into the territory in which Bough, Hanes, Banks and Larkins cavort.

Marshall knows a varied assortment of plays, and Quarterback Woods uses them, too. They are well groomed in the use of the forward pass. Consequently, if Patterson Field is in any kind of condition tomorrow afternoon, the visitors can be depended upon to produce some flashy football.

The Marshall squad, comprising 23 players, coaches and officials, will reach here probably at noon, and will rest for a short time before going to Patterson Field.

Following the game they will be guests at dinner at Larkin's restaurant annex, in company with East Liverpool players and fans.

The game is scheduled to start at 2:30 o'clock.

RING REFORM POSSIBLE
THREE STATES ABLE TO HELP GAME

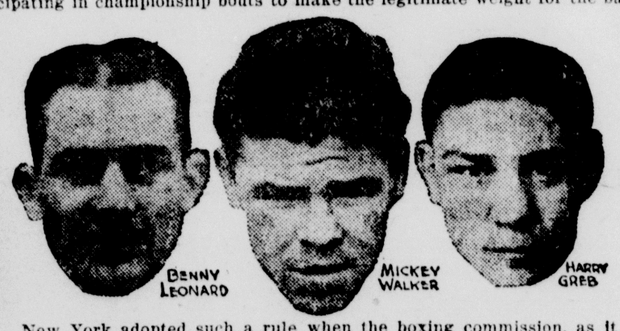
Boxing commissions of three states have it within their power to formulate and direct a general reform in boxing, meaning:

To force champions to fight in defense of their titles or abdicate officially and seriously; force champions to fight under reasonable conditions when they do perform; and force promoters and managers to accept such reasonable terms and will bring admission prices down within the range of the average fans pocketbook.

The three states referred to are New York, New Jersey and California.

They are the three leading ones in which boxing is legalized and therefor under open supervision.

Thy have already placed their shoulders to the wheel by taking united action along one line—that of passing a rule which forces all champions participating in championship bouts to make the legitimate weight for the battle.



New York adopted such a rule when the boxing commission, as it now operates, was formed. California, when it legalized boxing a year or so ago, injected the same rule into its regulations.

And New Jersey's commission joined the two by enacting such legislation in time to force Mickey Walker to make the welterweight limit for his bout with Friedman.

This weight rule, if eventually enforced nationally, would automatically force champions to fight frequently to keep their weight, enter a higher class, as a contender, or retire.

Benny Leonard would have been forced to forego the pastime of fiddling with lightweight hopefuls some years ago had this rule then been enforced. Harry Greb would not have fared as well as he has, perhaps, had he been forced to hold to the middleweight limit of 160 pound in his important fights.

These state bodies could help most by first forcing down the exorbitant demands of managers and ending the high financing by promoters. Cheaper admission prices would bring back to the game the fans who made boxing the popular sport and who go to fights for the thrill of the sport—not for the thrill of paying from $15 to $50 for a seat—and telling the gaping multitude about it afterwards.

PLAN EXHIBITION COURT CONTEST

Stars of the Sunday School basketball league will clash in a special exhibition match on December 3 at either the Y. M. C. A. or the St. Stephen's floor.

The object of the contest is to raise funds for league use.

The two teams have been christened the Coal Diggers and the Ice Men. The lineups follow:

Ice Men—Mackay, Methodist Protestants, F; Kenney St. Stephen's, F.; Reese, Christians, C; R. Cox, C. Presbyterians, G; Kibble, Lutherans, G.

Coal Diggers—E. English, Presbyterians, F; Kimes, Lutherans, F; Kirkham, Pk. Boulevards, C; Heddleston, Christians, G; Carns, Methodist Episcopal, G.

Reserves — Ice Men—G. Mackey, Baptists, F; Wallace, Christians, C; Shenkle, U. P. guard. Coal Diggers—Bromby, M. E., F; Todd, M. P., C; Rose, Penn avenue, G.

Last Night's Fights

At Chester, Pa.—Buck Fleming, Philadelphia, and Clark Anderson, Cleveland, fought eight rounds to a draw. Marty Sullivan, Wilmington, Del., knocked out Harry Mitchell, Philadelphia, in second round. Young Paschal, Marcus Hook, Pa., knocked out Harry Beaumont, Chester, Pa., in first round. Billie Ritchie, Chester, Pa., won on a technical knockout over Young Deiscol, Marcus Hook, Pa., in first round.

Bisons at Waynesburg

BETHANY, W. Va., Nov. 25.—The Bethany Bisons will complete their preparations for the annual tilt with Waynesburg college this afternoon and will leave early tomorrow morning for Waynesburg where they hope to avenge their defeat of last year and close their 1925 season in a flash of victory.

Wesleyan's Bishops Lose But One Conference Game In Four Years

DELAWARE, O., Nov. 25. — Ohio Wesleyan's football team not only won the championship of the Ohio conference when they defeated St. Xavier 41 to 0 in their final game but completed a record of having lost but one Ohio conference game out of 24 played in the last four years. For three of the last four seasons the Battling Bishops have been undefeated champions of the Ohio conference.

Ohio Wesleyan scored 172 points to its opponents' 12 in the six Ohio conference games played and for the entire season scored 219 points to its opponents' 25. Ohio Wesleyan scored 24 points or more against every Ohio conference team played.

Coach George Gauthier, whose work at Wesleyan has resulted in the Battling Bishops' remarkable winning streak, loses eleven senior players from his championship squad this year.

Two features stand out in Ohio Wesleyan's 1925 season. The first was their 3 to 3 tie with Syracuse which until that time had defeated all opponents and held them scoreless. The second came in the last seven minutes of the final game with St. Xavier when Ohio Wesleyan was forced to play with 10 men and nearly scored against its eleven opponents.

Expect to Keep Slates Clean

Three Unbeaten Teams in Action Tomorrow for Last Time This Season.

By GEORGE BARRY.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Form reversals, so prevalent this year in college football, are less in prospect for tomorrow's holiday games than at any time since the early season. Three unbeaten teams, Alabama, Colgate Tulane, will go into action for the last time, and by all the laws of percentage, should emerge with their records intact.

Alabama should get a bitter argument from Georgia at Birmingham, but the team that has scored 250 points against seven this season figures to survive this final test, Georgia having lost to Georgia Tech, which, in turn, was beaten by Alabama.

By the same token, Brown university, defeated by Yale, Harvard, Dartmouth and Pennsylvania, seems due to drop another one to Colgate, particularly after the latter's victories over Princeton and Syracuse. Only the most clamacteric of upsets can produce defeats for Alabama and Colgate in these contests. However, such things have happened before and no later than last Saturday.

Tulane also figures to have considerable of an edge on Centenary, which last week was beaten by Butler in an intersectional game.

Many of the holiday attractions are without great significance, except as meetings between tradional rivals. The Pennsylvania-Cornell game, which defies forecast, is an example. Others of the type include meetings between Pittsburgh and Penn State, with Pitt highly favored; West Virginia and W. and J.; Rice and Baylor; Vanderbilt and Sewanee; Texas A. and M. and Tex; Oklahoma and Oklahoma Aggies and St. Mary's and Santa Clara for the minor college title on the coast.

In the south, games between Florida and Washington and Lee; Georgia Tech and Alabama Poly and Kentucky and Tennessee will go far toward deciding the best among the second flight of southern teams.

In the west, Notre Dame and Nebraska will renew their bitter struggles of other years, with national interest lacking for once. Both have suffered defeat, yet are recognized as being among the best teams in the country. Notre Dame generally is favored to win.

The Missouri valley also will settle a few arguments with Iowa State and Kansas Aggies, Oklahoma and Oklahomahoma Aggies and Washington and Grinnell meeting. The Arizona-Nevada game likewise will settle something, but the writer isn't sure what it is.

Syracuse and Columbia will wind up the New York season, barring the Army and Navy classic two days later. Syracuse was one of the big teams of the early season, but now is figured to lose to Columbia, which has come along splendidly.

Three intersectional games will be decided, Marquette meeting Mercer, Detroit playing Bucknell and John Carroll facing Fordham. None of these are of great importance.

SPORTS DONE BROWN
By NORMAN E. BROWN

By Norman E. Brown.

It can be said, in all justice to everyone concerned, that Fielding H. Yost celebrated his twenty-fifth year as coach of the Michigan grid team by winning the Big Ten title.

Now, of course, technically he didn't win a clear claim to it. The Wolverines lost one game. Northwestern also lost but one conference game. And it so happens that Michigan's only defeat was at the hands of Northwestern.

So a Northwestern loyalist will tell you the Evanston institution deserves the title.

But on the other hand—

Michigan played six conference games and won five of them. The Yostmen turned back Illinois, Ohio State, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Indiana. The Ann Arbor team met the Minnesota eleven when it was at the peak of form and was, without a doubt, the most formidable team in the conference.

Northwestern played Chicago, Indiana, Purdue and Michigan.

Indiana and Purdue were the poorest teams in the conference. Chicago whipped Northwestern. The slender threat on which the latter's claim to the title rests is that 3 to 2 victory over Michigan—whereas Michigan presents five victories, with Indiana the only weak spot on it. Ohio State was rounding into form when the Michigan game came along. That is proved by Ohio's showing the following week against Illinois.

Go farther into the records of the teams. Both Illinois and Wisconsin trounced Chicago, conquerors of Northwestern. Michigan licked both those teams.

Grange's Face Is Study as He Signs Pro Contract: Dad Worries

LA BELLE 11 IS LAUGHLIN FOE THURSDAY

The Homer Laughlin soccer club, champions of the Pittsburgh Press Northwest Division league, will clash with the strong LaBelle Thistles of Steubenville, tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock at Newell field.

The LaBelles have reached this point in the season without a defeat, and the class of teams they have encountered indicates they have selected no set-ups. They have trimmed the Akron St. Georges in the Ohio State Cup Tie; the Jordan Lumbers, and McPhersons, of Pittsburgh, in the National Cup Tie, among others.

The names of several of the Steubenville stars arouse more than a little interest among local fans. Graham was with the famous Bethlehem Steel team at one time; Burns, center forward, has scored 14 goals in three games; Duncan, his partner, is a clever forward also, and Andy Wilson, on the wing, is a player with a great reputation.

Manager Jesse Shaw expects a great crowd of fans out to see the champs in action against the Jefferson countians.

Probable lineups:

Steubenville		Laughlin

DE FOREST BOXERS SHOW PROMISES

PARIS, Nov. 25. — Jimmy Do Forest's "new talent," recruited by mail from various sections of the country, showed to excellent advantage at the tryout show staged at the Pioneer A. C. last night. De Forest's proteges won six bouts, lost three and got one draw gaainst ten experienced professionals selected by the club.

Joe Canamere, former amateur welterweight champion, scored the most sensational victory for the De Forest stable by stopping Ted Nelson of Sweden in the third round.

ARMY CONCEDED SLIGHT MARGIN

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—West Point will beat Annapolis in one particular on Saturday, even if the Army doesn't win the football game. The cadets will be the first to march on the field, it was announced today. They will appear at the Polo ground at 1:15 o'clock, 15 minutes before the middies.

The corps of the two institutions will be the last to reach New York, both teams being scheduled to work out on the Polo grounds on Friday. Hotel men report that further accommodations over the week-end are not to be had at any price.

Betting on the game showed a slight inclination to favor the Army, but indications were that even money would prevail at game time.

Salem-Lisbon Battle

SALEM, Nov. 25.—Fourteen Seniors on this year's Salem high football squad, nine regulars and five reserves, will wear the Red and Black for the last time Thursday in the annual Thanksgiving battle with Lisbon, at Reilly Field.

"Fastest Man" In Baseball Awaits Another Fling In Major Leagues

The fastest man in baseball is awaiting another chance to make the grade in the major leagues. He is Maurice Archdeacon.

Archdeacon now holds the world's record for circling the bases with a time of 13 2-5 seconds. It was his terrific speed which first drew attention to him while he was serving his novitiate with the Charleston club of the South Atlantic league back in 1919. In two seasons there he stole 86 bases. The first year he hooked 42 of them with the aid of a none too healthy batting average—.229.

The Boston Braves had a string on him for 1921 but sent him to George Stallings' Rochester club. In three campaigns there he proceeded to burn up the paths, stealing 53 bases one season, 55 the next and 31 the next. This speed and his hitting, around .336 for the three seasons, caused the Chicago White Sox to pay just $50,000 for his services.

This money was paid with the confidence that he would proceed to set the major leagues on fire with that same speed. Why shouldn't he? He could hit. He had played the outfield for three years under Stallings' eagle eye and he had the fleetest pair of legs in the game.

Then the awakening for Maurice and the Sox bosses.

In 22 games in 1923 Archdeacon managed to steal two bases. True he did not play through all those games. But he managed to collect 35 hits.

The next season he took part in 98 games—enough to show his stuff. But the American league pitchers and catchers tied him hand and foot on the bases. He managed to steal but 11 sacks.

He hit the ball in good style—grabbing a .319 batting average in 1924. But his outfielding was not brilliant enough to shove the other Sox regulars out of the lineup. So Eddie Collins decided he wasn't needed. He was sent back to the International league to become a member of the Baltimore Orioles.

Back in the minors he proceeded to shine again with his old brilliancy, fielding, hitting and running the bases in great style. Which showing caused scouts of the Washington club to recommend he be sought in the draft. Washington obtained him.

But whether or not he will land a berth is still a matter of grave doubt. Stan Harris probably intends to keep McNeeley as the running mate for Edgar Rice and Gooso Goslin. Little Nemo Leibold is still a dependable outfielder who knows the game and is a heady if not a fast man on the bases.

Harris demands keen baseball. Archdeacon did not show himself to be a heads-up player with the Sox. Can he make the grade this time, or will he carry his wings back to the minors?

Brother Sylvess Is Coming Back

Brother Sylvess.

He's coming back to the big leagues next season.

Meaning Sylvester Johnson, son of Misfortune.

In the winter of 1921-22 the Detroit Tigers paid the Portland Pacific Coast league club some $40,000 for two pitchers, Sylvester and Herman Pillette. Said purchase gave the Detroit moguls and fans hopes once more that Detroit was going to have a pitching staff. But old Dave Hardluck sat back and laughed.

Johnson had been with the club but few weeks before he sustained a cracked wrist. Ty Cobb kept him, however. Johnson had showed promise and Cobb felt that, should the injury work no harm to his arm, Sylvester might come through.

Come through he did at times, but in between spurts of brilliancy Johnson had more hard luck than a husband trying to buy a wife the right kind of socks.

Fillette had soared to the heights meanwhile and then fizzled. He had pitched his arm out throwing his pet delivery, a curve ball. Pleas of older players who knew the early fate that usually awaits curve ball pitchers, failed to cause Pillette to increase his repertoire and ease his arm.

Then came the final blow last spring. Johnson was hit in the face by a batted ball and forced from the game. Cobb decided there was no use waiting longer for Dame Fate to relent and sent Johnson back west.

Returning to Portland Johnson continued to wallow in ill luck. He had won just one game and lost 12 up to the time Charley Barrett, Cardinal scout, recommended that Hornsby give Sylvester a trial next spring.

And it now comes out that Barrett's main reason for believing that Johnson will deliver as a big leaguer next year is the fact that "his luck is due to change."

Barrett figures that such ill luck comes in streaks and that after four years of it Johnson is due for a change.

Hornsby, because of his faith in Barrett, is going to give Johnson a chance to shake the hoodoo.

Here's hoping Barrett has the dope.

Sports By Brown

Iowa had beaten Illinois and Ohio State and lost a close game to Wisconsin when Minnesota tackled the Iowans—and proceeded to score five touchdowns.

Then Michigan trounced Minnesota by the handsome score of 35 to 0.

Northwestern cannot produce such a record.

Glen Thistlewaite had a good team. Had Ralph Baker been available all through the season the result might have been different. But no one, under existing conditions, can question Michigan's supremacy.

Speaking of the Big Ten race, Indiana and Purdue had the merry time. Neither won a conference game. Then they closed the season by tackling each other—and played to a scoreless tie. Can't beat that for zero in achievements.

And, how poeved the Indiana adherents were. Purdue had not won a game from the Hoosier team in nine years when the two teams clashed last fall. It was a gala day, so to speak. Purdue was opening its new stadium—and proceeded to celebrate the event by licking their old rivals. So Indiana was out for blood this year.

"Fastest Man" In Baseball Awaits Another Fling In Major Leagues

The fastest man in baseball is awaiting another chance to make the grade in the major leagues. He is Maurice Archdeacon.

Archdeacon now holds the world's record for circling the bases with a time of 13 2-5 seconds. It was his terrific speed which first drew attention to him while he was serving his novitiate with the Charleston club of the South Atlantic league back in 1919. In two seasons there he stole 86 bases. The first year he hooked 42 of them with the aid of a none too healthy batting average—.229.

The Boston Braves had a string on him for 1921 but sent him to George Stallings' Rochester club. In three campaigns there he proceeded to burn up the paths, stealing 53 bases one season, 55 the next and 31 the next. This speed and his hitting, around .336 for the three seasons, caused the Chicago White Sox to pay just $50,000 for his services.

This money was paid with the confidence that he would proceed to set the major leagues on fire with that same speed. Why shouldn't he? He could hit. He had played the outfield for three years under Stallings' eagle eye and he had the fleetest pair of legs in the game.

Then the awakening for Maurice and the Sox bosses.

In 22 games in 1923 Archdeacon managed to steal two bases. True he did not play through all those games. But he managed to collect 35 hits.

The next season he took part in 98 games—enough to show his stuff. But the American league pitchers and catchers tied him hand and foot on the bases. He managed to steal but 11 sacks.

He hit the ball in good style—grabbing a .319 batting average in 1924. But his outfielding was not brilliant enough to shove the other Sox regulars out of the lineup. So Eddie Collins decided he wasn't needed. He was sent back to the International league to become a member of the Baltimore Orioles.

Back in the minors he proceeded to shine again with his old brilliancy, fielding, hitting and running the bases in great style. Which showing caused scouts of the Washington club to recommend he be sought in the draft. Washington obtained him.

But whether or not he will land a berth is still a matter of grave doubt. Stan Harris probably intends to keep McNeeley as the running mate for Edgar Rice and Gooso Goslin. Little Nemo Leibold is still a dependable outfielder who knows the game and is a heady if not a fast man on the bases.

Harris demands keen baseball. Archdeacon did not show himself to be a heads-up player with the Sox. Can he make the grade this time, or will he carry his wings back to the minors?

Brother Sylvess Is Coming Back

Brother Sylvess.

He's coming back to the big leagues next season.

Meaning Sylvester Johnson, son of Misfortune.

In the winter of 1921-22 the Detroit Tigers paid the Portland Pacific Coast league club some $40,000 for two pitchers, Sylvester and Herman Pillette. Said purchase gave the Detroit moguls and fans hopes once more that Detroit was going to have a pitching staff. But old Dave Hardluck sat back and laughed.

Johnson had been with the club but few weeks before he sustained a cracked wrist. Ty Cobb kept him, however. Johnson had showed promise and Cobb felt that, should the injury work no harm to his arm, Sylvester might come through.

Come through he did at times, but in between spurts of brilliancy Johnson had more hard luck than a husband trying to buy a wife the right kind of socks.

Pillette had soared to the heights meanwhile and then fizzled. He had pitched his arm out throwing his pet delivery, a curve ball. Pleas of older players who knew the early fate that usually awaits curve ball pitchers, failed to cause Pillette to increase his repertoire and ease his arm.

Then came the final blow last spring. Johnson was hit in the face by a batted ball and forced from the game. Cobb decided there was no use waiting longer for Dame Fate to relent and sent Johnson back west.

Returning to Portland Johnson continued to wallow in ill luck. He had won just one game and lost 12 up to the time Charley Barrett, Cardinal scout, recommended that Hornsby give Sylvester a trial next spring.

And it now comes out that Barrett's main reason for believing that Johnson will deliver as a big leaguer next year is the fact that "his luck is due to change."

Barrett figures that such ill luck comes in streaks and that after four years of it Johnson is due for a change.

Hornsby, because of his faith in Barrett, is going to give Johnson a chance to shake the hoodoo.

Here's hoping Barrett has the dope.

Iowa had beaten Illinois and Ohio State and lost a close game to Wisconsin when Minnesota tackled the Iowans—and proceeded to score five touchdowns.

Then Michigan trounced Minnesota by the handsome score of 35 to 0.

Northwestern cannot produce such a record.

Glen Thistlewaite had a good team. Had Ralph Baker been available all through the season the result might have been different. But no one, under existing conditions, can question Michigan's supremacy.

Speaking of the Big Ten race, Indiana and Purdue had the merry time. Neither won a conference game. Then they closed the season by tackling each other—and played to a scoreless tie. Can't beat that for zero in achievements.

And, how poeved the Indiana adherents were. Purdue had not won a game from the Hoosier team in nine years when the two teams clashed last fall. It was a gala day, so to speak. Purdue was opening its new stadium—and proceeded to celebrate the event by licking their old rivals. So Indiana was out for blood this year.

Proud Gobbler Is King of Thanksgiving Feast

Mr. Turkey Gobbler rules over the Thanksgiving feast. Above he is pictured both as a decoration for the table and as the piece de resistance of the feast. The corn shock centerpiece is made from a cone of cardboard and strips of light amber crepe paper pasted to it to make the stalks. The shock is placed on a circular base of cardboard which is covered with light brown crushed crepe paper. A pumpkin vine and cotton stuffed pumpkins are cut from orange and green paper and turkey cutouts held upright by wire are placed on either side of the shock. Upper left is the real turkey trussed and ready for the roaster. Right shows the correct way to start to carve the bird.

CONRAD NAGEL AT AMERICAN

Film Favorite Does New Type Part in "Married Flirts."

Conrad Nagel, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer player, who has depicted almost every known type role on the screen from saint to sordid sinner, plays an intensely interesting part in "Married Flirts," the picturization of "Mrs. Paramor," the Louis Joseph Vance novel, which opens a three-day engagement at the American theatre tomorrow.

Nagel is such a natural type person off screen that he has had to prove again and again his tremendous acting ingenuity by enacting roles decidedly foreign to his nature.

In "What Every Woman Knows" he was cast as a brilliant, but gruff Scotchman, who took himself very seriously. That was a droll humorous part which he did delightfully.

In "Fool's Paradise," as a blind man, he had the heaviest and most sympathetic role of his screen career.

In "Nice People" he was cast as a semi-heavy, the first of that type, which established him in a new field.

Then in "Name the Man" he had a deep dramatic role—heavy and relentness.

Then came "Tess of the D'Urbervilles" which too, offered a role unlike any other he has ever been cast in and yet one to which he was ideally suited.

In "Sinners in Silk," a Metro-Goldwyn picture offering, he had a light partalmost bordering on comedy, and in "Married Flirts" he is given an opportunity to create a role unlike any ever before depicted on the screen.

That was followed by "Three Weeks" in which as Paul he portrayed the most coveted lover role of all times.

The deer is reported as a magnificent buck.

She Could Never Have Done It With Piles!

Bless the American girl who has glorified all the sports! She makes a pretty picture in the water, and is a plucky swimmer, too. Piles are unthinkable for active women. If you have them, you ought to know this simple thing to do!

At any hour or moment that you have the least distress or discomfort from piles, use a simple Pyramid pile suppository—and go happily on your way! The worst hemorrhoids, even bleeding and badly protruding piles respond at once to the soothing suppository applied in perfect privacy. But bear the name in mind; Pyramid is the one every druggist has, usually the only one he will sell his patrons. Pyramid is marvelous. Why suffer another single half-hour with painful piles?

Sixty cents the box, the world around. But for proof, a free box plainly wrapped will be sent those who write Pyramid Drug Co., 200 Pyramid Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

Suffered with rheumatism for years

GOT RELIEF FROM RHEUMATISM AT LAST

Spent more than $100 for remedies before help was found

How an obstinate case of rheumatism was given relief by a simple home treatment is told by a man in Los Angeles, California, who suffered for years with rheumatic pain in the feet and back.

"I spent more than $100 for liniments and medicines in twenty-four years," he writes. "Then I used Sloan's Liniment and it gave me complete relief."

And it is amazing—the quick, genuine comfort that Sloan's gives to even the most long-standing rheumatic aches. Sloan's doesn't just deaden pain—it helps your body to throw off the cause.

No need to rub even. A little Sloan's patted lightly on—and a healing tide of fresh, germ-destroying blood begins tingling through the aching place. Before you can believe it, the pain, swelling and stiffness are relieved. Try it! All druggists—35 cents.

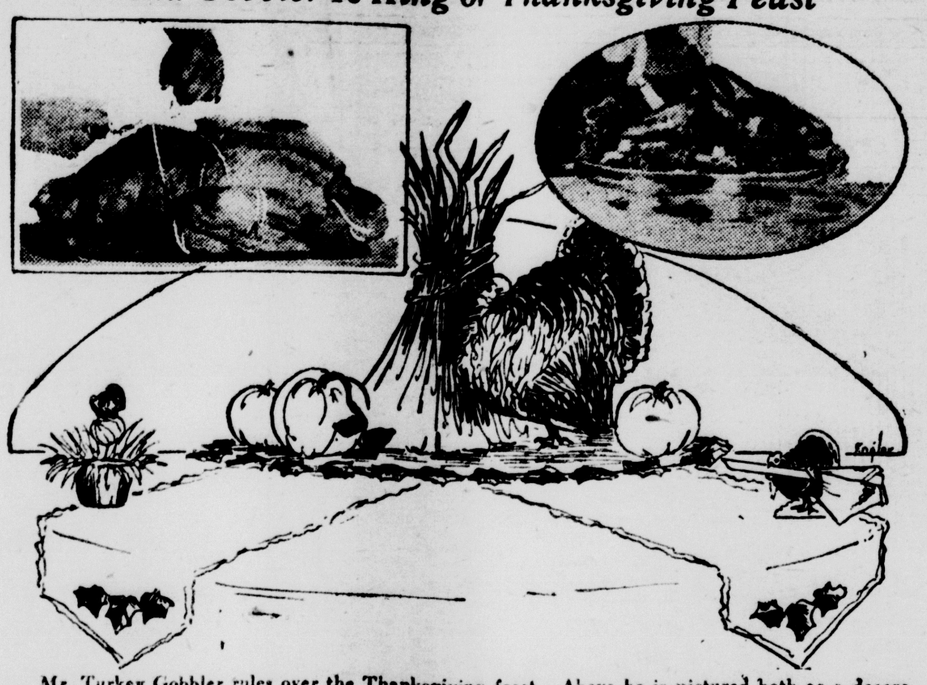
Proud Gobbler Is King of Thanksgiving Feast



Mr. Turkey Gobbler rules over the Thanksgiving feast. Above he is pictured both as a decoration for the table and as the piece de resistance of the feast. The corn shock centerpiece is made from a cone of cardboard and strips of light amber crepe paper pasted to it to make the stalks. The shock is placed on a circular base of cardboard which is covered with light brown crushed crepe paper. A pumpkin vine and cotton stuffed pumpkins are cut from orange and green paper and turkey cutouts held upright by wire are placed on either side of the shock. Upper left is the real turkey trussed and ready for the roaster. Right shows the correct way to start to carve the bird.

CONRAD NAGEL AT AMERICAN

Film Favorite Does New Type Part in "Married Flirts."

Conrad Nagel, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer player, who has depicted almost every known type role on the screen from saint to sordid sinner, plays an intensely interesting part in "Married Flirts," the picturization of "Mrs. Paramor," the Louis Joseph Vance novel, which opens a three-day engagement at the American theatre tomorrow.

Nagel is such a natural type person off screen that he has had to prove again and again his tremendous acting ingenuity by enacting roles decidedly foreign to his nature.

In "What Every Woman Knows" he was cast as a brilliant, but gruff Scotchman, who took himself very seriously. That was a droll humorous part which he did delightfully.

In "Fool's Paradise," as a blind man, he had the heaviest and most sympathetic role of his screen career.

In "Nice People" he was cast as a semi-heavy, the first of that type, which established him in a new field.

Then in "Name the Man" he had a deep dramatic role—heavy and relentless.

That was followed by "Three Weeks" in which as Paul he portrayed the most coveted lover role of all times.

Then came "Tess of the D'Urbervilles" which too, offered a role unlike any other he has ever been cast in and yet one to which he was ideally suited.

In "Sinners in Silk," a Metro-Goldwyn picture offering, he had a light partalmost bordering on comedy, and in "Married Flirts" he is given an opportunity to create a role unlike any ever before depicted on the screen.

The deer is reported as a magnificent buck.

Suffered with rheumatism for years

GOT RELIEF FROM RHEUMATISM AT LAST

Spent more than $100 for remedies before help was found

How an obstinate case of rheumatism was given relief by a simple home treatment is told by a man in Los Angeles, California, who suffered for years with rheumatic pain in the feet and back.

"I spent more than $100 for liniments and medicines in twenty-four years," he writes. "Then I used Sloan's Liniment and it gave me complete relief."

And it is amazing—the quick, genuine comfort that Sloan's gives to even the most long-standing rheumatic aches. Sloan's doesn't just deaden pain—it helps your body to throw off the cause.

No need to rub even. A little Sloan's patted lightly on—and a healing tide of fresh, germ-destroying blood begins tingling through the aching place. Before you can believe it, the pain, swelling and stiffness are relieved. Try it! All druggists—35 cents.

5 DIE IN TRAIN-AUTO CRASHES

TODAY

Four-Minute Trial.
Hear the Clergymen.
Eagles Against Rabbits.
France a Bad Short Sale.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune).

In England yesterday they sentenced a murderer to death in a trial that lasted just four minutes. Sam Johnson murdered Beatrice Martin, 22 years old, and Sam Johnson will hang.

That kind of justice explains the British falling off in crime since the war. There hasn't been any falling off here.

As each Sunday passes, the wise consider thoughtfully utterances from the pulpits.

The Rev. Mr. Aked says it is an age of skepticism and "mis-trust in the hosts of the Lord."

Dr. Reiland, on the other hand, says Christianity is emerging from the present crisis "grander and nobler than ever before."

Dr. Crowder says parents are to blame for hte shortcomings of the blame for the shortcomings of the and "the breakdown of the Christian home" explains our troubles.

Rabbi Krass says the flapper must be curbed and controlled. Must is a big word. Rabbi Krass might as well try to draw out the Leviathan "with a hook."

Dr. Russell says our motto should be "a bright, sunny religion." The ancients worshipped a family of gods that kept the summit of Mount Olympus ringing with laughter.

When Lame Vulcan appeared, limping from his forge, or when he dragged in his wife, Venus and Mars, god of war, third angle in his family triangles, in the net which had caught them all heaven laughed and was sunny."

But we do not think of laughter in a Christian heaven.

New York's famous old church, St. Marks-in-the-Bouwerie, works for a brighter Sunday. Indians performed in the church. Gai-Wah-Go-Wah sang in the Pawnee dialect, and there was a sort of Greek chorus. But that's unusual.

However, is Chrisianity isn't exactly gay or sunny, it's extremely interesting and the Bible is still the world's "best seller."

Men creeping along the ground cannot fight successfully against poison gas, quick firing guns, and explosives from the air. They have as much chance as a rabbit against an eagle.

Even the government of the United States will make that discovery some day.

Abd-El-Krim, starting out to dive France and Spain from North Africa, came in contact with the French flyers. Now his men demand that their leader supply them with bread, and are looting villages.

France has a new government and the French franc sank yesterday to a new low price, 3.89 cents for a franc worth 19.3 cents when the war started.

However, the low price of the franc represents not the condition of France, but the bad judgment of foreigners that deal in exchange. France

FOURTH MEMBER OF OHIO PARTY, IS BELIEVED DYING IN HOSPITAL

Impact so Great That Motor Vehicle is Thrown 100 Feet Against Freight Car, Derailing it—Clothes Torn From Girl, While Bodies of Victims are Terribly Crushed.

TOLEDO, Nov. 25.—Three persons were instantly killed today and another is dying in Toledo hospital as a result of the auto in which they were riding being struck by Michigan Central passenger ttrain No. 307, southbound at Enore Crossing.

The Dead:

RICHARD WARD, 21, Toledo.
HAROLD ARNDT, Toledo.
BEULAH NOWAK, Toledo, identified by her sister.

The fourth member of the party, a girl, was rushed to the hospital, where she lies unconscious, her skull fractured and suffering from internal injuries.

Brother Identifies Girl.

The fatally injured girl was identified by her brother as Pauline Howalet of Toledo.

A badge issued to Frances W. Willis, 22, former dry agent working out of Mayor Peck's court at Sylvania, was found in Arndt's pocket.

Willis was found after the accident and said the badge was one he had used when a dry officer. He said that he lost it, but was unable to account for its being in Arndt's possession.

Clear View of Track.

The train, southbound, was said to be traveling 50 miles an hour when it struck the sedan carrying the party squarely in the middle. The impact was so great that the car was thrown 100 feet against a freight car, which was derailed. All of the clothes of the dead girl were torn from her body. One of the girls and one of the men were thrown clear of the wreckage. The bodies of the others, terribly crushed, were removed from the twisted wreckage of the car.

At the point where the accident occurred there is a clear view of the track, and authorities were unable to understand how the accident had occurred.

Ward was identified by a bank book on his person.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Nov. 25.—William P. Baker, 56, and Mrs. Ruth Hendricks, 33, were killed today when a passenger train struck the sedan in which they were riding.

Quits Wall Street After Running $10 Up Into Millions

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Wall Street is losing one of its most picturesque characters — "Jakey" Field who ran a fortune up into the millions from a $10 bill risked in a bucketshop.

Worn out by nerve-wracking speculation, Field has arranged to sell his membership in the stock exchange for $152,000. In 1898, he set a record by paying $25,000 for the same seat.

Field has had a spectacular career. In 1909 he made $120,000 in twenty minutes during a wild flurry in Rock Island stocks.

He is quitting because of his doctor's orders.

LIBRARY BOARD TURNS THUMBS DOWN ON PLEA FOR 'MUNY' COURTROOM

UNABLE TO FIND CARNEGIE GRANT

Councilmen are Expected to Order Improvements on Second Floor of City Hall For Court.

The trustees of the Carnegie public library last night turned "thumbs down" on the city council's request for permission to use the second floor auditorium of the Fourth street institution as a municipal courtroom.

The board, voting unanimously, held such use of the building might be a violation of the grant under which it was donated.

Difference of Opinion.

Members of the board today asserted that the contract under which the late Andrew Carnegie erected the building could not be located and that to open the building to purposes other than library use might be interpreted as abrogation of the agreement.

Solicitor Harry Brokaw advised members of the board that the grant is not on file in his office and that he would be unable to rule on the legality of the procedure until this paper is produced. Councilman N. P. Kerr, sponsor of the plan to use the library as a court room, said there is nothing in the grant which prohibits compliance with the city's request.

The request for use of the building was placed before the library commission a week ago and the matter was taken under advisement. Council agreed to construct an outside metal stairway to the second floor of the building from Broadway and also to provide janitor service, light and heat for the entire building without any reduction in the library budget if the request were granted.

Advocate New City Hall.

The six members of the commission attended last night's session when the request was turned down. George Wilhelm presided, while Miss Mary Hall, librarian, was secretary. Other members of the board are Rev. D. W.

WELFARE CHIEF VISITOR HERE

John W. Gorby

LEGION PLANS WORK TO AID VETS' CHILDREN

National Director Confers With Welfare Chairman.

John W. Gorby is Perfecting Organization in Ohio.

John W. Gorby, Evanston, Ill., national director of the Children's Welfare division of the American Legion, conferred here yesterday afternoon with Attorney Williams S. Foulks, chairman of the children's welfare committee of the Ohio organization.

Ohio is the 23rd state visited by Gorby, since assuming charge of the welfare division last July 1. He plans to confer with representatives of the other 26 state departments before the 1926 convention, which will be held in Philadelphia next fall.

State organization work was discussed with Mr. Foulks. A plan for every city, county and state was outlined by Gorby.

The American Legion is now raising a $5,000,000 endowment fund, the interest on which will be used in caring for the children of disabled or deceased veterans. The fund will be kept intact as a permanent trust in care of the Legion.

Foulks Organizing State.

Administrative work in connection with the welfare division is being paid fom Legion funds and not from the money which is being raised for relief work. Most of this money has already been subscribed and is now drawing interest at the rate of 4½ per cent.

According to Gorby's plan, the work in each state, county, district and town will be in charge of a committee of three persons, one from the American Legion, one from the ladies'

COOLIDGE CUTS LEGAL BARRIER SO STATE MAY HANG CHAPMAN

President Commutes Mail Bandit's Prison Sentence.

25-YEAR TERM

Way Open for Execution of Slayer of Policeman.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—President Coolidge has removed the federal legal barriers for the hanging by the state of Connecticut of Gerald Chapman, bandit, for the murder of a policeman.

In face of repeated official denials for two days that the president had acted in the Chapman case, came the announcement from the White House today that Mr. Coolidge on last Monday signed a commutation of the bandit's 25-year Atlanta sentence for mail robbery.

There was no explanation of why the announcement was not made Monday, or why it was officially declared at the White House only yesterday that President Coolidge had not determined whether he would accept the justice's department recommendation to commute Chapman's federal sentence that he might become the legal prisoner of Connecticut for hanging.

Bandit Refuses Pardon.

HARTFORD, Conn., Nov. 25.—"I absolutely [illegible]," said Gerald "Chapman" Scott, in the presence of [illegible] Chapman's lawyers, Joseph A. Freedman and Frank Murphy, both of Hartford, delivered President Coolidge's document to him at the Wethersfield state prison today.

Later, after the warden had retired and Chapman was in conference with the two lawyers, he said:

"I've been expecting this, and, of course, the reason I promptly refused was to establish ground for an appeal as high as the United States supreme court to decide whether or not I, or any one else, must accept a pardon or a commutation from the president."

Chapman was reading a book when the warden and the two attorneys entered his isolated cell room in the hospital section close by the new death house.

Two Boys Beaten In Suburb; Police Investigate Case

Affidavits for the arrest of three young men, the identity of whom was not revealed, probably will be issued as the result of an attack alleged to have been made upon Jacob Dorsey, 18, colored, and Oliver Kirkham, also 18, both of Maplewood, at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

When Constable T. C. Smith reached the scene of the battle in Maplewood, the three assailants had disappeared. The free-for-all is said to have started when the trio attacked the colored youth. Young Kirkham went to his assistance and he, too, was badly beaten.

Gov. "Ma" Ferguson Charges Texas Move To Discredit Her

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 25.—Breaking her silence for the first time since she announced the resignation Monday of two of her appointees on the state highway commission, Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson today stated the demand for a special session of the Texas legislature to investigate rumors of graft in highway matters was a "move by the Ku Klux Klan to discredit her administration."

Governor Ferguson refused to make further comment. She did not indicate what her answer will be on the ultimatum sent her by members of the Texas house, in which it is stated that a special session will be convened by the members themselves if she refuses to do so.

THE DEPOSIT OF PURITANISM--THANKSGIVING DAY SERMONETTE-- BY REV. FREDERIC A. DEAN, D. D.

(Editor's Note:—The following Thanksgiving Day Sermonette, "The Deposit of Puritanism," was written especially for the Review-Tribune by Rev. Frederic A. Dean, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church and former president of the Ministerial association.

Our annual national custom of thanksgiving to Almighty God for His manifold mercies, both in principle and in spirit, is wholly American. A little group in the Mayflower amidst devout and fervent thanksgiving, conceived the idea of a civil state and under that hallowed influence mutually covenanted and combined themselves together in a civil body politic. Such was the exalted origin of our republic. In this atmosphere it was cradled and nurtured into its present greatness and glory. But creating a state was a secondary purpose with the fathers. They desired "to plant a colony in the new world for the glory of God and the advancement of the Christian faith." It must never be forgotten that they shaped the earthen vessel of the state to hold the sacred treasure of their fath. The nation stands or falls according to its loyalty or disloyalty to the purpose of its Puritan founders.

We cannot separate this devout spirit from our body politic without disaster. The moment that occurs the civil fabric perishes. The spirit of Thanksgiving is organic, constitutional, fundamental, in our civilization. Our very existence as a people depends upon our cherishing this deposit of the Puritan spirit as the moral heritage. This includes a moral passion for divine law and a faithful obedience thereto. They cherished as a precious experience dependence upon the Divine Being and the power of human faith, to bring about His needed intervention in their affairs. Dependence upon God was the life of the infant state in its helpless beginnings, the same sense of dependence will alone save the republic grown rich, vast and powerful. We need a revival of this implicit reliance as a people, upon the Divine Being, such as filled the hearts of the fathers.

A feeling of self-sufficiency has taken deep possession of the nation within recent years. It must be checked or the condition will be beyond remedy. Self sufficiency is moral and spiritual decay. If it extends far enough the national light will go out. God perpetuates no state which becomes self-sufficient in its own glory and greatness.

Our political entity composed, at first, of a few holy men, has expanded into vast proportions, covering a continent and reaching to distant possessions. It is a civil structure of great magnitude. Grave perils and problems have arisen with this growth. A new conflict faces us, complex and varied in its dangerous aspects. What will save us in the coming fiery ordeal? Vast riches, fabulous resources, big business, armies, and navies? No, great nations have had all these and perished. America can only be preserved by the revival and enrichment of her Puritan moral and spiritual power.

Four-Minute Trial.
Hear the Clergymen.
Eagles Against Rabbits.
France a Bad Short Sale.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune).

In England yesterday they sentenced a murderer to death in a trial that lasted just four minutes. Sam Johnson murdered Beatrice Martin, 22 years old, and Sam Johnson will hang.

That kind of justice explains the British falling off in crime since the war. There hasn't been any falling off here.

As each Sunday passes, the wise consider thoughtfully utterances from the pulpits.

The Rev. Mr. Aked says it is an age of skepticism and "mis-trust in the hosts of the Lord."

Dr. Reiland, on the other hand, says Christianity is emerging from the present crisis "grander and nobler than ever before."

Dr. Crowder says parents are to blame for hte shortcomings of the blame for the shortcomings of the and "the breakdown of the Christian home" explains our troubles.

Rabbi Krass says the flapper must be curbed and controlled. Must is a big word. Rabbi Krass might as well try to draw out the Leviathan "with a hook."

Dr. Russell says our motto should be "a bright, sunny religion." The ancients worshipped a family of gods that kept the summit of Mount Olympus ringing with laughter.

When Lame Vulcan appeared, limping from his forge, or when he dragged in his wife, Venus and Mars, god of war, third angle in his family triangles, in the net which had caught them all heaven laughed and was "sunny."

But we do not think of laughter in a Christian heaven.

New York's famous old church, St. Marks-in-the-Bouwerie, works for a brighter Sunday. Indians performed in the church. Gai-Wah-Go-Wah sang in the Pawnee dialect, and there was a sort of Greek chorus. But that's unusual.

However, is Chrisianity isn't exactly gay or sunny, it's extremely interesting and the Bible is still the world's "best seller."

Men creeping along the ground cannot fight successfully against poison gas, quick firing guns, and explosives from the air. They have as much chance as a rabbit against an eagle.

Even the government of the United States will make that discovery some day.

Abd-El-Krim, starting out to dive France and Spain from North Africa, came in contact with the French flyers. Now his men demand that their leader supply them with bread, and are looting villages.

France has a new government and the French franc sank yesterday to a new low price, 3.89 cents for a franc worth 19.3 cents when the war started.

However, the low price of the franc represents not the condition of France, but the bad judgment of foreigners that deal in exchange. France

Impact so Great That Motor Vehicle is Thrown 100 Feet Against Freight Car, Derailing it—Clothes Torn From Girl, While Bodies of Victims are Terribly Crushed.

TOLEDO, Nov. 25.—Three persons were instantly killed today and another is dying in Toledo hospital as a result of the auto in which they were riding being struck by Michigan Central passenger ttrain No. 307, southbound at Enore Crossing.

The Dead:

RICHARD WARD, 21, Toledo.
HAROLD ARNDT, Toledo.
BEULAH NOWAK, Toledo, identified by her sister.

The fourth member of the party, a girl, was rushed to the hospital, where she lies unconscious, her skull fractured and suffering from internal injuries.

Brother Identifies Girl.

The fatally injured girl was identified by her brother as Pauline Howalet of Toledo.

A badge issued to Frances W. Willis, 22, former dry agent working out of Mayor Peck's court at Sylvania, was found in Arndt's pocket.

Willis was found after the accident and said the badge was one he had used when a dry officer. He said that he lost it, but was unable to account for its being in Arndt's possession.

Clear View of Track.

The train, southbound, was said to be traveling 50 miles an hour when it struck the sedan carrying the party squarely in the middle. The impact was so great that the car was thrown 100 feet against a freight car, which was derailed. All of the clothes of the dead girl were torn from her body. One of the girls and one of the men were thrown clear of the wreckage. The bodies of the others, terribly crushed, were removed from the twisted wreckage of the car.

At the point where the accident occurred there is a clear view of the track, and authorities were unable to understand how the accident had occurred.

Ward was identified by a bank book on his person.

Quits Wall Street After Running $10 Up Into Millions

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Wall Street is losing one of its most picturesque characters — "Jakey" Field who ran a fortune up into the millions from a $10 bill risked in a bucketshop.

Field has had a spectacular career. In 1909 he made $120.000 in twenty minutes during a wild flurry in Rock Island stocks.

LIBRARY BOARD TURNS THUMBS DOWN ON PLEA FOR 'MUNY' COURTROOM

UNABLE TO FIND CARNEGIE GRANT

Councilmen are Expected to Order Improvements on Second Floor of City Hall For Court.

The trustees of the Carnegie public library last night turned "thumbs down" on the city council's request for permission to use the second floor auditorium of the Fourth street institution as a municipal courtroom.

The board, voting unanimously, held such use of the building might be a violation of the grant under which it was donated.

Difference of Opinion.

Members of the board today asserted that the contract under which the late Andrew Carnegie erected the building could not be located and that to open the building to purposes other than library use might be interpreted as abrogation of the agreement.

Solicitor Harry Brokaw advised members of the board that the grant is not on file in his office and that he would be unable to rule on the legality of the procedure until this paper is produced. Councilman N. P. Kerr, sponsor of the plan to use the library as a court room, said there is nothing in the grant which prohibits compliance with the city's request.

The request for use of the building was placed before the library commission a week ago and the matter was taken under advisement. Council agreed to construct an outside metal stairway to the second floor of the building from Broadway and also to provide janitor service, light and heat for the entire building without any reduction in the library budget if the request were granted.

Advocate New City Hall.

The six members of the commission attended last night's session when the request was turned down. George Wilhelm presided, while Miss Mary Hall, librarian, was secretary. Other members of the board are Rev. D. W.

WELFARE CHIEF VISITOR HERE

John W. Gorby

LEGION PLANS WORK TO AID VETS' CHILDREN

National Director Confers With Welfare Chairman.

John W. Gorby is Perfecting Organization in Ohio.

John W. Gorby, Evanston, Ill., national director of the Children's Welfare division of the American Legion, conferred here yesterday afternoon with Attorney Williams S. Foulks, chairman of the children's welfare committee of the Ohio organization.

Ohio is the 23rd state visited by Gorby, since assuming charge of the welfare division last July 1. He plans to confer with representatives of the other 26 state departments before the 1926 convention, which will be held in Philadelphia next fall.

State organization work was discussed with Mr. Foulks. A plan for every city, county and state was outlined by Gorby.

The American Legion is now raising a $5,000,000 endowment fund, the interest on which will be used in caring for the children of disabled or deceased veterans. The fund will be kept intact as a permanent trust in care of the Legion.

Foulks Organizing State.

Administrative work in connection with the welfare division is being paid fom Legion funds and not from the money which is being raised for relief work. Most of this money has already been subscribed and is now drawing interest at the rate of 4½ per cent.

According to Gorby's plan, the work in each state, county, district and town will be in charge of a committee of three persons, one from the American Legion, one from the ladies'

COOLIDGE CUTS LEGAL BARRIER SO STATE MAY HANG CHAPMAN

President Commutes Mail Bandit's Prison Sentence.

25-YEAR TERM

Way Open for Execution of Slayer of Policeman.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—President Coolidge has removed the federal legal barriers for the hanging by the state of Connecticut of Gerald Chapman, bandit, for the murder of a policeman.

In face of repeated official denials for two days that the president had acted in the Chapman case, came the announcement from the White House today that Mr. Coolidge on last Monday signed a commutation of the bandit's 25-year Atlanta sentence for mail robbery.

There was no explanation of why the announcement was not made Monday, or why it was officially declared at the White House only yesterday that President Coolidge had not determined whether he would accept the justice's department recommendation to commute Chapman's federal sentence that he might become the legal prisoner of Connecticut for hanging.

Bandit Refuses Pardon.

HARTFORD, Conn., Nov. 25.—"I absolutely refuse a pardon," said Gerald Chapman, Scott, in the presence of Chapman's lawyers, Joseph A. Freedman and Frank Murphy, both of Hartford, delivered President Coolidge's document to him at the Wethersfield state prison today.

Later, after the warden had retired and Chapman was in conference with the two lawyers, he said:

"I've been expecting this, and, of course, the reason I promptly refused was to establish ground for an appeal as high as the United States supreme court to decide whether or not I, or any one else, must accept a pardon or a commutation from the president."

Chapman was reading a book when the warden and the two attorneys entered his isolated cell room in the hospital section close by the new death house.

Two Boys Beaten In Suburb; Police Investigate Case

Affidavits for the arrest of three young men, the identity of whom was not revealed, probably will be issued as the result of an attack alleged to have been made upon Jacob Dorsey, 18, colored, and Oliver Kirkham, also 18, both of Maplewood, at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

When Constable T. C. Smith reached the scene of the battle in Maplewood, the three assailants had disappeared. The free-for-all is said to have started when the trio attacked the colored youth. Young Kirkham went to his assistance and he, too, was badly beaten.

Gov. "Ma" Ferguson Charges Texas Move To Discredit Her

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 25.—Breaking her silence for the first time since she announced the resignation Monday of two of her appointees on the state highway commission, Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson today stated the demand for a special session of the Texas legislature to investigate rumors of graft in highway matters was a "move by the Ku Klux Klan to discredit her administration."

Governor Ferguson refused to make further comment. She did not indicate what her answer will be on the ultimatum sent her by members of the Texas house, in which it is stated that a special session will be convened by the members themselves if she refuses to do so.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Company, Atlanta, Ga. (adv.)

Faversham Comes to Ceramic Tomorrow In 'Foot-Loose'

Sarah Truax Will be Principal Feminine Support of Distinguished Actor in Matinee and Evening Performances.

No theatrical event of the present season holds greater promise than the appearance at the Ceramic theater on Thanksgiving Day, matinee and night, of William Faversham in the Zoe Akins' drama, "Foot-Loose."

Mr. Faversham's principal feminine support is Sara Truax, one of the cleverest of our present day crop of younger actresses.

These celebrated players have this season been brought together by Mr. Faversham, who in the past, has sponsored as actor-manager many of the most brilliant "all-star" acting combinations that has ever appeared on tour. Mr. Faversham launched, one after another, with "all-star" casts, such ambitious and notable productions as: "The Fawn," "The Hawk," "The World and His Wife," "Herod," "Othello" and "Julius Caesar," playing the important role in each.

It is seldom that the present generation of playgoers has an opportunity to witness such a play as "Foot-Loose," with such a stellar light as Mr. Faversham. The piece is a modern society drama, one of the most fascinating and successful plays ever produced in this country, and was written by the brilliant Zoe Akins, author of "Declassee" and "The Varying Shore," provides many fine moments for acting.

Theatergoers can appreciate the rare treat that awaits them in the performance by such players as Mr. Faversham and his leading feminine support, Sarah Truax, and at the very maturity of their powers.

Mr. Faversham has directed the staging of "Foot-Loose," and he is supported by a distinguished cast of players, including Edith Campbell, Ann Warrington, Antonio Salerno, Dennis Cleugh, Beatrice Verts, Milton C. Herman and others.

STOMACH UPSET?

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the REAL cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Take Olive Tablets the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like. 15c and 30c.

Permanent roads are a good investment—not an expense

What the Bates Road Proved About Highway Paving

The story of the Bates Experimental Road, built by the highway authorities of Illinois, is one it will pay every taxpayer to know.

For many days and nights fleets of loaded motor trucks passed over this two mile stretch, transporting a total of 377,460 tons.

Only thirteen of the original sixty-three sections survived. Ten were of portland cement concrete.

The other three had heavy concrete foundations which in all respects corresponded to the plain sections of portland cement concrete.

Many other sections with wearing surfaces placed on less enduring foundations were failures, proving that the foundation strength of concrete was the winning factor.

Many communities are profiting from the lessons taught by the Bates Experimental Road.

Is your community one of these? If not, why not?

Tell your local authorities you want your roads and streets paved with portland cement concrete. That will end once and for all the problem of costly maintenance.

Chapped skin is cheated skin

Robbing the skin of its natural oils by using the wrong kind of soap makes the skin chap easily. If the skin's already chapped and needs cleansing, it's a mistake not to wash it with safe, pure, mild but cleansing soap to remove irritating dirt and soreness—then use glycerine and rose water or other proven healer. Sweetheart is fine soap for the skin because its rich lather cleanses well and gently. Low priced.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Company, Atlanta, Ga. (adv.)

Faversham Comes to Ceramic Tomorrow In 'Foot-Loose'

Sarah Truax Will be Principal Feminine Support of Distinguished Actor in Matinee and Evening Performances

No theatrical event of the present season holds greater promise than the appearance at the Ceramic theater on Thanksgiving Day, matinee and night, of William Faversham in the Zoe Akins' drama, "Foot-Loose."

Mr. Faversham's principal feminine support is Sara Truax, one of the cleverest of our present day crop of younger actresses.

These celebrated players have this season been brought together by Mr. Faversham, who in the past, has sponsored as actor-manager many of the most brilliant "all-star" acting combinations that has ever appeared on tour. Mr. Faversham launched, one after another, with "all-star" casts, such ambitious and notable productions as: "The Fawn," "The Hawk," "The World and His Wife," "Herod," "Othello" and "Julius Caesar," playing the important role in each.

It is seldom that the present generation of playgoers has an opportunity to witness such a play as "Foot-Loose," with such a stellar light as Mr. Faversham. The piece is a modern society drama, one of the most fascinating and successful plays ever produced in this country, and was written by the brilliant Zoe Akins, author of "Declassee" and "The Varying Shore," provides many fine moments for acting.

Theatergoers can appreciate the rare treat that awaits them in the performance by such players as Mr. Faversham and his leading feminine support, Sarah Truax, and at the very maturity of their powers.

Mr. Faversham has directed the staging of "Foot-Loose," and he is supported by a distinguished cast of players, including Edith Campbell, Ann Warrington, Antonio Salerno, Dennis Cleugh, Beatrice Verts, Milton C. Herman and others.

Permanent roads are a good investment—not an expense

What the Bates Road Proved About Highway Paving

The story of the Bates Experimental Road, built by the highway authorities of Illinois, is one it will pay every taxpayer to know.

For many days and nights fleets of loaded motor trucks passed over this two mile stretch, transporting a total of 377,460 tons.

Only thirteen of the original sixty-three sections survived. Ten were of portland cement concrete.

The other three had heavy concrete foundations which in all respects corresponded to the plain sections of portland cement concrete.

Many other sections with wearing surfaces placed on less enduring foundations were failures, proving that the foundation strength of concrete was the winning factor.

Many communities are profiting from the lessons taught by the Bates Experimental Road.

Is your community one of these? If not, why not?

Tell your local authorities you want your roads and streets paved with portland cement concrete. That will end once and for all the problem of costly maintenance.

SUBMIT BILLS TO COUNCIL

Contracting Co., and Engineers Ask Payment.

The ways and means of promptly meeting bills submitted by contractors following recent civic improvements was the new financial problem handed to city council last night by Allison & Harris, contractors, of East Liverpool, and City Engineer J. N. George.

Represented by Attorney Ben L. Bennett, the Allison & Harris Co. announced it had completed its share of work in connection with the construction of the gravity water system, and now wants to be paid in full.

The question of liquidated damages arose, because of the fact that the company didn't do its work in the original time specified, although solons admitted an extension of time had been granted.

A bill for $2,327.56, to pay for services of Engineer Magill, also went in with the Allison & Harris Co. bill. Solons deferred action, however, in order to check up.

J. N. George, city engineer, put in a bill of $3,151.71 for engineering services on the Wells avenue Lisbon street paving contract. He based his fee on a 6½ per cent rate on the estimate. Solons took no action on this. It was pointed out that no agreement had been made with George beforehand, and the latter was charging the ordinary rate.

Plans and estimates for the Twentieth street sewer were submitted by Director Dennis. They were turned over to the street and light committee and will be brought up at a conference with traction company officials.

Residents in the vicinity of Michaels alley and Buckeye avenue petitioned council to take action toward vacating a short alley connecting with Michaels alley and Buckeye avenue. The petition was signed by Martin Buchman, Charles J. Johnson, F. R. Wilson and C. E. Emerick. The request was referred to Solicitor Ingram for consideration.

A measure to create the position of resident superintendent at the reservoir north of the city was passed on first reading, with two dissenting votes.

The superintendent, according to provisions of the measure, would receive a monthly salary of $125 and would live in a house provided by the city. His duties would include attendance at the chlorinating machinery, patrolling the reservoir site, operating the valves and other lesser activities.

He would be selected under civil service provisions. Solons Nicholson and Peters expressed disapproval of this phase of the ordinance.

HIGHS FACING HARDEST GAME

Play Steubenville Team in Final 1925 Game.

Wellsville high school gridders will wind up a disastrous season tomorrow afternoon at Central park when they will tackle the hardest game on their schedule, with the strong Steubenville scholastic eleven as opposition.

The engagement is scheduled to start at 2:30 o'clock at Central park.

Up until Saturday the Orange and Black had been defeated with monotonous regularity. On that occasion, Coach Klinck's combine emerged from the Mingo Junction tussel with a 6-6 tie.

Tomorrow's clash with Steubenville ends a two-year contract with the Jefferson combine which, this year, is one of the best in the history of the Jefferson county school. The Cartledge eleven has won with as great a degree of regularity as Wellsville has lost, their record including triumphs over Beaver Falls, Oil City, Toronto, South high, Youngstown and other strong elevens.

Last year Steubenville walloped the locals by a count of 54 to 0, at Steubenville. The down river eleven is as strong, and if not stronger, than it was last season. Wellsville's squad, however, is considerably weakened.

The locals have no vain hopes of making a showing against the visitors but will strive only to hold them to as low a score as possible.

NAMED O. E. S. WORTHY MATRON

Mrs. Edward Round is the new worthy matron of Wellsville chapter, No. 417, Order of the Eastern Star.

The honor was conferred upon Mrs. Round at the regular election of the local chapter Monday night. Other officers were named as follows: Worthy patron, Harry Beresford; associate matron, Mrs. Frances Dornick; secretary, Mrs. Eva McCombs; treasurer, Mrs. Ina McLain; conductress, Mrs. Musa Smith; associate conductress, Mrs. Eva Snediker; trustee, Mrs. Ruth Runyon.

Mrs. Lucy Frischkorn was received as a new member.

SWEARINGEN IN COUNCIL SEAT

Ted Swearingen, Republican, elected Third ward councilman on November 3, last night was named to succeed Frank Kerr as representative from that ward.

As a result of the death of Mayor James S. Barnes, Council President Frank Blackburn became mayor. Blackburn was succeeded by Frank Kerr, president pro tem, and, consequently, Kerr's chair was left vacant.

W. C. Connor, First ward councilman, was named president pro tem.

Irish Battles Scotch To Court Decision in Which Former Wins

LOS ANGELES.—Testifying his wife tried to discard his "good old Irish" name and substitute her maiden name on the theory a Scotch name was better than an Irish one, Michael Hourihan was granted a divorce here by Judge Walter S. Cates from Marie Teresa Hourihan.

They were at a party, the husband said, when his wife introduced herself as Marie Ray, whereupon he asked why she did so and he declared she told him her Scotch name was better than his Irish cognomen. He was greatly humiliated and embarrassed as well as angry, Hourihan told the court.

Irish Battles Scotch To Court Decision in Which Former Wins

LOS ANGELES.—Testifying his wife tried to discard his "good old Irish" name and substitute her maiden name on the theory a Scotch name was better than an Irish one, Michael Hourihan was granted a divorce here by Judge Walter S. Cates from Marie Teresa Hourihan.

They were at a party, the husband said, when his wife introduced herself as Marie Ray, whereupon he asked why she did so and he declared she told him her Scotch name was better than his Irish cognomen. He was greatly humiliated and embarrassed as well as angry, Hourihan told the court.

Thanksgiving

ON this day we will stop for a moment at our toil, to offer up thanksgiving for the good things that are ours. We have chosen this day from out the year of unrest, and worry and tribulation, to look about us and be glad for the good there is.

We have come through trying times. We have feared for the future, and doggedly stuck to our tasks. And now, upon this day, we pause. Truly we are over the top of the mountain ranges of extreme dificultly. Fair fields of prosperity lie close ahead.

And because we are joyful in the future, and the good that we see there, and because we are glad we have come through the trying moments of that past unharmed, we lift our voice with the voice of a thankful nation, in gratitude, in understanding, and in praise.

Thanksgiving

A Thanksgiving dinner of 1779 is described in an old diary by one Juliana Smith. Three large tables were set up in the great dining room. On each table were a haunch of venison and two roasts of pork. In addition to this a roast turkey was on one table, a roast goose on the second and two large pigeon pasties on the third. Juliana wrote:

"Then there was an abundance of good vegetables of all sorts, and one that I believe you have not yet seen. Uncle Simeon imported the seed from England. It is called 'sellery,' and you eat it without cooking. It is very good served with meats. The pumpkin pies, apple tarts and big Indian puddings lacked for nothing save appetite by the time we had got round to them."

Although most of us probably over-eat on Thanksgiving Day, we have to admit that we couldn't make away with such a repast as that. Groaning boards, indeed! And groaning diners later in the day, we imagine.

But no. Juliana tells what followed the feast. After dinner they told stories, and all sang hymns, the father of the family leading in prayer and "remembering all absent friends before the Throne of Grace."

Here is a hint for our modern celebrations which should begin with attendance at church services in the morning. Let us not forget thanks—giving.

Now a French Settlement

The politicians, a Washington correspondent remarks, have learned something from the way the American public received the Italian debt settlement.

Heretofore our public men have feared to deal very liberally with foreign debtors, for fear that the public would resent it. Now it appears that the average citizen is far less insistent on making the debtors "repay every dollar" than some of the office-holding patriots have supposed.

The Italian agreement means that, considering the very low rate of interest granted, the Italian debt has been reduced three-fourths. This means cancellation just as surely as if the American commission had agreed to wipe out three-fourths of the principal and let the rest carry normal interest.

To the amazement of the jingo politicians, there has been no howl from the public. There has been hardly anything but approval and relief expressed by the people and the press, regardless of party or section. Nearly everybody seems to feel that Italy is doing the best she can, and that it is better to get a vexing question out of the way and be sure of a small return than to let the matter drag in a hopeless effort to get back the entire loan.

Congress, therefore, will probably change its tune and O. K. the agreement.

Now France may resume negotiations. She expects more liberal terms than were offered her when the Caillaux mission came to Washington, because of the Italian precedent. And perhaps she will get them.

France is abler to pay than Italy, but not much abler. If she lays her cards on the table as Italy did, and to frankness and sincerity adds pledges of disarmament corresponding to Italy's, there will hardly be any question about liberality.

The last offer made by France amounted to a cancellation of about 60 per cent of her indebtedness. The American offer would have cancelled about 40 per cent. France, by wise handling, might gain one-half.

Recreation At Geneva

Viscount Cecil has announced that he intends to use part of the money awarded him last year by the Woodrow Wilson Foundation for his peace activities to enlarge the tennis courts and golf course and to augment the library of the league of nations. Recreation facilities are not always easy to find at moderate cost at Geneva, and Lord Robert apparently feels that they play an important part in maintaining the spirit of good will among the nations' representatives.

Just as the German and French delegates to the Locarno conference helped themselves to a better understanding of each other's aims by their little private social hour at the inn, so many other delegates with seemingly conflicting points of view may be brought together while striding across the Geneva golf course or contesting a point at tennis.

The Englishman's sportsmanship has sometimes been credited with his military successes. Perhaps a time is coming when wars will not be won on the fields of Eton but will be prevented on the playgrounds of Geneva.

Some grown-ups believe Santa Claus lives in Wall Street, and others believe he's settled in Florida.

Little old King Tut was a piker, after all. His mummy was wrapped in mere yellow gold—not platinum.

A 40-piece orchestra recently bombarded London with jazz music by radio from a mile up in the air. Maybe that's the air peril Arthur Brisbane is always warning us about.

You'd think ancient man was a mineral, the way archeological miners go around digging for him.

"I kept the peace of Europe for 25 years," boasts former Kaiser Wilhelm. Then he certainly made up for it.

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Ney Yorks real Latin Quarter is now in Connecticut. At Westport, the birth place of bronk-busting Bill Hart, and about 40 miles from the Greenwich Village that is supposed to cradle genius. Its population is chiefly artists, writers, sculptors, editors and painters.

Westport is a sprightly village along the Post Road and there is nothing arty about it. No purple pup tea rooms, flowing ties, basket weavers, brass pounders or soulful land - haired tragedies fashioning threnodies to the futility of the which.

It has a Rotary Club and George Babbitt would find a fruity field for his pervasive cherrio and resounding back-clap. There is a harness shop as well as a polo field. Horseshoes are pitched behind a livery stable and fast yachts furrow placid waters of the sound.

Along the main street one may bump into solemn William McFee, dreaming of phosphorescent foam and bowsprits. Also Richard Connell and Lucian Cary, Simeon Strunsky, Ruth Hawthorne, Webb Waldron, Samuel McCoy and a hundred others of equal fame.

Paul Rosenfeld and Van Wyck Brooks live on the west shore and on the East Shore Rose O'Neill designs Kewpies and poems. It is the home of the dean of American illustrators, Henry Raleigh, whose mighty right thumb and forefinger bend dimes without effort.

Other illustrators are Everett Shinn, Nancy Fay, Ernest Fuhr, oscar Howard, Henry B. Davis, J. Clinton Shepherd, Leon Gordon and William Meade Prince. When they are not in France, Westport is the home of Scot Fitzgerald and his wife.

Like Paris, the town has its right and left band. The Saugatuck River cuts through it. The art invasion began quietly about six years ago and came from the Village. There are few loafers in Westport and there is no "fast artist set."

There was a fearful racket and hub-bub overhead in midtown at midnight. "It is those airplane drivers practising," said a lady who formerly lived in Gallipolis, Ohio. "They ought to be home in bed."

My sympathy is with an actor whose trouser leg caught midway between his knee and ankle, revealing a resplendent garter, on an opening night. With my hair larded and ears pinned back, I delivered a recitation at the Friday afternoon exercises at Gallio Academy years ago. My arm went up in striking gesture at the line, "And up rose old Barbarie Fritche." The arm came down but the sleeve wouldn't, and there I stood, trying to wriggle it into place during the rest of the recitation.

In a cafe. A song and dance man born on the East Side lapsed into an English drawl. Raw-ther!

"Pipe down" said the blonde cutie opposite, "you're straining the adenoids."

And the same cafe, by the way, brackets on its embossed menus: "Some time ago this cafe was padlocked. It no longer affords the raison d'etre of this padlocking to its patrons. And besides, one may obtain ginger ale, selzer, as well as the very best brands of cracked ice. Also delicately flanged champagne glasses and tall tumblers. here is, you know, a key for every padlock.

In a measure that seems to be true, for nearly all resorts padlocked a year ago are open today. They may not be selling liquor or what passes for it, but they are doing business at the same old stand. Of the recent padlockings we shall see six months or a year from now.

HASKIN'S LETTER

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Grade Crossing Accidents.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 25.—A large touring car approached a double-track railroad crossing in northern Indiana. In the car were a man and his wife, their two young daughters, a girl friend of the daughter's, and a chauffeur. A long freight train, east bound, was rumbling slowly over the crossing and not more than a dozen cars and the caboose were left to clear the highway.

The chauffeur stopped his car, shifted from high to low gear, and with one foot on the clutch and the other on the accelerator, waited for the caboose to give him clearage. While the caboose still partially obstructed the roadway he started his engine, shifted the gears quickly, and the moment he could do so shot across the south track and on the north track, just in time to meet a west bound passenger train traveling sixty miles an hour.

All six occupants of the touring car were instantly killed and horribly mangled. There wasn't enough left of the motor vehicle to make a sizeable scrap pile.

This accident developed an interesting and celebrated legal controversy because both the husband and the wife possessed considerable fortunes, and as their own immediate family was entirely wiped out, it became a question as to whether the man or the woman died or was killed first in order that it might be determined whether the husband's relatives or the wife's should inherit. Eventually the case was compromised.

This legal controversy is not so important nor so interesting, in the opinion of railroad officials and employes, however, when it is compared with the amazing physchological complex, mental strabismus, or whatever it was that resulted in the accident.

What spirit of recklessness, what thoughtlessness or carelessness, led the chauffeur to risk his own life, and the lives of those entrusted to his keeping, by attempting to make that crossing while the slowly moving freight train concealed whatever might be approaching on the second track and the noise of the freight made it impossible to hear that of another train, if there were one?

What indifference or what restless desire to "make time," led the husband, who was seated beside the chauffeur, to permit the latter to attempt the crossing before he was certain it was safe?

No Question of Ignorance.

There could be no question of ignorance on the part either of the chauffeur or the man as to the danger that menaced. Both knew that the railroad was double-tracked. Both had driven that way many times before. Both knew that it was notoriously a dangerous crossing. They were not in a hurry. The party was bound on a week-end visit to a summer resort and had an abundance of time in which to make the trip.

In the circumstances, railroaders and traffic experts agree that the accident was absolutely inexcusable and almost as inexplicable. However, the fact that it happened and that similar avoidable fatalities occur daily at the grade crossings of the railroads of the United States lead transportation authorities to declare that something must be done to awaken the motoring public to the grade crossing menace.

According to railroad statistics the railroads of the country have reduced fatalities to passengers almost 58 per cent and to their employes 54 per cent during the last 12 years, while in the same period grade crossing fatalities have increased 233 per cent, or from nine a day to 30 a day. During the period 1916-1922, 10,911 persons were killed and 29,391 injured in these avoidable accidents — almost 2,000 deaths and 5,000 injuries every year. And in addition to the disasters to motorists, a train is derailed every 10 or 12 days as the result of a collision with an automobile.

In fully 63 per cent of these accidents there is no excuse of a blind or hidden crossing, for that percentage occurs at apen crossing where there is a clear view of the track in either direction, and 70 per cent of the grade crossing tragedies take place in daylight.

Perhaps the most significant of the statistics that the railroads present is the showing that in 19 cases out of 20 the automobile is moving when it is struck, and in one case in every seven the automobile runs into the train, instead of the train's hitting the motor vehicle.

Cant Abolish Crossings.

The theorist who asserts that grade crossing accidents can be averted only by abolishing grade crossings is likened by authorities to th eother theorists who would solve the problem of divorce by abolishing marriage. Grade crossings can not and will never be abolished in the United States. Bad ones are being eliminated constantly, and that work will go on, but all grade crossings can not be done away with.

During the last year for which figures are available 706 grade crossings ewe eliminated at an expense of some seventy millions of dollars, but during that same year 4,560 new grade crossings were added. There are almost 260,000 grade crossings in the United States—one for every mile of railroad —and to do away with all of them is recognized as a physical impossibility and a financial absurdity.

The railroads claim to be doing all that they can do in the way of efficient train operation, crossing maintenance, and crossing guarding and warning through signalmen, gates, wigwags, fixed signs, and the like. At the same time they are endeavoring to eliminate as rapidly as possible all the so-called death trap crossings.

But it is to be remembered that the statistics show that by far the major part of the grade crossing accidents do not occur at the bad crossings. They occur at places where the motorist has every chance to safeguardd himself and those who may be riding with him. Moreover, despite all the precautions that are taken at dangerous crossings accidents continue to take place at them.

CUTS-SORES
Cleanse thoroughly—then, without rubbing, apply—
VICKS VAPORUB
Over 17 Million Jars Used Yearly

Motorists have been known to crash through gates that were down to block their way on to the railroad tracks. They have been known to ignore all kinds of signs, to run by signalmen doing their utmost to stop them, and even to run down and kill the poor crossing watchman who stood in their way in his desperate effort to head them off from destruction.

In one case a reckless driver ran through the gates that had lately been placed in operation to safeguard a bad city crossing, and the city council immediately decreed that the gates should be removed and a flagman kept at the crossing. In another, a motorist ignored the signal of a flagman and rushed headlong to disaster, whereupon the city authorities decided that the flagman should be superseded by safety gates!

Absent-mindedness, lack of sense of danger, pure recklessness, joy-riding, nit-wittedness, lack of skill, confusion, deafness, faulty eyesight and other physical defects, all have been advanced as partial explanations of why so many people are needlessly killed at grade crossings every year. An insane desire to beat the train to a crossing and driving while under the influence of liquor are said to be responsible for a large percentage of the accidents, but even they do not tell the whole story, nor explain the inexplicable. For instance:

In western New York eight out of nine people crowded into a five-passenger car were killed in re-crossing a railroad they had passed over but a short time before. Less than 24 hours later four persons en route in a motor to arrange for the funeral of the victims of the previous day's accident were killed in a similar accident at the same crossing!

The driver of the automobile in a grade crossing accident rarely survives to tell why or how it happened. Thus one valuable source of information that might go far toward working out a solution of the problem is foreclosed.

HASKIN'S LETTER

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Grade Crossing Accidents.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 25.—A large touring car approached a double-track railroad crossing in northern Indiana. In the car were a man and his wife, their two young daughters, a girl friend of the daughter's, and a chauffeur. A long freight train, east bound, was rumbling slowly over the crossing and not more than a dozen cars and the caboose were left to clear the highway.

The chauffeur stopped his car, shifted from high to low gear, and with one foot on the clutch and the other on the accelerator, waited for the caboose to give him clearage. While the caboose still partially obstructed the roadway he started his engine, shifted the gears quickly, and the moment he could do so shot across the south track and on the north track, just in time to meet a west bound passenger train traveling sixty miles an hour.

All six occupants of the touring car were instantly killed and horribly mangled. There wasn't enough left of the motor vehicle to make a sizeable scrap pile.

This accident developed an interesting and celebrated legal controversy because both the husband and the wife possessed considerable fortunes, and as their own immediate family was entirely wiped out, it became a question as to whether the man or the woman died or was killed first in order that it might be determined whether the husband's relatives or the wife's should inherit. Eventually the case was compromised.

This legal controversy is not so important nor so interesting, in the opinion of railroad officials and employes, however, when it is compared with the amazing physchological complex, mental strabismus, or whatever it was that resulted in the accident.

What spirit of recklessness, what thoughtlessness or carelessness, led the chauffeur to risk his own life, and the lives of those entrusted to his keeping, by attempting to make that crossing while the slowly moving freight train concealed whatever might be approaching on the second track and the noise of the freight made it impossible to hear that of another train, if there were one?

What indifference or what restless desire to "make time," led the husband, who was seated beside the chauffeur, to permit the latter to attempt the crossing before he was certain it was safe?

No Question of Ignorance.

There could be no question of ignorance on the part either of the chauffeur or the man as to the danger that menaced. Both knew that the railroad was double-tracked. Both had driven that way many times before. Both knew that it was notoriously a dangerous crossing. They were not in a hurry. The party was bound on a week-end visit to a summer resort and had an abundance of time in which to make the trip.

In the circumstances, railroaders and traffic experts agree that the accident was absolutely inexcusable and almost as inexplicable. However, the fact that it happened and that similar avoidable fatalities occur daily at the grade crossings of the railroads of the United States lead transportation authorities to declare that something must be done to awaken the motoring public to the grade crossing menace.

According to railroad statistics the railroads of the country have reduced fatalities to passengers almost 58 per cent and to their employes 54 per cent during the last 12 years, while in the same period grade crossing fatalities have increased 233 per cent, or from nine a day to 30 a day. During the period 1916-1922, 10,911 persons were killed and 29,391 injured in these avoidable accidents — almost 2,000 deaths and 5,000 injuries every year. And in addition to the disasters to motorists, a train is derailed every 10 or 12 days as the result of a collision with an automobile.

In fully 63 per cent of these accidents there is no excuse of a blind or hidden crossing, for that percentage occurs at apen crossing where there is a clear view of the track in either direction, and 70 per cent of the grade crossing tragedies take place in daylight.

Perhaps the most significant of the statistics that the railroads present is the showing that in 19 cases out of 20 the automobile is moving when it is struck, and in one case in every seven the automobile runs into the train, instead of the train's hitting the motor vehicle.

Cant Abolish Crossings.

The theorist who asserts that grade crossing accidents can be averted only by abolishing grade crossings is likened by authorities to th eother theorists who would solve the problem of divorce by abolishing marriage. Grade crossings can not and will never be abolished in the United States. Bad ones are being eliminated constantly, and that work will go on, but all grade crossings can not be done away with.

During the last year for which figures are available 706 grade crossings ewe eliminated at an expense of some seventy millions of dollars, but during that same year 4,560 new grade crossings were added. There are almost 260,000 grade crossings in the United States—one for every mile of railroad —and to do away with all of them is recognized as a physical impossibility and a financial absurdity.

The railroads claim to be doing all that they can do in the way of efficient train operation, crossing maintenance, and crossing guarding and warning through signalmen, gates, wigwags, fixed signs, and the like. At the same time they are endeavoring to eliminate as rapidly as possible all the so-called death trap crossings.

But it is to be remembered that the statistics show that by far the major part of the grade crossing accidents do not occur at the bad crossings. They occur at places where the motorist has every chance to safeguardd himself and those who may be riding with him. Moreover, despite all the precautions that are taken at dangerous crossings accidents continue to take place at them.

Motorists have been known to crash through gates that were down to block their way on to the railroad tracks. They have been known to ignore all kinds of signs, to run by signalmen doing their utmost to stop them, and even to run down and kill the poor crossing watchman who stood in their way in his desperate effort to head them off from destruction.

In one case a reckless driver ran through the gates that had lately been placed in operation to safeguard a bad city crossing, and the city council immediately decreed that the gates should be removed and a flagman kept at the crossing. In another, a motorist ignored the signal of a flagman and rushed headlong to disaster, whereupon the city authorities decided that the flagman should be superseded by safety gates!

Absent mindedness, lack of sense of danger, pure recklessness, joy-riding, nit-wittedness, lack of skill, confusion, deafness, faulty eyesight and other physical defects, all have been advanced as partial explanations of why so many people are needlessly killed at grade crossings every year. An insane desire to beat the train to a crossing and driving while under the influence of liquor are said to be responsible for a large percentage of the accidents, but even they do not tell the whole story, nor explain the inexplicable. For instance:

In western New York eight out of nine people crowded into a five-passenger car were killed in re-crossing a railroad they had passed over but a short time before. Less than 24 hours later four persons en route in a motor to arrange for the funeral of the victims of the previous day's accident were killed in a similar accident at the same crossing!

The driver of the automobile in a grade crossing accident rarely survives to tell why or how it happened. Thus one valuable source of information that might go far toward working out a solution of the problem is foreclosed.

THE STORY OF A GIRL WHO MARRIED FOR MONEY

By EDGAR POE NORRIS

© CENTRAL PRESS ASS'N

EIGHT.

Two days a bride, and lonely.

Laurel tossed aside the last of an assortment of novels in which she had sought for something to interest her. In searching the crowded shelves of the impressively oak-paneled library, she had not been able to find many books by authors with whose work she was familiar. Noble Harwood bought books for their binding and half of the volumes in his collection, mostly de luxe editions, had uncut pages.

Noble was at his office, having gone there after their late lunch. They had breakfast in bed at 10 in the morning.

Laurel left the cozy, cushioned place she had fixed for herself in the library and wandered out on the lawn. The central pool of glistening water surrounded by sentinel-like poplars attracted her. How seductively inviting were its sun-flecked ripples, in which water-lilies danced nymph-like. Lines of a poem came vagrantly to mind:

The water-lily starts and slides
Upon the level in little puffs of wind,
Tho' anchored to the bottom.

Her memory thus tapped, other lines from the same poem by Tennyson unfolded themselves:

Now folds the lily all her sweetness up,
And slips into the bosom of the lake;
So fold thyself, my dearest, thou, and slip
Into my bosom and be lost in me.

The pool needed swans, she decided. And how lovely peacocks would be, sweeping grandly over he emerald lawn, their plumage in the mirrory water.

Wandering through the gardens around the villa, about which there seemed to be a perpetual air of sunrise, with the songs of birds attracted by the protective trees and frequent feedings, trellises of vines, stone benches, and here and there, small sculptures, increased Laurel's sense of loneliness. She wanted some one to talk to.

Back in the library, she settled back in her cozy, cushioned spot and wondered what Noble was doing. She tried to picture what his office was like. He probably had a beautiful stenographer. She must go to the office to see him and go through the plant when they were back from their honeymoon. His work, she decided must be very interesting. Just to think, there were two thousand men employed in the plant of the National Axle and Bearing Co. What responsibility! No wonder there were little wrinkles around his eyes.

But it was this work, Laurel frowned, that was delaying their honeymoon. She wished they were going to Europe instead of just New York. New York didn't seem romantic enough. Spain, or Italy ——.

She thought of telephoning her mother, but changed her mind. She wondered what Alice Kenwick was doing. On the spur of the moment, she rang for Joseph.

"A telephone, please."

As if by magic, the servant produced an instrument from out of a hidden cabinet in the wall and attached it to a nearby plug. Noble Harwood, as one of the largest share holders in the Central City Telephone Co., had been able to have the villa elaborately wired so that there were plugs in every room in the house.

"Alice! How are you? You are home early today, aren't you? Can you run over for a minute or two. Mr. Harwood is at his office, and I just must talk to somebody. I'll send a car after you."

She was excited at the thought of seeing Alice Kenwick again, as if they had been separated for ages. Alice was Laurel's most intimate friend. The Kenwicks were an old Central City family who had remained in the same state of affluence—comfortable, but not wealthy, while their friends became rich. Alice taught art in one of the local high schools. Only 22, she was already looked upon as an "old maid."

The two girls embraced in the hall, under the eyes of Louis, and Laurel dragged the visitor up the stairs to her suite.

"My dear, you never looked lovelier in your life, Alice enthused.

Laurel hugged her.

"Where did you two go? Everybody is dying to know?"

"It's a secret, but I'll tell you. Noble has a perfectly adorable lodge down on Crystal Lake. We stayed down there until yesterday when Noble had to return to the city because of business affairs. It will be several days before we are able to go away."

"I don't believe I've seen that dress before." She referred to a separate skirt and blouse of chiffon in a sort of sports mode for afternoon wear.

"Don't you like the way the jumper ties snugly about the hips? She pivoted. "See how the back and front of the skirt are separate panels.' She pulled back one of the loose panels and revealed a lace underslip dyed to match.

"You have the most wonderful trousseau! If it were mine, I couldn't go to bed at night without going over it and trying on every piece. I just loce those little nighties of yours."

"Alice, Noble doesn't like that gown you thought was so marvelous. I wore it for dinner last night, and he called it TACKY.' Her lip quivered.

"Why, I think he's mean! He doesn't know an attractive dress when he sees it. It becomes you so much."

"He's used to buying dresses and things for Marion and I suppose he'll select mine, too," Laurel pouted.

Alice was silent as she sensed her friend's feelings. She had many misgivings about this marriage, but had never spoken them. Alice Kenwick was not a friend who offered advice in any and all things.

"I'm going to have to depend on you a lot, Alice, dear," Laurel said, taking the other girl's hand. "I know I'm going to be lonely when Noble is out of town, as he often is. I shan't expect him to take me on his business trips. So you must be prepared to come and stay with me.'

Alice hesitated before answering. "I'd rather not, Laurel, that is, too often. People wil say I'm running after you because you married Noble Harwood.

"Why, Alice½"

"I could see how the neighbors looked when they saw your car drive up for me today." the visitor went on.

"Don't be ridiculous, dear."

"I must be going now, and don't send me home in the car," Alice arose in her bluntly typical way.

"Do stay for tea."

"No, I must do some shopping before the stores close.'

"Alice Kenwick, I'm going to—to spank you if you don't get those silly ideas out of your head." They kissed each other an affectionate good-bye.

Alice was leaving the villa on foot as Noble Harwood arrived in his automobile. After he had kissed his wife, he remarked, "I thought we weren't 'at home.'" He was frowning. It was easy for her to guess that he was displeased by Alice's visit.

Where is the Car that Equals It?

Before buying any automobile in the thousand dollar field, ask yourself these five questions—

1 Is it as beautiful and comfortable as the new Oakland Six?
2 Has it mechanical Four Wheel Brakes?
3 Does it combine such advanced features as Air Cleaner, Oil Filter, Full Pressure Oiling, and The Harmonic Balancer—an exclusive Oakland feature imparting unmatched freedom from vibration?
4 Can it duplicate Oakland speed, power, acceleration, flexibility and year-in-and-year-out dependability?
5 And can it equal Oakland's amazing value at the new prices—$70 to $350 lower?

Because no car in the field can answer these questions satisfactorily—because no car combines these features at anywhere near Oakland's new low prices — this is the car for you.

Where is the Car that Equals It?

Before buying any automobile in the thousand dollar field, ask yourself these five questions—

1 Is it as beautiful and comfortable as the new Oakland Six?
2 Has it mechanical Four Wheel Brakes?
3 Does it combine such advanced features as Air Cleaner, Oil Filter, Full Pressure Oiling, and The Harmonic Balancer—an exclusive Oakland feature imparting unmatched freedom from vibration?
4 Can it duplicate Oakland speed, power, acceleration, flexibility and year-in-and-year-out dependability?
5 And can it equal Oakland's amazing value at the new prices—$70 to $350 lower?

Because no car in the field can answer these questions satisfactorily—because no car combines these features at anywhere near Oakland's new low prices — this is the car for you.

Roadster	$ 975	(Old Price $1095)	Landau Coupe	$1125	(Old Price $1295)

All prices at factory — General Motors Time Payment Rates, heretofore the lowest in the industry, have been made still lower. You can now save as much as $40 to $60 in your time payments costs.

Township Trustees File Application for Road Funds.

A uniform application is being designed by Prosecuting Attorney Robert M. Brookes and County Surveyor Lloyd C. Kirk for the purpose of obtaining financial aid under the Green law for township road construction. These forms are expected to be ready for distribution among the 18 different boards of township trustees within the next few days.

Many township boards have been soliciting the aid of Surveyor Kirk with this end in view, but because no uniform application has been available, no assistance could be given by the surveyor's office until the forms could be worked out. The forms will be mailed the clerk of each board, and they are expected to be ready in time for the first December meeting of each board. The latter will then return the forms to Mr. Kirk, so that all applications will have been forwarded by Mr. Kirk before the close of the year. By this plan, the applications for financial road aid under this law will be made as of 1925.

The uniform application blanks will designate the number of road that it is proposed to be improved, its length, the type of road construction proposed and all other necessary data, together with the designation of what roads will be connected by the road it is proposed to be improved.

"There is no use in making application for this financial aid under the Green law until a regular form has been prepared," Surveyor Kirk announced today. "It is better to go a little slow at the beginning, and be right, than to show some speed and then suffer a long delay at the Columbus end. Township trustees have filed with our office and also with the county commissioners the road that is most necessary to improve first. Then a second and third choice has also been marked on the county road map, and these roads are shown in their relative importance to connect other parts of townships with improved highways in those townships.

"With the financial aid available under the Green law, we expect to be able to do more road improving in the county during 1926 than ever before. The machinery is in working motion, and because of the passage of the $950,000 bond issue, coupled with aid available through the Green law and from other county sources, it now seems certain that the county will have more improved highways by the close of 1926 than we ever expected."

They had an itching sensation that was almost unbearable at times, especially upon retiring and arising in the morning. The breaking out was unsightly, especially on my hands, and when I got warm in bed the irritation used to keep me awake.

"I decided to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment and after using three cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment I was healed." (Signed) Miss Mary M. Mingis, 5124 Maple Ave., St. Louis, Mo.

Motion Overruled.

In the $10,035 damage case tried in common pleas court No. 2 before Judge John B. Worley last week of John McIntosh against Margaret Pitts, a motion was heard by the court to set aside the verdict which was for the defendant and also a motion to grant a new trial.

The court overruled both motions, and a judgment on the verdict in favor of the defendant for his costs has been made a matter of record.

Given Judgment.

Judgment for $300 has been rendered by a jury in the case of E. E. McCartney, who sought $600 damages for the sale of a locomotive boiler to the Citizens Ice Corporation. The action was filed May 19, 1924. The defendants refused to pay the $600 claimed by the plaintiff, and it was upon this refusal that the court action was based. The jury was out but a short time before the verdict was returned, the claim being cut in half.

Judgment Rendered.

No motion for a new trial having been filed according to law in the case of Beryl L. Woods of East Liverpool against the Pennsylvania Railroad company, which was an action for $10,000 damages, Judge John G. Worley has rendered judgment on the verdict which was for thedefendant company and for its costs.

Divorce Granted.

A decree of divorce has been granted by Judge James G. Moore to Alice O. Waldron of Salem against her husband, Charles H. Waldron. In the original petition filed by this plaintiff, extreme cruelty was set up, and it was upon this ground that the decree was handed down. This Nurse Just Couldn't Stop Coughing

SPECIALISTS DIDN'T HELP

It takes more than ordinary sweet, syrupy cough mixtures to stop a stubborn enough that persists in hanging on.

For slight ordinary coughs almost any decent cough syrup will do, but if you have one of those tough ones that won't yield to common remedies and often keeps you awake at night then your one best bet is Bronchuline Emulsion.

Often one half bottle forces the most stubborn coughs to yield and you are better almost before you know it.

There is no sugar, chloroform or dope in Bronchuline Emulsion; it's a wonderful medicine for people who are getting over a heavy cold or an attack of Flu.

A New York nurse just couldn't stop coughing even after consulting specialists yet one half bottle of Bronchuline Emulsion did stop it—completely.

Ask Carnahan's Drug Stores, Jesse D. Holloway or any good dealer, for a bottle—often three or four doses will stop an ordinary cough.

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Easily and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using the well-known old recipe for making cough syrup at home. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, pour it into a pint bottle and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its healing effect on the membranes.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

GIRL FATALLY BURNED; SHOCK KILLS WOMAN

Double Funeral Planned for Grandmother and Child.

DRESS IGNITES

Inseparable Companions Will go to Grave Together.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 25.—Mrs. Margaret Shireman, 67, and her granddaughter, Mary Lou Lemon, 13, were dead today. The little girl of burns received yesterday afternoon, when her clothes caught fire from an open gas fire in the Lemon living room, while her grandmother died within five minutes of receiving news of the fatal outcome of the girl's ijuries.

Both died last night:

Almost inseparable companions, a double funeral was being planned by the family, so that even in death they might not be apart.

Mrs. Shireman was reading to her granddaughter yesterday afternoon. As she finished the story, her granddaughter rose to put it away. Her dress got to near the gas fire and in a moment she was a sheet of flame.

Mrs. Shireman attempted to put out the flames with a sweater, then rolled her granddaughter in a rug. However, the burns were too serious, and death occurred a few hours later at the hospital where she was taken.

The woman died of shock, according to physicians.

Mary Lou, when five years old, lost her voice, following an attack of diphtheria. Her education had been in the hands of her grandmother.

There is a rich deposit still in the hearts of the American people. It is the most potent and priceless of the forces resident in the nation. Let the deep piety which hallowed the Pilgrims, out of which welled up their pure and holy Thanksgiving be revived, cherished and increased, until it leavens the whole mass of our people. False thrills have yearly ruined us of late; our nation needs a genuine thrill of old-time piety and love of Almighty God.

Refuse Court Request

MacLeod, W. S. Foulks, Charles Pomeroy, Hugh Thorn and C. C. Ashbaugh.

Council will be advised by letter of the board's action.

The trustees' action means that council must take immediate steps toward providing other quarters, probably on the second floor of the city hall building, Third and Market streets, for the municipal court.

Several hundred dollars will be necessary to place the structure in a make-shift shape for the new court, councilmen declare. Steps may be taken early in the new year to arouse interest in a movement for a new city hall, fire station, court quarters, offices for city officials and a public auditorium, all under one roof, but in the meantime the court probably will be compelled to operate in its cramped quarters in the dilapidated city building.

MOTHER-IN-LAW AT KIP TRIAL

Mrs. Jones Testifies Rhinelander Said he "Loved" Alice.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Nov. 25.—Leonard Kip Rhinelander went to the mother of his quadroon bride, Alice Beatrice Jones, and asked Mrs. Jones to keep the marriage a secret. Then when the published stories that his bride was the daughter of a negro reached his ears, young Rhinelander declared to his mother-in-law.

"Never mind. I married the girl I loved and I don't care."

This was the testimony of Mrs. George Jones, white-haired mother of Alice, given today at the trial of the Rhinelander marriage annulment suit which charges Alice with concealing her color from her husband. Mrs. Jones, who testified she was "pure white," gave her testimony in a timid tremulous tone.

Under cross-examination, Mrs. Jones burst into tears as counsel for Rhinelander forced her to admit she had brought a child named "Ethel" to America. She admitted between sobs that she was the mother of the child but refused to tell who was its father.

Dr. McDade Injured When Auto Plunges Over Embankment

Dr. W. G. McDade, Mulberry street physician, sustained an injury to his right arm at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon when his automobile went over a steep embankment opposite the Neville Institute school, Elizabeth street.

The physician, answering a call to Klondyke, met a westbound Main line street car just as he rounded the curve off Pennsylvania avenue onto Elizabeth street. In an effort to avert a collision with the street car he swerved his automobile to the right and the machine plunged down the declivity.

The car turned over and crashed into the side of a shed at the foot of the hill. The physician was taken to the City hospital where his injury was dressed. The automobile was badly damaged.

Legion Aids Children

auxiliary and the other from the Society of Forty and Eight, an organization of Legion members.

Foulks is organizing the state for this work, leaders having been named in several counties. Every child in need of assistance is to be listed.

No Overlapping of Relief.

The Legion's work among children will not interfere with similar plans of other organizations. There will be no overlapping of relief activities, Gorby explained.

Although a resident of Illinois, Gorby is a native of Ohio, having been born at Hiramsburg, Noble county, near the scene of the dirigible Shenandoah wreck last August. During the war he served as a captain and organized five companies of infantry in the Illinois reserve. He was field secretary for New York in the Legion's endowment fund campaign when he was appointed national director of the children's welfare division by Commander James Drain.

He left here today for his home in Evanston, where he will spend Thanksgiving Day with his family.

$70,000 Estimated Damage as Steamer Overturns in River

CHARLEROI, Pa., Nov. 25.—While efforts were being made today to salvage the river steamer Titan, engaged in towing coal barges for the Jones and Laughlin Steel company, of Pittsburgh, it was estimated today that the loss from the steamer overturning in the Monongahela river would amount to $70,000.

The Titan had no barges in tow when it overturned. All members of the crew, headed by Captain Harvey Jones, escaped without injury.

When the accident occurred the steamer was near the shore taking on fuel for its own consumption. Its collapse was attributed to overloading it with coal, small weight of which was not properly distributed.

Just prior to the accident the Titan had cut loose six coal barges to allow it to proceed near the shore for coal.

PLYMOUTH, Vt., Nov. 25.—To mothers of the nation busy in thousands of kitchens this afternoon preparing tomorrow's Thanksgiving day feast, Miss Aurora Pierce, housekeeper for Col. John C. Coolidge, father of the president, made public the famous old Vermont mince meat recipe. Here it is:

Currants, raisins and citron chopped and all boiled with cider and sugar about four minutes, and then poured in the meat and suet.
Add salt and spices last.
A little jelly or fruit juice improves it.

Two men, believed to be accomplices, escaped through a coal hole in the hotel basement. One giving the name of Joe Garcia was arrested in Columbus.

At the same time a Hudson car bearing New York license was seized. A full kit of burglar tools and three heavy calibre revolvers were found in it.

$80,000 Fire Sweeps Theatre Building In Martins Ferry

MARTIN'S FERRY, Nov. 25.—Damage estimated today at $80,000 was done by last night's fire that gutted the Pastime theater building and forced several families to flee apartments in the structure and destroyed the stock in three stores on the first floor.

Firemen from Bridgeport and Wheeling aided in fighting the blaze, which started from a gas explosion.

All occupants escaped, but four firemen suffered minor injuries.

SAFE-CRACKERS WORK IN MARION

MARION, Nov. 25.—Safe crackers, working the business section here early this morning, forced open three empty safes in two business establishments and escaped. Two safes were broken open in the office of Malo Brothers, junk dealers. A safe at the Riley and Fields garage in the central business district was also forced open.

WARNING GIVEN BUS OPERATORS

COLUMBUS, Nov. 25.—Warning was issued today by the state utilities commission to motor bus operators and drivers throughout Ohio against operating their cars off regular routes.

"Drastic and summary action," was threatened by the commissioners in all future instances of this nature.

The warning was prompted by receipt of numerous complaints that drivers had operated off the routes defined for them by the commission.

Father Shoots his Three Daughters; One Dies Instantly

JAMESTOWN N. Y., Nov. 25.—Filip De Vincentus, 48, shot two of his three daughters as they lay in their beds at their home early today. One girl died instantly. The other is in the hospital with a bullet wound in her head. The third daughter wrested the revolver from her father before he could fire again.

De Vincentus' wife and several other children, frightened by the gun firing, fled from the house in their night clothes.

The man has had trouble with the girls, neighbors said.

MITCHELL USES WAR DOCUMENTS AT HIS TRIAL

Official Records Cited to Support His Charges.

FIGHT NEAR END

Claims Chief Ignored Aerial Bombing Recommendations.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—With the end of his defense in sight, Colonel William Mitchell today laid before his jury of generals a mass of official documents to support his charges that the war department has ignored the development of American aviation as a part of the national defense.

Mitchell produced records to show the department ignored recommendations time after time for the improvement of aerial bombing, the development of airships as airplane carriers, and the use of the latest inventions in aerial warfare. As a result, Mitchell contended, the national defense was weakened and America lagged far behind foreign nations in the strength of her air force.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—The war department today denied a request of Colonel William Mitchell to visit his baby daughter in Detroit during the Thanksgiving recess of his court-martial.

"Disapproved," was written across Mitchell's request by Major General Samuel Rockenback, commandant of the Washington army area.

Mitchell told the department he would return promptly for the reconvening of the trial.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Another effort will be made by the Shenandoah court of inquiry to force the appearance of Col. William Mitchell to testify regarding his charges that the navy was "criminally negligent" in sending the dirigible on its ill-fated flight to the middle west.

This was indicated today when the court adjourned indefinitely to await the outcome of Mitchell's court-martial.

Mitchell previously refused to testify before the navy tribunal on the grounds he already was facing charges by the army.

Cruiser Denver Sails; May Bring Gen. Pershing Home

PANAMA, Nov. 25.—Neither confirmation nor denial of reports that the cruiser Denver was going to Arica, Chile in order to bring General John J. Pershing back to the United States for the Christmas holidays, was obtainable from the commanding officer of the vessel which early today steamed out of this port.

The vessel was simply "going to sea," according to its officers.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Tuesday's closing rally in stocks under selling pressure was continued in the early trading today, with most of active motor, oil, rail and industrial stocks in moderately higher price ground. United States Steel led a vigorous movement in the industrials and reached 129½, compared with yesterday's low price of 126⅞. American Can, General Motors, Chrysler, New York Central and other speculative leaders sold from 1 to 5 points above the previous close. Public utility and equipment stocks regained most of their losses.

Outside trading was restricted by the imminence of the Thanksgiving holiday tomorrow, and the ever-recurring weekly problem of the reserve bank rediscount rate, the directors of the bank having announced their decision to meet at the close of the market today.

Summarizing their condition resulting from the bearish operations in the last two weeks, the brokerage houses reported a heavy decrease in their speculative loan accounts, showing that considerable liquidation had taken place, particularly in the motors. Other houses reported an increase in their loans on railroad stocks, which it is believed were largely substituted for the motors. There was little change in the situation in the oil and copper stocks. Short covering furnished the principal incentive for the purchasing of motor and industrial stocks, and the market as a whole was dull.

Chrysler motor sold up 6 points at 177½ on reports that the dividend rate on the new capitalization would be $4 a share annually. Norfolk and Western was a leader in the railroad list, and sold around 150 on reports that the Pennsylvania railroad would consolidate the road with its main line, giving three shares of Pennsylvania stock for one of Norfolk. Pittsburgh and West Virginia, on a small turnover, spurted 9 points to 115. Atchison, New York Central and other dividend rails sold about a point higher, and Baldwin Locomotive advanced steadily to 125⅝, up 2¾.

European selling of the French franc before the opening of the American markets resulted in a sharp decline in French currency to a new low for the year. Call money was in good supply at 4½ per cent.

Bomb Is Dropped In Capital City Police Headquarters

Panic Results as Man Shouts, "Here's Present for You," And Then Escapes—Fails to Explode.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Police authorities here today were thrown into a panic when an unidentified white man rushed into the squad room and threw what appeared to be a bomb on the floor amid an astonished group of officers.

"Here's a present for you," shouted the man as he dashed from the room.

In the confusion the man escaped.

The missle failed to explode.

A hurried examination of the object revealed it was filled with nitro-cellulose, according to the officers, and there was sufficient explosive to have blown up the building had it worked.

The bomb apparently failed to go off, officers said, because it had not been dropped with sufficient force to operate the contact device.

Both died last night:

The woman died of shock, according to physicians.

Mary Lou, when five years old, lost her voice, following an attack of diphtheria. Her education had been in the hands of her grandmother.

There is a rich deposit still in the hearts of the American people. It is the most potent and priceless of the forces resident in the nation. Let the deep piety which hallowed the Pilgrims, out of which welled up their pure and holy Thanksgiving be revived, cherished and increased, until it leavens the whole mass of our people. False thrills have yearly ruined us of late; our nation needs a genuine thrill of old-time piety and love of Almighty God.

Council will be advised by letter of the board's action.

The trustees' action means that council must take immediate steps toward providing other quarters, probably on the second floor of the city hall building, Third and Market streets, for the municipal court.

Several hundred dollars will be necessary to place the structure in a make-shift shape for the new court, councilmen declare. Steps may be taken early in the new year to arouse interest in a movement for a new city hall, fire station, court quarters, offices for city officials and a public auditorium, all under one roof, but in the meantime the court probably will be compelled to operate in its cramped quarters in the dilapidated city building.

MOTHER-IN-LAW AT KIP TRIAL

Mrs. Jones Testifies Rhinelander Said he "Loved" Alice.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Nov. 25.—Leonard Kip Rhinelander went to the mother of his quadroon bride, Alice Beatrice Jones, and asked Mrs. Jones to keep the marriage a secret. Then when the published stories that his bride was the daughter of a negro reached his ears, young Rhinelander declared to his mother-in-law.

"Never mind. I married the girl I loved and I don't care."

This was the testimony of Mrs. George Jones, white-haired mother of Alice, given today at the trial of the Rhinelander marriage annulment suit which charges Alice with concealing her color from her husband. Mrs. Jones, who testified she was "pure white," gave her testimony in a timid tremulous tone.

Under cross-examination, Mrs. Jones burst into tears as counsel for Rhinelander forced her to admit she had brought a child named "Ethel" to America. She admitted between sobs that she was the mother of the child but refused to tell who was its father.

Dr. McDade Injured When Auto Plunges Over Embankment

Dr. W. G. McDade, Mulberry street physician, sustained an injury to his right arm at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon when his automobile went over a steep embankment opposite the Neville Institute school, Elizabeth street.

The physician, answering a call to Klondyke, met a westbound Main line street car just as he rounded the curve off Pennsylvania avenue onto Elizabeth street. In an effort to avert a collision with the street car he swerved his automobile to the right and the machine plunged down the declivity.

The car turned over and crashed into the side of a shed at the foot of the hill. The physician was taken to the City hospital where his injury was dressed. The automobile was badly damaged.

auxiliary and the other from the Society of Forty and Eight, an organization of Legion members.

Foulks is organizing the state for this work, leaders having been named in several counties. Every child in need of assistance is to be listed.

No Overlapping of Relief.

The Legion's work among children will not interfere with similar plans of other organizations. There will be no overlapping of relief activities, Gorby explained.

Although a resident of Illinois, Gorby is a native of Ohio, having been born at Hiramsburg, Noble county, near the scene of the dirigible Shenandoah wreck last August. During the war he served as a captain and organized five companies of infantry in the Illinois reserve. He was field secretary for New York in the Legion's endowment fund campaign when he was appointed national director of the children's welfare division by Commander James Drain.

He left here today for his home in Evanston, where he will spend Thanksgiving Day with his family.

$70,000 Estimated Damage as Steamer Overturns in River

CHARLEROI, Pa., Nov. 25.—While efforts were being made today to salvage the river steamer Titan, engaged in towing coal barges for the Jones and Laughlin Steel company, of Pittsburgh, it was estimated today that the loss from the steamer overturning in the Monongahela river would amount to $70,000.

The Titan had no barges in tow when it overturned. All members of the crew, headed by Captain Harvey Jones, escaped without injury.

When the accident occurred the steamer was near the shore taking on fuel for its own consumption. Its collapse was attributed to overloading it with coal, small weight of which was not properly distributed.

Just prior to the accident the Titan cast out loose six coal barges to allow it to proceed near the shore for coal.

All occupants escaped, but four firemen suffered minor injuries.

MITCHELL USES WAR DOCUMENTS AT HIS TRIAL

Official Records Cited to Support His Charges.

FIGHT NEAR END

Claims Chief Ignored Aerial Bombing Recommendations.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—With the end of his defense in sight, Colonel William Mitchell today laid before his jury of generals a mass of official documents to support his charges that the war department has ignored the development of American aviation as a part of the national defense.

Mitchell produced records to show the department ignored recommendations time after time for the improvement of aerial bombing, the development of airships as airplane carriers, and the use of the latest inventions in aerial warfare. As a result, Mitchell contended, the national defense was weakened and America lagged far behind foreign nations in the strength of her air force.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—The war department today denied a request of Colonel William Mitchell to visit his baby daughter in Detroit during the Thanksgiving recess of his court-martial.

"Disapproved," was written across Mitchell's request by Major General Samuel Rockenback, commandant of the Washington army area.

Mitchell told the department he would return promptly for the reconvening of the trial.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Another effort will be made by the Shenandoah court of inquiry to force the appearance of Col. William Mitchell to testify regarding his charges that the navy was "criminally negligent" in sending the dirigible on its ill-fated flight to the middle west.

This was indicated today when the court adjourned indefinitely to await the outcome of Mitchell's court-martial.

Mitchell previously refused to testify before the navy tribunal on the grounds he already was facing charges by the army.

Cruiser Denver Sails; May Bring Gen. Pershing Home

PANAMA, Nov. 25.—Neither confirmation nor denial of reports that the cruiser Denver was going to Arica, Chile, in order to bring General John J. Pershing back to the United States for the Christmas holidays, was obtainable from the commanding officer of the vessel which early today steamed out of this port.

The vessel was simply "going to sea," according to its officers.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Tuesday's closing rally in stocks under selling pressure was continued in the early trading today, with most of active motor, oil, rail and industrial stocks in moderately higher price ground. United States Steel led a vigorous movement in the industrials and reached 129½, compared with yesterday's low price of 126⅝. American Can, General Motors, Chrysler, New York Central and other speculative leaders sold from 1 to 5 points above the previous close. Public utility and equipment stocks regained most of their losses.

Outside trading was restricted by the imminence of the Thanksgiving holiday tomorrow, and the ever-recurring weekly problem of the reserve bank rediscount rate, the directors of the bank having announced their decision to meet at the close of the market today.

Summarizing their condition resulting from the bearish operations in the last two weeks, the brokerage houses reported a heavy decrease in their speculative loan accounts, showing that considerable liquidation had taken place, particularly in the motors. Other houses reported an increase in their loans on railroad stocks, which it is believed were largely substituted for the motors. There was little change in the situation in the oil and copper stocks. Short covering furnished the principal incentive for the purchasing of motor and industrial stocks, and the market as a whole was dull.

Chrysler motor sold up 6 points at 177½ on reports that the dividend rate on the new capitalization would be $4 a share annually. Norfolk and Western was a leader in the railroad list, and sold around 150 on reports that the Pennsylvania railroad would consolidate the road with its main line, giving three shares of Pennsylvania stock for one of Norfolk. Pittsburgh and West Virginia, on a small turnover, spurted 9 points to 115. Atchison, New York Central and other dividend rails sold about a point higher, and Baldwin Locomotive advanced steadily to 125⅜, up 2¼.

European selling of the French franc before the opening of the American markets resulted in a sharp decline in French currency to a new low for the year. Call money was in good supply at 4½ per cent.

Bomb Is Dropped In Capital City Police Headquarters

Panic Results as Man Shouts, "Here's Present for You," And Then Escapes—Fails to Explode.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Police authorities here today were thrown into a panic when an unidentified white man rushed into the squad room and threw what appeared to be a bomb on the floor amid an astonished group of officers.

"Here's a present for you," shouted the man as he dashed from the room.

In the confusion the man escaped.

The missle failed to explode.

A hurried examination of the object revealed it was filled with nitro-cellulose, according to the officers, and there was sufficient explosive to have blown up the building had it worked.

The bomb apparently failed to go off, officers said, because it had not been dropped with sufficient force to operate the contact device.

Answers to Questions

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Anything, great or small, that concerns the people of a nation is properly within the province of that nation's government, and our Government deals with everything that affects the people. It maintains the most efficient and far reaching machinery of service that the world has ever seen. There is in Washington an authority of the first rank on practically every question touching the well being of humanity. There are magnificently equipped laboratories for the study of every problem of the nation's daily life. Our Washington Information Bureau is in position to draw on these vast reservoirs of knowledge and let you benefit through them. All you need to do is to submit your questions and enclose two cents in stamps to cover the return postage. Address The East Liverpool Review-Tribune Information Bureau, Frederic J. Q. Was the drought in the late summer and early fall caused by heat from automobiles? J. T. C.

A. The Weather Bureau says that such a theory seems untenable. If 14,000,000 pounds of gasoline were burned hourly in the United States under most favorable conditions imaginable—not actual—the air would be warmed only one degree Fahrenheit in a little over six years. Then the burning of gasoline produces water. Roughly, every gallon of gasoline burned means the creation thereby, from the gasoline and oxygen of the air, of a gallon of water, which is added to the atmosphere and thus increases the absolute humidity.

Q. Why are certain words throughout the King James Version of the Bible italicized? J. H. J.

A. Italics in printing the Bible are used in cases where it was necessary to insret additional words to make the translation from the original manuscript intelligible to the readers of of the English text.

Q. What causes blue stain on lumber? W. C. Q.

A. The Forest Products Laboratory says that blue stain on lumber indicates that the lumber has not been properly dried. It is caused by fungi, small plants whose spores or seeds are carried through the air by wind or rain. It does not interfere with paint bu does with staining, varnishing, or oiling, depending upon the use to which the treated lumber is to be put. It is found in the sapwood, not the heartwood.

Q. I have been told that children in Czechoslovakia attend school on Saturdays. Is this true? C. M.

Q. Did Dred Scott die in slavery? J. E. S.

Q. What effect did the Embargo Act of 1807 have on American trade? J. F.

A. It created havoc in American trade. Exports fell from $110,084,207 in 1807 to $22,430,960 in 1808. Farm sections were badly hit.

Q. Is the flute a comparatively new instrument? M. D.

A. One authority says that the flute is doubtless one of the oldest musical instruments in the world. "The primitive cave dwellers made flutes of the leg-bones of birds and other animals; a record of such origin is being preserved in the Latin name tibia."

The Loomis Radio college says that the most satisfactory aerial for bringing in broadcast programs consists of two or three parallel wires, two feet apart, and from 75 to 100 feet long, placed as high as possible and as far as possible from all trees, smoke stacks, etc. The aerial may be placed in any direction.

Q. What is the derivation of the name "Patagonian?" M. L. W.

A. It is supposed to be derived from the Spanish "Patagon" meaning a large foot in allusion to the large footprints found by the first explorers. The Patagonians were a tribe of tall Indians considered by some authorities to be the tallest known race.

Music Teachers Will Hold Annual Session Next Month in Dayton

DAYTON, O.—Approximately $220,000,000 annually, or four times as much as is spent for all the public schools in the country, is spent for musical education in the United States, according to Dr. Max Schoen, professor of psychology, Carnegie Institute of Technology, Pittsburgh, Pa., who is to address the Music Teachers' National association convention here December 28-30.

A large portion of the sum spent for music education is wasted in the opinion of Dr. Schoen. "The most recent investigations tend to show that not one-half of the persons in a given community who have a high order of musical talent are discovered and given a fair chance of musical education," he says.

Other musicians and speakers of national note are to appear at the convention.

Resident of Pennsylvania Declares Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup Overcame Rheumatism of Five Year's Standing When All Else Had Failed

Following numerous most astonishing reports regarding the usual value of Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup in restoring health and strength to the weak and ailing, comes a remarkable statement from Miss Emily Baldwin, of 1534 Broad St., South Greensburg, Pa.

Miss Baldwin declares that this celebrated prescription ended an agonizing case of rheumatism that had resisted all other treatments for five long years and adds that, in her opinion, there is nothing to compare with this medicine.

With such statements as these, coming from people who have no interest in making them other than to benefit fellow sufferers, it is easy to understand why Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup is rapidly becoming a sensation.

Miss Baldwin makes no extravagant claims, but simply tells in a straightforward manner of her suffering and the relief she has secured. Her complete statement follows:

"I just can't express my gratitude for the wonderful relief Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup has brought me," declares Miss Baldwin. "All my awful rheumatic pains are going after taking only two bottles and I am feeling so well and happy, it seems too good to be true.

"The fact is, I was in the clutches of this wretched rheumatism for five long years and although I tried treatment after treatment, I just seemed to always be getting worse instead of better, until I began taking Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup.

"Any change in the weather, even, would put me in the bed suffering something awful, and at night I felt so miserable and was in such pain that it was impossible for me to sleep much of the time. Then in the morning I was so tired and exhausted that I just dreaded another day. I tell you I know what it is to suffer.

"This went on, as I said, for five years and then I saw where Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup was recommended for rheumatism and so I decided to try it, not believing, however, that it would help me much. Just imagine my delight when, after taking two bottles, I was able to be up and about.

"I didn't stop taking this grand medicine then, though, but kept it up, and now I am doing all my own housework and feeling simply fine. I would certainly advise everybody who is suffering like I was to get some of this wonderful Liver and Blood Syrup."

The fame of Dr. Thacher's prescription is spreading like wildfire and people suffering from the many troubles caused by improper working of the liver, stomach and bowels and those who are simply in need of a general tonic to build them up are flocking to the drug stores to get a supply of this much talked of medicine.

All good druggists are selling it with the distinct understanding that if Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup does not bring relief their money will be returned to them.

Answers to Questions

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Anything, great or small, that concerns the people of a nation is properly within the province of that nation's government, and our Government deals with everything that affects the people. It maintains the most efficient and far reaching machinery of service that the world has ever seen. There is in Washington an authority of the first rank on practically every question touching the well being of humanity. There are magnificently equipped laboratories for the study of every problem of the nation's daily life. Our Washington Information Bureau is in position to draw on these vast reservoirs of knowledge and let you benefit through them. All you need to do is to submit your questions and enclose two cents in stamps to cover the return postage. Address The East Liverpool Review-Tribune Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C.

Q. Do all the big ball parks have grass diamonds? E. B.

A. All of the Major league ball parks have grass diamonds.

Q. How many troops are now stationed in the Philippines? J. B.

A. On June 30, 1925, the troops stationed there were 4,601 regular army, and 6,683 Philippine scouts.

Q. Was the drought in the late summer and early fall caused by heat from automobiles? J. T. C.

A. The Weather Bureau says that such a theory seems untenable. If 14,000,000 pounds of gasoline were burned hourly in the United States under most favorable conditions imaginable—not actual—the air would be warmed only one degree Fahrenheit in a little over six years. Then the burning of gasoline produces water. Roughly, every gallon of gasoline burned means the creation thereby, from the gasoline and oxygen of the air, of a gallon of water, which is added to the atmosphere and thus increases the absolute humidity.

Q. Why are certain words throughout the King James Version of the Bible italicized? J. H. J.

A. Italics in printing the Bible are used in cases where it was necessary to insret additional words to make the translation from the original manuscript intelligible to the readers of of the English text.

Q. What causes blue stain on lumber? W. C. Q.

A. The Forest Products Laboratory says that blue stain on lumber indicates that the lumber has not been properly dried. It is caused by fungi, small plants whose spores or seeds are carried through the air by wind or rain. It does not interfere with paint bu does with staining, varnishing, or oiling, depending upon the use to which the treated lumber is to be put. It is found in the sapwood, not the heartwood.

Q. I have been told that children in Czechoslovakia attend school on Saturdays. Is this true? C. M.

A. The school year in Czechoslovakia comprises 230 days, according to the schedule recently fixed by the Ministry of Education. Sunday is the only day of the week on which the schools are closed.

Q. Did Dred Scott die in slavery? J. E. S.

A. Dred Scott and his family were inherited by Calvin S. Chaffee of Massachusetts and conveyed by him to Taylor Blow of St. Louis. They were emancipated on the 26th day of May, 1857.

Q. What effect did the Embargo Act of 1807 have on American trade? J. F.

A. It created havoc in American trade. Exports fell from $110,084,207 in 1807 to $22,430,960 in 1808. Farm sections were badly hit.

Q. Is the flute a comparatively new instrument? M. D.

A. One authority says that the flute is doubtless one of the oldest musical instruments in the world. "The primitive cave dwellers made flutes of the leg-bones of birds and other animals; a record of such origin is being preserved in the Latin name tibia."

Q. What height, length and direction, makes the most satisfactory radio aerial? D. G.

A. The Loomis Radio college says that the most satisfactory aerial for bringing in broadcast programs consists of two or three parallel wires, two feet apart, and from 75 to 100 feet long, placed as high as possible and as far as possible from all trees, smoke stacks, etc. The aerial may be placed in any direction.

Q. What is the derivation of the name "Patagonian?" M. L. W.

A. It is supposed to be derived from the Spanish "Patagon" meaning a large foot in allusion to the large footprints found by the first explorers. The Patagonians were a tribe of tall Indians considered by some authorities to be the tallest known race.

Q. What is a "suckener?" A. F.

A. "Sucken" is defined as a Scots law term meaning "the district embracing all the suckeners of any particular mill." A suskener is a tenant whose grain must be ground at a certain mill.

Q. When was Andrew Carnegie born? H. O. W.

A. He was born November 25, 1835.

Q. What do the letters "S. T. B." after a man's name mean? E. H. D.

A. S. T. B. is the abbreviation of Bachelor of Sacred Theology, which degree is awarded by certain divinity schools.

Q. How fast does Halley's comet move through space? M. C.

A. The speed of Halley's comet varies from 34 miles a second when nearest to sun to less than a mile a second when furthest from it. The head of Halley's comet is very much larger than the earth.

Music Teachers Will Hold Annual Session Next Month in Dayton

DAYTON, O.—Approximately $220,000,000 annually, or four times as much as is spent for all the public schools in the country, is spent for musical education in the United States, according to Dr. Max Schoen, professor of psychology, Carnegie Institute of Technology, Pittsburgh, Pa., who is to address the Music Teachers' National association convention here December 28-30.

A large portion of the sum spent for music education is wasted in the opinion of Dr. Schoen. "The most recent investigations tend to show that not one-half of the persons in a given community who have a high order of musical talent are discovered and given a fair chance of musical education," he says.

Other musicians and speakers of national note are to appear at the convention.

Romance Revealed In Making Western Drama Booked Here

The motion picture is the greatest purveyor of romance known to man. No other medium of entertainment reaches so many millions of people.

Often the making of a motion picture is a romance in itself.

Such was the case with "The Scarlet West," the First National picture which is coming to the American theatre next Monday. The making of this feature by Producer Frank J. Carroll and Director John Adolphi is an extremely interesting story. Had Messrs. Carroll and Adolphi known the obstacles and vicissitudes which they were to encounter this epic of the West might never have reahed the screen.

However, all is now past history, and it is sufficient that another masterpiece of the cinematic art is delighting audiences everywhere.

The investing public has absorbed approximately $1,000,000,000 worth of federal land bank bonds.

Since 1921 the factories in California, most of which are driven by electric power, have increased 72 per cent.

Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands has been reigning since 1890.

HEAVY DEATH TOLL IN MINES

Lambie's Report Shows 54 Killed in State Last Month.

Fifty-four employes of West Virginia mines were killed in October, two more than in the previous month, according to the report of R. M. Lambie, head of the department of mines, made public yesterday. All but two of these fatalities were inside the mines. Falls of roof and coal caused half the deaths, or the same number ascribed to that cause in September.

Again McDowell heads the list of 15 counties in which fatalities were reported, with 13 deaths, or two more than the September number. In Fayette there were eight, Raleigh seven, Logan five, Ohio four, Kanawha three, two each in Greenbrier, Marion, Mercer, Monongalia and Wyoming, and one each in Boone, Clay, Harrison and Mingo.

"During the month of October the estimated production of coal for West Virginia reached the enormous amount of 13,237,000 tons," Mr. Lambie points out in a letter issued in connection with his monthly report and addressed to operators and their employes.

In this communication he calls attention to the increased hazards from the freezing up of shafts, drifts and slopes. "Ice should be removed from sidewalls and guides before the men are permitted to be lowered or hoisted," he cautions. "Safety catches should be carefully examined to see that they are functioning properly."

Coal dust explosions may be reduced or averted by holding to the minimum the amount of dry pulverized coal. Watering will not suffice unless there is sufficient water content to make the dust adhere when pressed in the hand. All shots should be examined "before they are fired to see that they are properly placed and tamped," he adds. HEAVY DEATH TOLL IN MINES

Lambie's Report Shows 54 Killed in State Last Month.

Fifty-four employes of West Virginia mines were killed in October, two more than in the previous month, according to the report of R. M. Lambie, head of the department of mines, made public yesterday. All but two of these fatalities were inside the mines. Falls of roof and coal caused half the deaths, or the same number ascribed to that cause in September.

Again McDowell heads the list of 15 counties in which fatalities were reported, with 13 deaths, or two more than the September number. In Fayette there were eight, Raleigh seven, Logan five, Ohio four, Kanawha three, two each in Greenbrier, Marion, Mercer, Monongalia and Wyoming, and one each in Boone, Clay, Harrison and Mingo.

"During the month of October the estimated production of coal for West Virginia reached the enormous amount of 13,237,000 tons," Mr. Lambie points out in a letter issued in connection with his monthly report and addressed to operators and their employes.

In this communication he calls attention to the increased hazards from the freezing up of shafts, drifts and slopes. "Ice should be removed from sidewalls and guides before the men are permitted to be lowered or hoisted," he cautions. "Safety catches should be carefully examined to see that they are functioning properly."

Coal dust explosions may be reduced or averted by holding to the minimum the amount of dry pulverized coal. Watering will not suffice unless there is sufficient water content to make the dust adhere when pressed in the hand. All shots should be examined "before they are fired to see that they are properly placed and tamped," he adds. Fire bosses must see to it that airways and gobs are free from obstructions, and that there are no accumulations of gas.

Highs Finish Campaign With Cleveland Team Tomorrow

WEIGHT AVERAGES GIVE LOCALS POUND MARGIN

Captain Woods, Quarterback, and Halfback Hallett, Adepts at Open Field Running, Will be Visitors' Most Potent Scoring Threats; Former Leads Cleveland Point Makers.

THE scholastic football champions of Columbiana county for the season of 1925 will go into action tomorrow afternoon at Patterson Field against the strong John Marshall Greater Cleveland conference eleven, in their final battle of the year.

In excellent physical trim as a result of their rest of a week and a half, the Blue and White of East Liverpool high school will leave no cleat unturned in their efforts to make it their seventh consecutive victory of the campaign.

Coach O. V. Boone will send a fairly heavy, fast charging line and a comparatively light backfield, against the Fifth City scholastics, and will be met, in turn, by one of the best balanced elevens that the locals have run into this season.

The Marshall combine will send two 135 pound ends scampering down the field, a pair of tackles weighing 152 and 151 pounds, respectively, and a couple of guards who tip the beam at 168 and 170, with a center weighing in at 156.

Their backfield is exceptionally well balanced with a 143 pound quarterback, halves weighing 144 and 148 and a 156 pound fullback.

The Blue and White outweighs Marshall on the line, but gives away poundage in the backfield.

The Boone forward line will average 157 and the visitors 154. The local backfield shows a weight average of 143 as compared with Marshall's 148. And the 11-man average of each team shows: Marshall, 151; East Liverpool, 152.

HOW GRID FOES STACK UP IN WEIGHT

John Marshall			E. L. H. S.
Hulka	135	L. E.	Perry	142
Holiday	152	L. T.	Bough	172
James	168	L. G.	Banks	156
Mathei	156	Center	Larkins	150
Riskey	170	R. G.	Smith	171
Sweeney	151	R. T.	Hanes	175
Duffy	140	R. E.	E. English	139
Woods (C)	143	Q.	Schaffer	141
Hallett	144	L. H.	Riebel	138
Reddish	148	R. H.	Heddleston	138
Scheff	156	F	P. English (C)	154

In all around team weight, therefore, a more evenly matched pair of squads could not be possible unless either Tackle Bough or Tackle Hanes forgets to eat lunch tomorrow at noon and loses a pound before game time.

East Liverpool's biggest backfield threat is Captain Paul English. The visitors will have two in Captain Woods, quarterback, who, by the way, is leading all Fifth City teams in point making thus far this season, and Halfback Hallett, who can run a broken field as well as any scholastic star in the district.

High school's problem will be to keep both Woods and Hallett penned in, for once they get into the open, it is something of a task to head them off. Both are fleet and tricky.

A large measure of responsibility will devolve upon the shoulders of Ends Elmer English and Perry, in this respect, for both Woods and Hallett will find the going rough and extremely uncertain once they are turned into the territory in which Bough, Hanes, Banks and Larkins cavort.

Marshall knows a varied assortment of plays, and Quarterback Woods uses them, too. They are well groomed in the use of the forward pass. Consequently, if Patterson Field is in any kind of condition tomorrow afternoon, the visitors can be depended upon to produce some flashy football.

The Marshall squad, comprising 23 players, coaches and officials, will reach here probably at noon, and will rest for a short time before going to Patterson Field.

Following the game they will be guests at dinner at Larkin's restaurant annex, in company with East Liverpool players and fans.

The game is scheduled to start at 2:30 o'clock.

RING REFORM POSSIBLE

THREE STATES ABLE TO HELP GAME

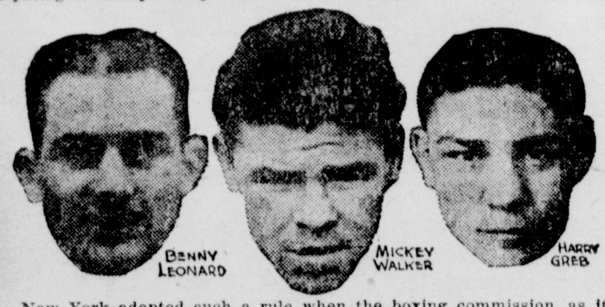
Boxing commissions of three states have it within their power to formulate and direct a general reform in boxing, meaning:

To force champions to fight in defense of their titles or abdicate officially and seriously; force champions to fight under reasonable conditions when they do perform; and force promoters and managers to accept such reasonable terms and will bring admission prices down within the range of the average fans pocketbook.

The three states referred to are New York, New Jersey and California.

They are the three leading ones in which boxing is legalized and therefor under open supervision.

Thy have already placed their shoulders to the wheel by taking united action along one line—that of passing a rule which forces all champions participating in championship bouts to make the legitimate weight for the battle.



New York adopted such a rule when the boxing commission, as it now operates, was formed. California, when it legalized boxing a year or so ago, injected the same rule into its regulations.

And New Jersey's commission joined the two by enacting such legislation in time to force Mickey Walker to make the welterweight limit for his bout with Friedman.

This weight rule, if eventually enforced nationally, would automatically force champions to fight frequently to keep their weight, enter a higher class, as a contender, or retire.

Benny Leonard would have been forced to forego the pastime of fiddling with lightweight hopefuls some years ago had this rule then been enforced. Harry Greb would not have fared as well as he has, perhaps, had he been forced to hold to the middleweight limit of 160 pound in his important fights.

These state bodies could help most by first forcing down the exorbitant demands of managers and ending the high financing by promoters. Cheaper admission prices would bring back to the game the fans who made boxing the popular sport and who go to fights for the thrill of the sport—not for the thrill of paying from $15 to $50 for a seat—and telling the gaping multitude about it afterwards.

Bisons at Waynesburg

BEHANY, W. Va., Nov. 25.—The Bethany Bisons will complete their preparations for the annual tilt with Waynesburg college this afternoon and will leave early tomorrow morning for Waynesburg where they hope to avenge their defeat of last year and close their 1925 season in a flash of victory.

Wesleyan's Bishops Lose But One Conference Game In Four Years

DELAWARE, O., Nov. 25. — Ohio Wesleyan's football team not only won the championship of the Ohio conference when they defeated St. Xavier 41 to 0 in their final game but completed a record of having lost but one Ohio conference game out of 24 played in the last four years. For three of the last four seasons the Battling Bishops have been undefeated champions of the Ohio conference.

Ohio Wesleyan scored 172 points to its opponents' 12 in the six Ohio conference games played and for the entire season scored 219 points to its opponents' 25. Ohio Wesleyan scored 24 points or more against every Ohio conference team played.

Coach George Gauthier, whose work at Wesleyan has resulted in the Battling Bishops' remarkable winning streak, loses eleven senior players from his championship squad this year.

Two features stand out in Ohio Wesleyan's 1925 season. The first was their 3 to 3 tie with Syracuse which until that time had defeated all opponents and held them scoreless. The second came in the last seven minutes of the final game with St. Xavier when Ohio Wesleyan was forced to play with 10 men and nearly scored against its eleven opponents.

Three Unbeaten Teams in Action Tomorrow for Last Time This Season.

By GEORGE BARRY.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Form reversals, so prevalent this year in college football, are less in prospect for tomorrow's holiday games than at any time since the early season. Three unbeaten teams, Alabama, Colgate Tulane, will go into action for the last time, and by all the laws of percentage, should emerge with their records intact.

Alabama should get a bitter argument from Georgia at Birmingham, but the team that has scored 250 points against seven this season figures to survive this final test, Georgia having lost to Georgia Tech, which, in turn, was beaten by Alabama.

By the same token, Brown university, defeated by Yale, Harvard, Dartmouth and Pennsylvania, seems due to drop another one to Colgate, particularly after the latter's victories over Princeton and Syracuse. Only the most clamacteric of upsets can produce defeats for Alabama and Colgate in these contests. However, such things have happened before and no later than last Saturday.

Tulane also figures to have considerable of an edge on Centenary, which last week was beaten by Butler in an intersectional game.

Many of the holiday attractions are without great significance, except as meetings between tradional rivals. The Pennsylvania-Cornell game, which defies forecast, is an example. Others of the type include meetings between Pittsburgh and Penn State, with Pitt highly favored; West Virginia and W. and J.; Rice and Baylor; Vanderbilt and Sewanee; Texas A. and M. and Tex; Oklahoma and Oklahoma Aggies and St. Mary's and Santa Clara for the minor college title on the coast.

In the south, games between Florida and Washington and Lee; Georgia Tech and Alabama Poly and Kentucky and Tennessee will go far toward deciding the best among the second flight of southern teams.

In the west, Notre Dame and Nebraska will renew their bitter struggles of other years, with national interest lacking for once. Both have suffered defeat, yet are recognized as being among the best teams in the country. Notre Dame generally is favored to win.

The Missouri valley also will settle a few arguments with Iowa State and Kansas Aggies, Oklahoma and Oklahomahoma Aggies and Washington and Grinnell meeting. The Arizona-Nevada game likewise will settle something, but the writer isn't sure what it is.

Syracuse and Columbia will wind up the New York season, barring the Army and Navy classic two days later. Syracuse was one of the big teams of the early season, but now is figured to lose to Columbia, which has come along splendidly.

Three intersectional games will be decided, Marquette meeting Mercer, Detroit playing Bucknell and John Carroll facing Fordham. None of these are of great importance.

SPORTS DONE BROWN BY NORMAN E. BROWN

By Norman E. Brown.

It can be said, in all justice to everyone concerned, that Fielding H. Yost celebrated his twenty-fifth year as coach of the Michigan grid team by winning the Big Ten title.

Now, of course, technically he didn't win a clear claim to it. The Wolverines lost one game, Northwestern also lost but one conference game. And it so happens that Michigan's only defeat was at the hands of Northwestern.

So a Northwestern loyalist will tell you the Evanston institution deserves the title.

But on the other hand—

Michigan played six conference games and won five of them. The Yostmen turned back Illinois, Ohio State, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Indiana. The Ann Arbor team met the Minnesota eleven when it was at the peak of form and was, without a doubt, the most formidable team in the conference.

Northwestern played Chicago, Indiana, Purdue and Michigan.

Indiana and Purdue were the poorest teams in the conference. Chicago whipped Northwestern. The slender threat on which the latter's claim to the title rests is that 3 to 2 victory over Michigan—whereas Michigan presents five victories, with Indiana the only weak spot on it. Ohio State was rounding into form when the Michigan game came along. That is proved by Ohio's showing the following week against Illinois.

Go farther into the records of the teams. Both Illinois and Wisconsin trounced Chicago, conquerors of Northwestern. Michigan licked both those teams.

LA BELLE 11 IS LAUGHLIN FOE THURSDAY

The Homer Laughlin soccer club, champions of the Pittsburgh Press Northwest Division league, will clash with the strong LaBelle Thistles of Steubenville, tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock at Newell field.

The LaBelles have reached this point in the season without a defeat, and the class of teams they have encountered indicates they have selected no set-ups. They have trimmed the Akron St. Georges in the Ohio State Cup Tie; the Jordan Lumbers, and McPhersons, of Pittsburgh, in the National Cup Tie, among others.

The names of several of the Steubenville stars arouse more than a little interest among local fans. Graham was with the famous Bethlehem Steel team at one time; Burns, center forward, has scored 14 goals in three games; Duncan, his partner, is a clever forward also, and Andy Wilson, on the wing, is a player with a great reputation.

Manager Jesse Shaw expects a great crowd of fans out to see the champs in action against the Jefferson countians.

Joe Canamere, former amateur welterweight champion, scored the most sensational victory for the De Forest stable by stopping Ted Nelson of Sweden in the third round.

ARMY CONCEDED SLIGHT MARGIN

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—West Point will beat Annapolis in one particular on Saturday, even if the Army doesn't win the football game. The cadets will be the first to march on the field, it was announced today. They will appear at the Polo ground at 1:15 o'clock, 15 minutes before the middies.

The corps of the two institutions will be the last to reach New York, both teams being scheduled to work out on the Polo grounds on Friday. Hotel men report that further accommodations over the week-end are not to be had at any price.

Betting on the game showed a slight inclination to favor the Army, but indications were that even money would prevail at game time.

Highs Finish Campaign With Cleveland Team Tomorrow

WEIGHT AVERAGES GIVE LOCALS POUND MARGIN

Captain Woods, Quarterback, and Halfback Hallett, Adepts at Open Field Running, Will be Visitors' Most Potent Scoring Threats; Former Leads Cleveland Point Makers.

THE scholastic football champions of Columbiana county for the season of 1925 will go into action tomorrow afternoon at Patterson Field against the strong John Marshall Greater Cleveland conference eleven, in their final battle of the year.

In excellent physical trim as a result of their rest of a week and a half, the Blue and White of East Liverpool high school will leave no cleat unturned in their efforts to make it their seventh consecutive victory of the campaign.

Coach O. V. Boone will send a fairly heavy, fast charging line and a comparatively light backfield, against the Fifth City scholastics, and will be met, in turn, by one of the best balanced elevens that the locals have run into this season.

The Marshall combine will send two 135 pound ends scampering down the field, a pair of tackles weighing 152 and 151 pounds, respectively, and a couple of guards who tip the beam at 168 and 170, with a center weighing in at 156.

Their backfield is exceptionally well balanced with a 143 pound quarterback, halves weighing 144 and 148 and a 156 pound fullback.

The Blue and White outweighs Marshall on the line, but gives away poundage in the backfield.

The Boone forward line will average 157 and the visitors 154. The local backfield shows a weight average of 143 as compared with Marshall's 148. And the 11-man average of each team shows: Marshall, 151; East Liverpool, 152.

HOW GRID FOES STACK UP IN WEIGHT

John Marshall			E. L. H. S.
Hulka	135	L. E.	Perry	142
Holliday	152	L. T.	Bough	172
James	168	L. G.	Banks	156
Mathei	156	Center	Larkins	150
Riskey	170	R. G.	Smith	171
Sweeney	151	R. T.	Hanes	175
Duffy	140	R. E.	E. English	139
Woods (C)	143	Q.	Schaffer	141
Hallett	144	L. H.	Riebel	138
Reddish	148	R. H.	Heddleston	138
Scheff	156	F	P. English (C)	154

In all around team weight, therefore, a more evenly matched pair of squads could not be possible unless either Tackle Bough or Tackle Hanes forgets to eat lunch tomorrow at noon and loses a pound before game time.

East Liverpool's biggest backfield threat is Captain Paul English. The visitors will have two in Captain Woods, quarterback, who, by the way, is leading all Fifth City teams in point making thus far this season, and Halfback Hallett, who can run a broken field as well as any scholastic star in the district.

High school's problem will be to keep both Woods and Hallett penned in, for once they get into the open, it is something of a task to head them off. Both are fleet and tricky.

A large measure of responsibility will devolve upon the shoulders of Ends Elmer English and Perry, in this respect, for both Woods and Hallett will find the going rough and extremely uncertain once they are turned into the territory in which Bough, Hanes, Banks and Larkins cavort.

Marshall knows a varied assortment of plays, and Quarterback Woods uses them, too. They are well groomed in the use of the forward pass. Consequently, if Patterson Field is in any kind of condition tomorrow afternoon, the visitors can be depended upon to produce some flashy football.

The Marshall squad, comprising 23 players, coaches and officials, will reach here probably at noon, and will rest for a short time before going to Patterson Field.

Following the game they will be guests at dinner at Larkin's restaurant annex, in company with East Liverpool players and fans.

The game is scheduled to start at 2:30 o'clock.

RING REFORM POSSIBLE

THREE STATES ABLE TO HELP GAME

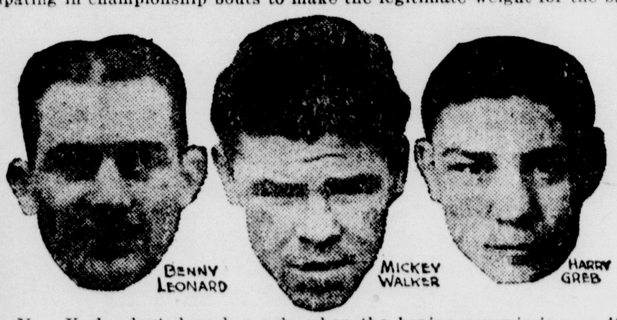
Boxing commissions of three states have it within their power to formulate and direct a general reform in boxing, meaning:

To force champions to fight in defense of their titles or abdicate officially and seriously; force champions to fight under reasonable conditions when they do perform; and force promoters and managers to accept such reasonable terms and will bring admission prices down within the range of the average fans pocketbook.

The three states referred to are New York, New Jersey and California.

They are the three leading ones in which boxing is legalized and therefor under open supervision.

Thy have already placed their shoulders to the wheel by taking united action along one line—that of passing a rule which forces all champions participating in championship bouts to make the legitimate weight for the battle.



New York adopted such a rule when the boxing commission, as it now operates, was formed. California, when it legalized boxing a year or so ago, injected the same rule into its regulations.

And New Jersey's commission joined the two by enacting such legislation in time to force Mickey Walker to make the welterweight limit for his bout with Friedman.

This weight rule, if eventually enforced nationally, would automatically force champions to fight frequently to keep their weight, enter a higher class, as a contender, or retire.

Benny Leonard would have been forced to forego the pastime of fiddling with lightweight hopefuls some years ago had this rule then been enforced. Harry Greb would not have fared as well as he has, perhaps, had he been forced to hold to the middleweight limit of 160 pound in his important fights.

These state bodies could help most by first forcing down the exorbitant demands of managers and ending the high financing by promoters. Cheaper admission prices would bring back to the game the fans who made boxing the popular sport and who go to fights for the thrill of the sport—not for the thrill of paying from $15 to $50 for a seat—and telling the gaping multitude about it afterwards.

Buick Standard Five Passenger Sedan

Better Buick operating costs are very low. This car is thrifty—both in purchase price and in ownership.

Buick design protects all operating parts from dust and wear—barricades them with iron or steel housings in the famous Buick "Sealed Chassis" and "Triple Sealed Engine".

The famous Buick Valve-in-Head engine develops more power from a given quantity of gasoline than other types of engines.

And now, the Buick oil filter makes it necessary to change crankcase oil only at rare intervals.

Even smaller, less powerful cars do not match the Better Buick in low cost of operation and maintenance. You add to your power to economize when you buy a Better Buick!

"Fastest Man" In Baseball Awaits Another Fling In Major Leagues

The fastest man in baseball is awaiting another chance to make the grade in the major leagues. He is Maurice Archdeacon.

Archdeacon now holds the world's record for circling the bases with a time of 13 2-5 seconds. It was his terrific speed which first drew attention to him while he was serving his novitiate with the Charleston club of the South Atlantic league back in 1919. In two seasons there he stole 86 bases. The first year he hooked 42 of them with the aid of a none too healthy batting average—.229.

The Boston Braves had a string on him for 1921 but sent him to George Stallings' Rochester club. In three campaigns there he proceeded to burn up the paths, stealing 53 bases one season, 55 the next and 31 the next. This speed and his hitting, around .336 for the three seasons, caused the Chicago White Sox to pay just $50,000 for his services.

This money was paid with the confidence that he would proceed to set the major leagues on fire with that same speed. Why shouldn't he? He could hit. He had played the outfield for three years under Stallings' eagle eye and he had the fleetest pair of legs in the game.

Then the awakening for Maurice and the Sox bosses.

In 22 games in 1923 Archdeacon managed to steal two bases. True he did not play through all those games. But he managed to collect 35 hits.

The next season he took part in 98 games—enough to show his stuff. But the American league pitchers and catchers tied him hand and foot on the bases. He managed to steal but 11 sacks.

He hit the ball in good style—grabbing a .319 batting average in 1924. But his outfielding was not brilliant enough to shove the other Sox regulars out of the lineup. So Eddie Collins decided he wasn't needed. He was sent back to the International league to become a member of the Baltimore Orioles.

Back in the minors he proceeded to shine again with his old brilliancy, fielding, hitting and running the bases in great style. Which showing caused scouts of the Washington club to recommend he be sought in the draft. Washington obtained him.

But whether or not he will land a berth is still a matter of grave doubt. Stan Harris probably intends to keep McNeeley as the running mate for Edgar Rice and Gooso Goslin. Little Nemo Leibold is still a dependable outfielder who knows the game and is a heady if not a fast man on the bases.

Harris demands keen baseball. Archdeacon did not show himself to be a heads-up player with the Sox. Can he make the grade this time, or will he carry his wings back to the minors?

Brother Sylvess Is Coming Back

Brother Sylvess.

He's coming back to the big leagues next season.

Meaning Sylvester Johnson, son of Misfortune.

In the winter of 1921-22 the Detroit Tigers paid the Portland Pacific Coast league club some $40,000 for two pitchers, Sylvester and Herman Pillette. Said purchase gave the Detroit moguls and fans hopes once more that Detroit was going to have a pitching staff. But old Dave Hardluck sat back and laughed.

Johnson had been with the club but few weeks before he sustained a cracked wrist. Ty Cobb kept him, however. Johnson had showed promise and Cobb felt that, should the injury work no harm to his arm, Sylvester might come through.

Come through he did at times, but in between spurts of brilliancy Johnson had more hard luck than a husband trying to buy a wife the right kind of socks.

Pillette had soared to the heights meanwhile and then fizzled. He had pitched his arm out throwing his pet delivery, a curve ball. Pleas of older players who knew the early fate that usually awaits curve ball pitchers, failed to cause Pillette to increase his repertoire and ease his arm.

Then came the final blow last spring. Johnson was hit in the face by a batted ball and forced from the game. Cobb decided there was no use waiting longer for Dame Fate to relent and sent Johnson back west.

Returning to Portland Johnson continued to wallow in ill luck. He had won just one game and lost 12 up to the time Charley Barrett, Cardinal scout, recommended that Hornsby give Sylvester a trial next spring.

And it now comes out that Barrett's main reason for believing that Johnson will deliver as a big leaguer next year is the fact that "his luck is due to change."

Barrett figures that such ill luck comes in streaks and that after four years of it Johnson is due for a change.

Hornsby, because of his faith in Barrett, is going to give Johnson a chance to shake the hoodoo.

Here's hoping Barrett has the dope.

Iowa had beaten Illinois and Ohio State and lost a close game to Wisconsin when Minnesota tackled the Iowans—and proceeded to score five touchdowns.

Then Michigan trounced Minnesota by the handsome score of 35 to 0.

Northwestern cannot produce such a record.

Glen Thistlewaite had a good team. Had Ralph Baker been available all through the season the result might have been different. But no one, under existing conditions, can question Michigan's supremacy.

Speaking of the Big Ten race, Indiana and Purdue had the merry time. Neither won a conference game. Then they closed the season by tackling each other—and played to a scoreless tie. Can't beat that for zero in achievements.

And, how poeved the Indiana adherents were. Purdue had not won a game from the Hoosier team in nine years when the two teams clashed last fall. It was a gala day, so to speak. Purdue was opening its new stadium—and proceeded to celebrate the event by licking their old rivals. So Indiana was out for blood this year.

"Fastest Man" In Baseball Awaits Another Fling In Major Leagues

The fastest man in baseball is awaiting another chance to make the grade in the major leagues. He is Maurice Archdeacon.

Archdeacon now holds the world's record for circling the bases with a time of 13 2-5 seconds. It was his terrific speed which first drew attention to him while he was serving his novitiate with the Charleston club of the South Atlantic league back in 1919. In two seasons there he stole 86 bases. The first year he hooked 42 of them with the aid of a none too healthy batting average—.229.

The Boston Braves had a string on him for 1921 but sent him to George Stallings' Rochester club. In three campaigns there he proceeded to burn up the paths, stealing 53 bases one season, 55 the next and 31 the next. This speed and his hitting, around .336 for the three seasons, caused the Chicago White Sox to pay just $50,000 for his services.

This money was paid with the confidence that he would proceed to set the major leagues on fire with that same speed. Why shouldn't he? He could hit. He had played the outfield for three years under Stallings' eagle eye and he had the fleetest pair of legs in the game.

Then the awakening for Maurice and the Sox bosses.

In 22 games in 1923 Archdeacon managed to steal two bases. True he did not play through all those games. But he managed to collect 35 hits.

The next season he took part in 98 games—enough to show his stuff. But the American league pitchers and catchers tied him hand and foot on the bases. He managed to steal but 11 sacks.

He hit the ball in good style—grabbing a .319 batting average in 1924. But his outfielding was not brilliant enough to shove the other Sox regulars out of the lineup. So Eddie Collins decided he wasn't needed. He was sent back to the International league to become a member of the Baltimore Orioles.

Back in the minors he proceeded to shine again with his old brilliancy, fielding, hitting and running the bases in great style. Which showing caused scouts of the Washington club to recommend he be sought in the draft. Washington obtained him.

But whether or not he will land a berth is still a matter of grave doubt. Stan Harris probably intends to keep McNeeley as the running mate for Edgar Rice and Gooso Goslin. Little Nemo Leibold is still a dependable outfielder who knows the game and is a heady if not a fast man on the bases.

Harris demands keen baseball. Archdeacon did not show himself to be a heads-up player with the Sox. Can he make the grade this time, or will he carry his wings back to the minors?

Brother Sylvess Is Coming Back

Brother Sylvess.

He's coming back to the big leagues next season.

Meaning Sylvester Johnson, son of Misfortune.

In the winter of 1921-22 the Detroit Tigers paid the Portland Pacific Coast league club some $40,000 for two pitchers, Sylvester and Herman Pillette. Said purchase gave the Detroit moguls and fans hopes once more that Detroit was going to have a pitching staff. But old Dave Hardluck sat back and laughed.

Johnson had been with the club but few weeks before he sustained a cracked wrist. Ty Cobb kept him, however. Johnson had showed promise and Cobb felt that, should the injury work no harm to his arm, Sylvester might come through.

Come through he did at times, but in between spurts of brilliancy Johnson had more hard luck than a husband trying to buy a wife the right kind of socks.

Pillette had soared to the heights meanwhile and then fizzled. He had pitched his arm out throwing his pet delivery, a curve ball. Pleas of older players who knew the early fate that usually awaits curve ball pitchers, failed to cause Pillette to increase his repertoire and ease his arm.

Then came the final blow last spring. Johnson was hit in the face by a batted ball and forced from the game. Cobb decided there was no use waiting longer for Dame Fate to relent and sent Johnson back west.

Returning to Portland Johnson continued to wallow in ill luck. He had won just one game and lost 12 up to the time Charley Barrett, Cardinal scout, recommended that Hornsby give Sylvester a trial next spring.

And it now comes out that Barrett's main reason for believing that Johnson will deliver as a big leaguer next year is the fact that "his luck is due to change."

Barrett figures that such ill luck comes in streaks and that after four years of it Johnson is due for a change.

Hornsby, because of his faith in Barrett, is going to give Johnson a chance to shake the hoodoo.

Here's hoping Barrett has the dope.

Sports By Brown

Iowa had beaten Illinois and Ohio State and lost a close game to Wisconsin when Minnesota tackled the Iowans—and proceeded to score five touchdowns.

Then Michigan trounced Minnesota by the handsome score of 35 to 0.

Northwestern cannot produce such a record.

Glen Thistlewaite had a good team. Had Ralph Baker been available all through the season the result might have been different. But no one, under existing conditions, can question Michigan's supremacy.

Speaking of the Big Ten race, Indiana and Purdue had the merry time. Neither won a conference game. Then they closed the season by tackling each other—and played to a scoreless tie. Can't beat that for zero in achievements.

And, how peeved the Indiana adherents were. Purdue had not won a game from the Hoosier team in nine years when the two teams clashed last fall. It was a gala day, so to speak. Purdue was opening its new stadium—and proceeded to celebrate the event by licking their old rivals. So Indiana was out for blood this year.

Proud Gobbler Is King of Thanksgiving Feast

Mr. Turkey Gobbler rules over the Thanksgiving feast. Above he is pictured both as a decoration for the table and as the piece de resistance of the feast. The corn shock centerpiece is made from a cone of cardboard and strips of light amber crepe paper pasted to it to make the stalks. The shock is placed on a circular base of cardboard which is covered with light brown crushed crepe paper. A pumpkin vine and cotton stuffed pumpkins are cut from orange and green paper and turkey cutouts held upright by wire are placed on either side of the shock. Upper left is the real turkey trussed and ready for the roaster. Right shows the correct way to start to carve the bird.

CONRAD NAGEL AT AMERICAN

Film Favorite Does New Type Part in "Married Flirts."

Conrad Nagel, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer player, who has depicted almost every known type role on the screen from saint to sordid sinner, plays an intensely interesting part in "Married Flirts," the picturization of "Mrs. Paramor," the Louis Joseph Vance novel, which opens a three-day engagement at the American theatre tomorrow.

Nagel is such a natural type person off screen that he has had to prove again and again his tremendous acting ingenuity by enacting roles decidedly foreign to his nature.

In "What Every Woman Knows" he was cast as a brilliant, but gruff Scotchman, who took himself very seriously. That was a droll humorous part which he did delightfully.

In "Fool's Paradise," as a blind man, he had the heaviest and most sympathetic role of his screen career.

In "Nice People" he was cast as a semi-heavy, the first of that type, which established him in a new field.

Then in "Name the Man" he had a deep dramatic role—heavy and relentless.

That was followed by "Three Weeks" in which as Paul he portrayed the most coveted lover role of all times.

Then came "Tess of the D'Urbervilles" which too, offered a role unlike any other he has ever been cast in and yet one to which he was ideally suited.

In "Sinners in Silk," a Metro-Goldwyn picture offering, he had a light partalmost bordering on comedy, and in "Married Flirts" he is given an opportunity to create a role unlike any ever before depicted on the screen.

The deer is reported as a magnificent buck.

She Could Never Have Done It With Piles!

Bless the American girl who has glorified all the sports! She makes a pretty picture in the water, and is a plucky swimmer, too. Piles are unthinkable for active women. If you have them, you ought to know this simple thing to do!

At any hour or moment that you have the least distress or discomfort from piles, use a simple Pyramid pile suppository—and go happily on your way! The worst hemorrhoids, even bleeding and badly protruding piles respond at once to the soothing suppository applied in perfect privacy. But bear the name in mind; Pyramid is the one every druggist has, usually the only one he will sell his patrons. Pyramid is marvelous. Why suffer another single half-hour with painful piles?

Sixty cents the box, the world around. But for proof, a free box plainly wrapped will be sent those who write Pyramid Drug Co., 200 Pyramid Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

Suffered with rheumatism for years

GOT RELIEF FROM RHEUMATISM AT LAST

Spent more than $100 for remedies before help was found

How an obstinate case of rheumatism was given relief by a simple home treatment is told by a man in Los Angeles, California, who suffered for years with rheumatic pain in the feet and back.

"I spent more than $100 for liniments and medicines in twenty-four years," he writes. "Then I used Sloan's Liniment and it gave me complete relief."

And it is amazing—the quick, genuine comfort that Sloan's gives to even the most long-standing rheumatic aches. Sloan's doesn't just deaden pain—it helps your body to throw off the cause.

No need to rub even. A little Sloan's patted lightly on—and a healing tide of fresh, germ-destroying blood begins tingling through the aching place. Before you can believe it, the pain, swelling and stiffness are relieved. Try it! All druggists—35 cents.
